

International Program Given

The international relations program, presented under the leadership of Miss Lucile Tweed at the meeting Monday evening, February 19, of the Business and Professional Women's club proved outstanding both in interest and arrangement. Three highlights of the evening were a display of handcraft, presentation to the Chinese Nurses' fund, and colored movies from Mexico.

Immediately after the dinner hour, Joanna Given talked to a group on "An Enlightened World" in which she stressed that business women would find it worthwhile creating wholesome attention toward people of other nations, and that tolerance and understanding, combined with common courtesy, are the essence of a successful international understanding.

Miss Tweed told of the training and purposes of the retail classes at KUIHS and introduced two of the students, Vidal and Norma Olson, who made a presentation of $50 to the Chinese fund, a BPW project, which had been used by noon-hour sales at the school. They also pledged another $100 to the fund before the meeting ended. In behalf of the league at Bonanza, five girls were also presented to the fund by Mrs. Given.

The handcraft exhibit proved especially interesting and one who contributed articles on this part of the program were Miss Tweed, Mexican dresses, carved wooden fruit baskets, carved Philippines, Satele from the Philippines, Mexican drinking bowl, Mexican dominoes; Mrs. Lisbony, a costume and slippers; Mrs. Dennis, German battle captured at Chartres, a bronze medal and citation from the city of Verdun, a child's cup and spoon from France, sent by Captain Dennis to his daughter, Audrey Ellen, and wooden shoes.

Lee Robinson, a Samoan lava-lava; Hattie Evans, a grass skirt from the New Hebrides by Mrs. Carol Jones; Gertrude, embroidered slippers from North Africa and uncut cameo from Naples; Mable Humble, a sequin rug from Australia; Elaine Quillen, dollies; Ellen Martha Upp, hand-becked scarfs from Paris, a collection of English china, French underchiefs and a carved underchiefs.

Mrs. Walter Martin, models served to scale of a Japanese submarine, an Australian AA gun, and an American negro served in New Zealand; Jacques Newcome, Japanese invasion money; Lee Robinson, model of an outrigger canoe from the Fiji Islands; Winnifred Gillen, a woven grass belt with a shell buckle from a group of South Sea Islands; Grace Kintgen, a hand-carved roller from Naples.

Bertha Geiger urged the business women to support the location here of a branch office of the veterans administration. She Brixner announced that district meeting of BPW would be held March 14, probably at Bonanza, with a field representative from the national federation in attendance. Winnifred Gillen led group singing during the evening, with Dorothy Ackerman as soloist. On the committee assisting Miss Tweed were Stella Owen, Joanna Given, Winnifred Gillen, Suzanne Hamilton, Mrs. Albrecht and Gertrude.

The club's next meeting, on March 5, will be a dinner instead of the usual 6:30 o'clock supper, and on this occasion color girls from the high school will be special guests.

Houseguests at the home of Mrs. William C. Woods Cottage avenue have been Mrs. Woods' daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Meyers, son, Richard, of Milwaukie, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Kridger of Portland.

Demons Flee—Man Set Free

A word Christ cast out the demons that indwelt the man of Nazareth. Being cast out, the demons took up in a herd of the feeding nearby and two of them ran down a very place into the sea. The man of Gadara is now free of the demons. He no longer goes about shrieking and day and cutting himself. He no longer snags off the ears put on to bind him. He no longer lives a way in the pits. Instead, he sits at Jesus' feet, clothed and in his right mind.

DEMONS TODAY — Just as the word comes from out the East of a native indwelt by demon who called himself The orderer. He said he had already killed seven men and would yet kill the man whom they indwelt.

The visiting M. D. from America said the man was not sane but possessed. To this our Lord still frees such things. Christ still works His acts of compassion, as told by Chas. Ernest Scott, late of Oregon.

Jesus Christ, the same yesterday and today and forever. — E. L. Yesterday, He proved His love for the oppressed. Today He is joy and peace for us as put our trust in Him. Tomorrow He is to raise His people to glory and later the dead for judgement. He has already died for your sins. Receive Him into your heart and He will prove His power and love to lift and keep you.

Honors Go To KUHS Students

With a margin of .02 between the valedictorian and the salutatorian, James Case earned the honor of being valedictorian for the graduating class of 1945 of Klamath Union high school. Marjorie Huskinson of Keno became salutatorian with a grade average of 1.08. Jim's average was 1.06.

Jim, a 16-year-old high school senior, has been a student at Klamath Union high school for four years, majoring in mathematics and science. He attended Fremont grade school for his entire grade school course of study.

Oregon State college is Jim's choice, where he plans to continue in science, particularly chemistry, since he intends becoming a chemical engineer. Music is also of interest to him. He has played in the high school band for four years, and was drummer in the high school dance band.

Jim is active in school activities, being president of the Tri-Sci science club, vice president of the Honor society, a member of the traditions committee, the finance committee, Quill and Scroll, Krater staff, De Moly, and in his junior year was vice president of the Boys' Alliance. Oklahoma born, 17-year-old Marjorie Huskinson has attended school, both elementary and secondary, all over the west. In all, she has attended schools in Oklahoma, Arizona, California, and in Oregon at Medford, Keno and Klamath Falls. For two years she attended high school in Keno, until the student body of the Keno high school was transferred to KUHS for the duration.

When questioned concerning what her plans were upon high school graduation, she replied, "I have no future plans, but I will probably work this summer."

Although she is taking a general high school course, Marjorie's favorite subject is band. She seems to be musically inclined since she plays the saxophone, clarinet and piano.

She became eligible to compete for honors when the faculty of KUHS required only two years' residence attendance at KUHS to be eligible for consideration. Her two years were judged against Jim's corresponding two years.

FIGURATIVE
CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP) — Don't make fun of your wife's girdle, fella, you might wear one yourself.

The average man, according to Mrs. Thomas K. Cureton, physical education instructor at the University of Illinois, is "just as fat as the average woman, but the average man gets fat in different places. If men had to wear clothes that fit as closely as do women's, a lot more men would wear girdles, too."

Neighbors Meet

The Neighbors of Woodcraft met in regular session in the KC hall on Monday evening, February 19, with Dicksy Weed presiding. Following the short business meeting, whist and pinochle were played. High score in whist went to William Floetke and low to Effie Redkey, while in pinochle, Leola Thompson was awarded high prize and Evelyn Patterson, low. The hostess for the evening was Ida Mochettes.

Beauty IS YOUR DUTY
By RITA WHISENANT

IN preparing for a permanent, the longer you can allow for reconditioning, the better. Allow at least two weeks, if possible. During this time, give yourself daily scalp treatments, as outlined last week. If you suffer from an excessively oily condition, there is a separate lotion for it, and if you have what is known as a devitalized scalp, there is still another treatment recommended.

WHEN a shampoo is needed, use the Reconditioning Oil created by Ogilvie Sisters to revive weary, neglected hair and scalps. It has an almost magical effect—leaving the hair lustrous, full of life and elasticity, the scalp relaxed and refreshed. It's the modern hot oil shampoo de luxe, and because it rinses so perfectly it's decidedly easy to use at home.

THE last step in selecting a good salon, a good operator, and be sure to have a test curl made before the entire permanent is given. Do not try to economize on a permanent wave.
