

SEWER ISSUE DISCUSSED AT COUNCIL MEET

The problem of improper sewage existing on a section of Main street, between the Big Basin Lumber company and the government canal, was the main point of discussion at the city council Monday night. The matter was previously referred to E. A. Thomas, city engineer, Henry Perkins, city attorney, and Paul O. Landry, councilman of ward number 4, at the meeting of the council on January 22. It was decided at that time that a new sewer should be installed by the city because of the large amount of damage that has been caused in this particular section because of clogging and other trouble.

Landry discussed the subject with a majority of the property owners concerned with this matter, and stated that most of those he talked to objected strenuously to the idea, on the grounds that they had constructed and paid for their own sewer as a private interest, and while it was in a satisfactory condition, they were not in favor of the city's plan to install a new one and assess it against their property.

Mrs. A. A. Soule appeared before the council on this question, and was represented by Fred O. Small, attorney. Mrs. Soule stated that the damage was being caused by a defective sewer located above her property, but that hers was still in good condition, and felt that there was no reason to construct a new one at the present time. According to Mrs. Soule, an ordinance was passed in 1926, giving her permission to install this sewer, and she has had no trouble since that time. Perkins then suggested that the council look into the ordinance which gave the city's authorization, and that further action would be taken at the next regular meeting.

Small suggested that a serious legal situation might arise if Mrs. Soule was forced to pay for such a project, if the damage is being caused elsewhere, as long as her present sewerage system is serving her own purposes and is not in any way hindering the health or sanitary conditions.

City Engineer Thomas believes that at least a section of the sewer line should be replaced, because some of the pipe is four-inch and some six-inch, which does not make it of a uniform diameter and thereby causes clogging and overflowing. O. D. Matthews, city plumbing inspector, claimed that most of the trouble is occurring in cases where the pipe line is not deep enough, and that the problem which is now facing the city may partially be remedied by lowering these pipes to the proper depth. The matter will be discussed further at the next regular meeting of the city council on Tuesday, at which time the council will decide what action should be taken. No meeting will be held Monday because of Lincoln's birthday, a legal holiday.

News Notes and Comment

This morning, E. E. Hambrick, city recreation officer in Klamath Falls, met with all of the girls in KUHS. The purpose of the meeting was to get the reaction of the girls to a "no man's land," or girls' club to be held once a week. He said that this club would not interfere in any way with the proposed teen-age club which the students are trying to organize, but would be strictly a girls' club, with counselors hired by the city.

The boys' club building would be used, and the girls would have access to it on Thursday nights. The building consists of three rooms—a large room for volley ball, a small room for table games, and a large club room where the girls could just sit and talk.

Available facilities for a jute box, ping-pong, volley ball, shuffle board, and many other games are located in the club rooms. Also, a coke machine is there. The only cost to the girls would be some work to put the place in shape, and there is to be a meeting this coming Thursday night between 6:30 and 9 o'clock to further discuss plans with the girls.

On February 9, the Klamath Knights will present a valentine dance which they hope will become an annual affair. Tickets are now on sale in the student body office, and prices are 74 cents a couple and 60 cents stag.

Tri-Sci, the high school science club, will initiate 23 new members at its regular meeting this evening in room 319. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

DRIVE SLATED FOR SALVAGE MATERIAL HERE

In view of the fact that the war with Germany and Japan has now reached its most critical and important stage, salvage drives on waste fats, waste paper, and tin cans will be held in Klamath Falls until there is no further need for these commodities.

A meeting to ascertain the nature and time of these drives will be held Wednesday, February 10, at the chamber of commerce offices. People from Klamath Falls and outlying communities will then get together in an effort to revitalize the entire salvage program here.

Roderick Finney, executive secretary of the Oregon state salvage committee, will be present to advise the committees on how to conduct a more effective and active program.

These salvage drives will constitute an all-out effort to hasten the day of total victory and the fullest cooperation is expected. The exact dates and procedures of these programs will be announced as soon as definite information is available and it would be advisable for people to start saving their salvage right now.
