

Valentine's Day Sets Hearts Going

St. Valentine's Day, come next Wednesday, arrived early in Klamath Falls with the sweetheart contest in the city's schools bringing about more hair curling, ruffling and heart fluttering than has been seen in these parts for many a day. Virtues and talents of the various room candidates was topic of conversation at tables where the youngsters waxed eloquent in favor of their room representative. Next Wednesday The Herald and News will present as a page one feature, the pretty little finalists.

If you ask me, it's a welcome relief from war pictures.

Letters this week came from Barbara Johnson Nelson, who is in the busy social whirl at the capital in Salem, these days... another one from our ex-sports editor, Frank Calise, now in the Dutch East Indies where he has met Javanese soldiers who speak pretty fair English and a Filipino with a certain dialect that made it easy to understand him... because of Frankie's knowledge of Mexican... note from Barbara Lee Jacobs Cheney in Baker where she holds down an office job and reports papa Lee very busy with his radio... word from my paratrooper nephew who had his clothes blown off of him while making a jump and he's now in a Paris hospital but says he still won't look bad in a bathing suit which is encouraging.

Readers of last Sunday's Oregonian were pleased to see a lengthy article on Mary Margaret Scott who is a real buckaroo down in New Mexico. It mentions Klamath Falls frequently in the story.

Franz Weissblat, UP correspondent liberated from Bilbid prison at Manila at the same time his wife, Vivian, was freed from Santo Tomas, writes his first story for the wire in which he says: "I heard for the first time today about the OPA and food restrictions imposed on civilians back in the United States. I hesitate to draw parallels." He continues to discuss the food situation at the prison where "all moral senses became submerged by thoughts of food and honest men stole from one another, or from a common larder." He ends his story "with or without the initials OPA, America is the promised land."

His wife, Vivian, was one of our very best friends in high school years. Lt. Erwin Wisenback is here for several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wisenback of Shady Pine. Erwin was the first non-com to escape from fortified Europe during the early days of our activities over the continent and for his heroism was sent to school where he was graduated as a full-fledged pilot. He returns soon to Pecos, Tex., for further orders. (L.S.)

Dancing Party. Third of a series of parties planned by the Winter Dancing Club will be given Saturday evening, January 17, at Reames Golf and Country Club. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Drew Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Al Stroud. Shepherd's orchestra will play.

Beauty IS YOUR DUTY. By RITA WHISENANT, Licensed Cosmetologist. Indoors heat, constant wearing of hats, winter colds and flu are some of the enemies of healthy, good-looking hair. This winter already has brought its quota of colds and illnesses. You need only look around to see many a dull, winter-worn head of hair, just drying for attention... the kind of care advised by the famous seven sister scalp specialists, Ogilvie Sisters.

IF mental strain and worry are added to all the bad effects of winter, the hair is doubly in need of good care. For when the nervous system or the brain is overtaxed, circulation is drawn away from the scalp, leaving the roots to starve. The Ogilvie Sisters are firm believers in the "ounce of prevention." Here's how they explain the sad process of thinning hair: "A SICK hair takes from six weeks to three months to die. It slips out like a blade of grass, and from its root a new hair starts to grow immediately. If the root is starved, the new one will fall out before it has had a chance to grow long. It, in turn, is replaced by a new hair, and the process goes on and on until the hair has reached the fuzzy stage. Then it's hopeless. But if the roots are well nourished, it is impossible for this to happen."

LEAVES

Mrs. J. C. Stevenson Jr. of Tulelake was feted at several lovely farewell parties before leaving for Macdoel, Calif., with her husband and daughter. Mrs. Stevenson has been active in many affairs at Tulelake, and is well known for her excellent work as advisor of the Tulelake Cadettes, and in the Presbyterian church. —Kennell-Ellis.

Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Joe Mitchell and Mrs. Roy Premo were hostesses at a lovely shower and dessert bridge given in the party room of the Elks temple the evening of February 2, when they entertained in honor of Mrs. Donald Rice.

Gifts for the guest of honor were arranged in a bassinette, and adding to the decorations were a musical cradle and vases of pink and white flowers. These colors were also carried out in the dessert.

Awards at cards were received by Mrs. Margaret Larkin, Mrs. Dorothy Pettie, Mrs. Tony Molare and Mrs. C. J. Cox.

Other guests honoring Mrs. Rice were Mrs. Byron Friedman, Mrs. K. M. Moty, Mrs. Jean Dickerson, Mrs. John Gates, Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mrs. Matthew Finnigan, Mrs. Ellis Jaquette, Mrs. Ben Gibson, Mrs. Glen Jones, Mrs. George Goehring, Mrs. Lloyd Young, Mrs. S. B. Hopkins and the hostesses.

Catholic Youths. The newly formed Catholic Youths club of Sacred Heart church met Wednesday evening in the parish house. During the business meeting Ann Dirckmeier, local representative of the USO, National Catholic Community service organization, and Mrs. James Higgins gave interesting talks regarding the Youth club organization.

Refreshments were served and dancing followed the business meeting. A large group of young people in the parish as well as service men, attended the affair. The membership is open to all young people in the parish and Catholic servicemen and women stationed in Klamath Falls. Those interested are asked to attend the next meeting on February 21, in the parish house.

Celebrate. Members of the Fairhaven PTA celebrated Founder's Day at their regular meeting on Friday, February 9, at 3 p. m. Fifth grade students presented a short program, after which refreshments were served by the committee appointed.

The executive committee meeting was held at 1:30 p. m., immediately preceding the regular meeting.

and England. In 1920, a meeting took place which was to have great musical and personal importance. It was the meeting between Busch and the young pianist, Rudolf Serkin. From that time on they collaborated in sonata recitals until, eventually, Serkin joined the Busch household in Basle, Switzerland, and married the violinist's daughter.

In 1921, another meeting of significance took place. This time it was with Toscanini with whom Busch has since been fast friends. It was at the invitation of the maestro that Busch came to the United States.

That was 10 years later—1931. Busch was engaged for five appearances with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony under Toscanini; a pair at Carnegie Hall, also concerts on tour with the orchestra in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. He played the Bach Concerto in A minor and the Beethoven Concerto. The important critics of the day were unanimous in their praise.

Established abroad as Germany's first violinist, Adolf Busch voluntarily relinquished his country after Hitler came into power, refusing the most pressing official invitations to return to play in his native land. Instead, he limited his tours to those countries where art was still free and, in 1935, became a Swiss citizen. Since the war he has been living in the United States, where he is an honored and popular figure.

DAR Meets to Discuss Purchase

One of the objects of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is: "To perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men who achieved American independence, by the acquisition and protection of historical spots, and the erection of monuments."

The Oregon state society of DAR is carrying out a project for the purchase, restoration and preservation of the old home of Ex-President Herbert Hoover, located at Newburg, Oregon. Mrs. John Y. Richardson of Portland, who supervised the conversion of the Dr. McLoughlin home at Oregon City into a historic shrine, is in charge of the Hoover home project.

At the regular meeting of Eulalona chapter DAR, Monday evening, held in the library club rooms, the chapter voted a fifty cent per capita contribution to this state effort to preserve the only home in Oregon which once sheltered an ex-president of the United States.

For more than 20 years Eulalona chapter has been marking historic spots in Klamath county, many of them with permanent bronze markers, and some with temporary markers. This contribution to the state project will take care of the current chapter year, according to Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, regent.

Mrs. R. E. Wright, chapter treasurer, reported the finances of the chapter to be in a very satisfactory condition. Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg, chapter Red Cross chairman, urged members to report their activities for her annual report, before March 10.

Members were presented with complimentary copies of a 40-page pamphlet prepared by W. E. Lamm of the Lamm Lumber company, entitled, "Lumbering in Klamath." This pamphlet is a most valuable contribution to the historic records of the county.

Mr. Lamm has taken great pains to collect accurate data for his story, and has interviewed many pioneer lumbermen and their families for firsthand information on this industry from 1863 to the present. Mr. Lamm gave a talk to the chapter on this topic one year ago, and members were so impressed by what he said that they asked him to write out his story, hence the pamphlet. Mrs. H. A. Nitscheim, chapter chairman of the filing and lending bureau, will send a copy to the National Society of DAR, Washington, D. C., for their national files of historical documents.

Mrs. Paul Edwards was in charge of the program hour, giving a review of the book, "We Who Are America," by Kenneth Miller. The book is a plea for tolerance and freedom from prejudice, because of race, color, or creed, in our associations with one another.

Dessert Shower. Several lovely affairs have been planned for Rose Macartney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Macartney, Sr., prior to her marriage to Ensign Denis G. Babson, which has been scheduled for March 1 at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

On Tuesday, February 6, Mrs. John D. Merryman and Joan Campbell were co-hostesses at a dessert bridge shower in honor of the bride-elect. Lovely daffodils were used about the living room, and each table was centered with a colonial nosegay.

After the dessert had been served a game of unscrambling words referring to weddings and brides was played by the guests with the prize going to Marlys Steinsiefer.

After the guest of honor had opened her shower gifts, which were presented to her in a flowered umbrella, two tables of bridge and one of rummy were in play. High score for bridge went to Miss Macartney, and for rummy, the award was given to Mrs. Paul Bergan.

Marine Barracks Is Scene of Parties. (Continued from Page Three) Mrs. Robert's birthday on February 7. Those who helped to celebrate the occasion, were Col. and Mrs. George O. Van Orden, Capt. and Mrs. Richard Putt, Lt. and Mrs. Jerome Kass and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Epley.

Capt. Frederick G. Lewis made a business trip to Seattle last week, and while in the north he also visited his aunt, Mrs. E. Reeves in Bremerton, Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. William Burell, Capt. and Mrs. Richard Putt, Lt. Mitchell Paige, Lt. Genevieve Alders and Ensign Margaret Reed visited friends in San Francisco during the weekend.

Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. J. M. Babcock had at their houseguests, Marguerite Konrad, from Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Mrs. Babcock honored Miss Konrad with a dinner at the BOQ on Tuesday evening. Mrs. John Hawkins, Mrs. Ray Oldenburg, Mrs. Bernice Buffington and Tercia King were guests.

Interesting Letter Received Here

A letter was received recently by Mrs. Fred O. South in Marycarol Jones, who is now with the American Red Cross is very well known in Klamath Falls, and prior to entering as a child welfare worker.

The letter, written in the form of a diary, was begun latter half of October, and continued through December, all proved to be amusing and as interesting.

In speaking of the shower, Miss Jones writes: "Don robe, drape towel on shoulder, clutch wooden wash cloth and soap, brush the teeth you hold in your hand, and in the length of the hall and two flights of stairs, praying on your long robe, and on the shower. Half of the shoots out the window, and out into the bathroom, and through the wash room, room, re-arrange all of the paraphernalia. You're exhausted; you know the process must be repeated a few more hours!"

She tells of the many and parties that are given, the types of amusement are planned for the men in hospital, including ping-pong, boat trips, amusements and so forth. Classical concerts are given every day afternoon, and the dance is usually far beyond expectations.

During the month of December, a USO show, consisting of a concert unit, was given at hospital, and included a Metropolitan opera singer, a pianist, a violinist, former soloist with a symphony orchestra, and a baritone.

Miss Jones states that has been a definite increase in the number of requests for visiting friends and relatives, resulting in hours spent in South Pacific phone. "What the best place in the world to learn patience."

Officers Named. Mrs. George O. Van Orden was elected president of the Officers Wives club of the Marine Barracks, at a meeting which followed luncheon at the barracks quarters at the Barracks Thursday, February 1.

Serving with Mrs. Van Orden will be the following officers: Mrs. Clyde C. Roberts, vice president; Mrs. Richard E. Putt, secretary; and Mrs. Clement J. Stadler, treasurer.

Committee chairmen will be named by the president at the next meeting scheduled for Thursday, March 1, at which time luncheon will be served at the BOQ.

Aloha Chapter. Aloha chapter will hold a regular meeting in the Masonic hall on February 13, at 8 o'clock. Following the business meeting a program and social hour will be enjoyed. Mrs. L. K. Phelps, the associate matron, will be the chairman of the evening's entertainment. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Sallie Wood, worthy matron, and Arthur Dickson, worthy patron, cordially invite all members and visiting members of the Order of Eastern Star to attend.

Acousticon for Better Hearing. Mr. Mitchell from the Dept. office will be at the Willard Hotel Saturday and Sunday.
