WASHINGTON BILL FOR COUNCIL EYED

OLYMPIA, Feb. 21 (AP)—Proposed legislation to create a state legislative council, require lobbyists to register as such, and provide for inspection of apartment buildings to determine if they have adequate fire safety facilities were among the bills offered to the 29th Washington legislature today along with two proposed measures of prime importance submitted at the request of Governor Mon C. Wallgren.

In line with Gov. Wallgren's press conference statement yesterday that the mounting cost of school operations make it desirable that a comprehensive survey be conducted, Speaker George F. Yantis of the house of representatives introduced an executive request bill calling for an appropriation of $100,000 to check the state school system from top to bottom.

The purpose cited is "for the determination of an correlation of future needs, improvements and betterments of the educational facilities and methods within the state."

The proposed measure would authorize the governor to appoint an advisory council and to seek a federal grant to assist with financing the survey of the public schools and higher institutions of learning.

DIVERSION HIT IN TOWN HALL MEETING HERE

Seven Klamath basin spokesmen sharply opposed the proposed Central valley water diversion last night at the Town Hall meeting in the Willard hotel sponsored by the Klamath Junior chamber of commerce and broadcast for one hour over KEJL.

Malcolm Epley, president of the Klamath county chamber of commerce, reported that a successful and favorable hearing with the U. S. army engineers had been held throughout the day. Epley stressed the protection of agriculture in the Klamath basin and stated that agriculture in the basin is expected to expand to such an extent that all available water will be needed for irrigation purposes here.

He also challenged the guarantee of the engineers that only surplus water would be taken. "Central valley would establish a legal right to the water through beneficial use," Epley stated.

California State Senator Randolph Collier, chairman of a California senate investigating committee, violently opposed the project and questioned the accuracy of the engineers report. "They took one look at the Klamath river when it was at near capacity and decided there was a surplus of water," Collier declared.

The proposed diversion would destroy fishlife, the mining industry, timber works, and small ranches and summer homes situated near the river, he said. Senator Collier concluded by saying that there was a definite need in the Klamath basin and northern California for all water from the Klamath river.

Charles Henderson, Klamath county agricultural agent, John Marshall, representing the Pomona grange, Gus Hagglund, Merrill Service club, Kenneth McLeod, Izaak Walton league, and Jesse Kirk, representing the Klamath Indian service, also spoke briefly on the tentative project and all were definitely opposed to the diversion.

Trichinosis Hits Two Farm Boys

PORTLAND, Feb. 21 (AP)—Two Mt. Angel boys who were near death for 10 days after being stricken with trichinosis were pronounced out of danger today.

Elmer Huber, 13, and his brother, 8, ate uncooked, home-cured country pork sausage, as did some of the other 10 members of the Alfred Huber farm family. Trichinosis is caused by tiny larvae encysted in pork and released by the digestive process.

Adolf Busch

The Busch Little Symphony, consisting of 27 members headed by Adolf Busch, will appear here tonight at 8 o'clock at the Pelican theatre under the sponsorship of the Klamath Community Concert association.

FEPC Affirms Orders Issued to Shipyards

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Failure of a labor union "to perform its duty . . . does not excuse or mitigate non-performance by an employer, even though the employer may be a party to a closed shop contract with the derelict union," the committee on fair employment practice declared yesterday in affirming a anti-discrimination orders issued to five west coast shipyards last December.

The original orders called upon the five shipyards, which include Kaiser Company, Inc. and Oregon Shipbuilding, in Portland, Ore., to halt the "practice of firing or refusing to hire qualified negro workers who refuse to accept discriminatory membership in the Boilermakers' union."

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE IN THIRD CONCERT

Third of a series of concerts sponsored by the Klamath Community Concert association, will be heard tonight at 8 o'clock at the Pelican theatre when Adolf Busch and his Little Symphony will be presented in a program.

Members of the orchestra arrived early this morning, according to George McIntyre, president of the association. Admission to the concert is by membership ticket only, and no admissions will be sold at the door. No seats are reserved for these concerts.

Parents attending with children were asked by the officers to sit with their children during the concert.

LOST AND FOUND

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Jane Connors, who asked for police aid in solving the theft of her $1000 diamond ring, came back two days later telling the officers they wouldn't have to bother.

Her boy friend, she said, had it all the time. He'd taken it from her in a taxi and kept it for a day just to "teach her to be more careful with her jewelry."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals suggests that dog owners be licensed, instead of dogs. Licenses shouldn't be issued, the society says, to persons found unable to provide a good home for their pets.

SURPRISE PARTY

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Feb. 21 (AP)—Six-year-old Robin Lynne Baxter, whose father is serving with the army in North Africa, is learning early how to keep up armed force morale.

Given a cake on her last birthday, Robin Lynne passed up a party and took the delicacy down to the Red Cross canteen in a local railroad station. Servicemen passing through found her there cutting the cake for their benefit.

Are you getting the Right Work Shoe for Your Job?

If you work OUTDOORS . . .

you need a good rugged work shoe made of OIL TANNED leather. Why? Because oil tanned leather resists dampness . . . soft and pliable even after repeated wettings. Not so with your ordinary work shoes! After you've sloshed about in snow or rain they dry out hard and stiff . . . become uncomfortable . . . crack! Get WARDS OIL TANNED SHOES . . . 4.49 to 6.99

If you do FARM WORK . . .

you need a work shoe made of tough OAK GRAIN leather. That's because soil and barnyard acids actually rot leathers of ordinary tannage. Oak grain leathers are not just strong and rugged, but doubly strong . . . doubly resistant to these harmful acids. Get WARDS OAK GRAIN SHOES . . . 3.79

If you work in a FACTORY . . .

you need work shoes made of ELK TANNED leather. Why? Because elk tanning makes leather soft and flexible . . . makes it porous and cool, too . . . yet tough enough to take good hard wear. Elk tanned work shoes give you real comfort on the job! Get WARDS ELK TANNED SHOES . . . 1.97 to
