Boiler Explodes In Cleaning Plant; Little Damage Done
A five-horsepower boiler located in the Reliable Cleaners plant at 125 S. 9th, exploded at 8 o'clock Thursday night, blowing out 11 windows in the plant but otherwise causing little damage. Several persons in the plant at the time of the explosion were uninjured, according to Bob Henry, owner and manager, and none of the clothing in the place was damaged. The city fire department was called but there was no evidence of fire. Damage was covered by insurance, Henry said. Cause of the explosion was unknown. Henry said that as soon as the glass had been replaced, business would be resumed with steam supplied by the Klamath Heating company. A new boiler will be installed as soon as possible. Force of the explosion blew the top off the boiler, according to Henry, who said the boiler had been off an hour and a half before it blew up.

Service on 134 miles of rail lines in the Dominican Republic was suspended in 1941 and the roadbeds were converted into highways.

25,000 MUSKRATS EXPECTED TAKEN

TULELAKE—Probably 25,000 muskrats will be taken from Tulelake this year if weather conditions continue good, according to Archie Hull, supervisor of the Tulelake wildlife refuge. Rats are in excellent condition this season, showing more fat than usual, a factor in the making of prime fur.

Thirty trappers, principally from Merrill, Malin and Tulelake, have grants approximating 320 acres of water area each. Two trappers, W. C. Ainsworth and C. M. Ransom, have each taken their quota of 2000 pelts.

Freezing weather has interfered to some extent with operations, since traps must be placed in open water.

Skins are bringing from $1.50 to $1.75, slightly under the 1944 high. Fifty per cent of the pelts go to the government in return for trapping privileges and it is expected these furs will be held until March. These furs go to the Seattle fur exchange.

Alfred Pulling of the fish and wild life service is here to take charge of the furs and of all details pertaining to the trapping grants. He served in the same capacity in 1943.

BIOLOGIST TALKS TO TULELAKE ROTARY

TULELAKE—Albert Pulling, biologist with the fish and wild life service, now at headquarters at Tulelake, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Rotary club. Pulling, who was here in 1943 during the muskrat trapping season, was introduced by D. M. Crawford, program chairman.

He spoke on the timber situation in China, comparing the great timbered areas of that country a thousand years ago with the depleted supply of today, stating that the United States has made the same mistake of not reseeded cut-over land. He spoke also of the extinction of many species of wild life, particularly mountain sheep and goats.

The only visiting Rotarian this week was Paul Landry, Klamath Falls.

Juveniles Steal Beer From Bly Pool Hall

State police, called to Bly to investigate robbery of Monte Cline's pool hall, reported that the theft of two cases of beer, several boxes of cigars, candy and cigarettes was the work of four juveniles.

Entrance to the pool hall was gained through a window which one of the boys had allegedly opened as he was on his way to the lavatory. The juveniles' ages ranged from 15 to 17.

Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg said Thursday that the four would be given a hearing in juvenile court.
