

Babson-Macartney Brides Read

Lovely bride of Thursday was Rose Durment Macartney, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richard Macartney Sr., who exchanged nuptial vows at St. Paul's Episcopal church at four o'clock on Thursday, March 7, with Ensign Denis G. Babson, United States naval reserve.

The bride wore white satin, a long torso line, a skirt which fell in a sweep, and the long sleeves of the bodice were embellished with seed pearls and embroidered knots. Her veil, an heirloom in the Macartney family, of fine embroidered net, cap held in place by a spray of orange blossoms on the side of her head and trailing to the floor to the back of her train.

Floral carnations, centered in a cluster of white orchids, set in a ruffle of white net, were the bride's bouquet. A single strand of pearls was the maid-of-honor's.

Affairs To Honor Newlyweds

A busy whirl of social affairs highlighted the week before the wedding of Rose Durment Macartney to Ensign Denis George Babson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Perkins Babson of Los Angeles on Thursday, March the first, at St. Paul's.

On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Macartney Sr., entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Babson at their home on Washington street with a dinner at seven o'clock. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Babson, Mrs. K. P. Grant of St. Paul, Minnesota, Anne Robinson, Elizabeth Miller and Joan Campbell.

A bridal luncheon was arranged for Rose by Mrs. Macartney at the Pelican party room on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Guests were seated at a long table which was centered with an arrangement of citrus fruit and ivy on a silver platter, with bouquets of daffodils at either side. Guests included Mrs. Babson, Mrs. K. P. Grant, Mrs. Theodore S. Durment, Mrs. Alvin E. Macartney, Mrs. Ralph R. Macartney Jr., Mrs. John D. Merryman, Mrs. Paul Bergan, Mrs. George Cornell, Mrs. Innis Roberts, Dorthea Ellingson, Mary Jane Drake, Barbara Hood, Anne Robinson, Elizabeth Miller, Joan Campbell, Rose Macartney, the guest of honor, and the hostess, Mrs. Macartney.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Campbell and daughter, Joan, entertained Miss Macartney at a cocktail party given at their home on Pacific Terrace. Twenty-six guests called between the hours of six and eight o'clock to honor the recent bride.

Ensign Babson arrived in Klamath Falls on Tuesday night, and on the following evening, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Durment were hosts at a cocktail party honoring the young couple. Between 18 and 20 guests called at the Dument home on Pacific Terrace at 7 o'clock.

Following the cocktail party, a bridal dinner was given at the Pelican party room at eight o'clock, and the table was attractive with large silver bowls of red roses and tall white tapers. Guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Macartney Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Babson, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Macartney Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Macartney, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Merryman, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Campbell, Mrs. K. P. Grant, Mrs. Wesley O. Smith, Mr. Denis Bowman of Los Angeles, Anne Robinson, Elizabeth Miller, Winnifred Lamm, Julie Cromlin, Joan Campbell, and the guests of honor, Rose Macartney and Ensign Babson.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bock of 137 High have announced the marriage of their son, Walter A. Bock, USNR, to Lucille Norling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Norling of Issaquah, Washington on February 7. The doubling ceremony was performed at the Lutheran service center in Astoria, Oregon by Reverend Alexander Borrevik. The young couple were attended by Edna Larson and Wilbur Spain.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gold suit with brown accessories, and her corsage was of gardenias.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the service center. Later a wedding dinner was enjoyed, after which there was a housewarming at the home of the new couple, who plan to remain in Astoria for the present.

Prior to enlisting in the navy, Mr. Bock was employed for several years at the United States National bank, and the bride was formerly employed in the office of the Kesterson Lumber company here.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. C. Brill of 1919 Melrose entertained a number of her friends with a bridge luncheon on Wednesday afternoon, February 28. Guests included Mrs. E. M. Raymond, Mrs. Walter West, Mrs. L. Hagerman, Mrs. E. H. Balsiger, Mrs. E. M. Chilcote, Mrs. Arthur Schupp and Mrs. C. A. Lundy.

High score was awarded to Mrs. Schupp and second to Mrs. Lundy.

Plans Made For Annual Spring Tea

As spring is just around the corner, plans are progressing for the annual spring tea sponsored by the Sojourners, which is to be given at the Willard hotel on Wednesday, March 14.

At the regular meeting on Wednesday, February 28, Mrs. Wilbur Shannon, co-chairman of the tea, and Mrs. J. M. Babcock announced that their committee members would be Mrs. W. R. Kershaw, Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, Mrs. R. E. Onkes and Mrs. Dorothy Patty. As this is one of the largest affairs to be given by the club during the year, it is anticipated with a great deal of pleasure by members, who may invite guests for a table of cards and a delightful social afternoon. Reservations for tables may be made by calling Mrs. Shannon at 5909 or Mrs. Babcock at 6146, and it is hoped that the reservation list may be completed not later than March 12, so that plans for the affair may be made accordingly.

As the business meeting will not be held on the day of the tea, an early arrival is desirable, in order that play of cards may begin at 2 o'clock, with tea served to the guests at 4.

Guests of the club on Wednesday were Mrs. Francis Manning, Mrs. Andrew Honzel, Mrs. F. A. Murphy, Mrs. Eric Majors, Mrs. Lottie Wolff and Mrs. Tony Molitor. Mrs. Juanita Bakke became a member at this meeting after visiting the club three times.

Defense stamps were awarded to Mrs. Andrew Honzel and Mrs. C. B. Larkin, who scored in bridge, and to Mrs. A. J. McManus in pinocle. Mrs. Matt Finnegan was hostess for the afternoon.

A member of Sojourners who will be very greatly missed is Mrs. S. B. Hopkins, who left last week for Boise, Idaho, to make her home. During the business meeting, Mrs. Byron Friedman, president of the club, expressed the regret of all members at her departure, and extended the hopes of all for a great deal of happiness in her new residence.

Soroptimists

Taking as her subject, "West of the Date Line," Mrs. Earl Redman told a colorful story of the Pacific Islands to the Soroptimist club at their Wednesday meeting. She spoke of the different racial groups, their governments, migrations and religions. The island inhabitants, who had formerly been spirit worshippers, became Christians under the guidance of missionaries, and cooperated for the advancement of civilization among their own people.

Traveling in canoes, in ancient times, the Pacific Islanders migrated eastward from the Malay peninsula, settling on the islands en route, and succeeding generations pushing on thousands of miles toward the rising sun. Interesting facts, told by Mrs. Redman, gave her listeners a better understanding of that part of the world which is of so much interest at the present time, and which seemed merely romantic before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Kathleen Thompson entertained the club members with a lively report on her recent trip to the east coast, and Mrs. Marshall Cornett gave a brief resume of her visit in Salem with news of Representative Rose Poole, who is a member of the Klamath Falls Soroptimist club.

Past Matrons

Mrs. A. B. Epperson, president of the Aloha Past Matron club, baked a delicious cake for the birthday table, honoring those whose birthdays come in December, January and February, and also presented a gift to the honored guests, Mrs. L. F. Willis, Mrs. S. W. Wortley and Mrs. George Casper.

Hostesses for the 1 o'clock luncheon were Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones, Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg, Mrs. George Chastain and Miss Mayne Whittington.

Mrs. Grace Cole, past matron from Cascade Crest chapter of Chiloquin, was a special guest. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. H. Balsiger and Mrs. Marion Hanks. Mrs. George Casper was appointed to call on the sick during the month of March.

Hostesses for the next regular monthly meeting are Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Charlotte Martin, Mrs. Elizabeth Norris and Mrs. Flora Heid. This meeting will be on March 30.

Mrs. Wood Named Head of Group

Mrs. Will Wood was elected president of the Garden group of the Klamath Falls Warman's Library club at the annual election of officers held Monday afternoon in the small library club. Mrs. Horace E. Getz is the retiring president.

Serving with Mrs. Wood for the coming year will be Mrs. Evans, vice president; Mrs. Horace E. Getz, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Howard, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Porter, membership; Mrs. Rollo C. Groesbeck, calling.

Monday's meeting, the first since the Christmas holidays, was exceptionally well attended and a discussion of spring plants and shrubs and flowers was done in this area.

It was announced that the next meeting of the garden club will be held the first Monday of the month in the future. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, April 2.

The Jolly Neighbors will meet at the home of Mrs. Andrew Eckes on 2356 Wentland on Wednesday, March 7, at 1:30 p.m.

Service Dance

The BPOE is sponsoring a dance for enlisted personnel on Friday, March 9, from 9 until 12. Music will be furnished by Baldy Evans, and the Elks will be assisted by the Junior Hostesses. Admittance to the dance will be by invitation only, and invitations are available from the recreation officers at the Marine Barracks, the Klamath naval air station and Camp Tulelake. No invitation is necessary in the event that the enlisted personnel present either an Elks membership card or Elks courtesy card.

Arrangements for the affair are in the hands of J. H. Robbins, chairman of the enlisted men's entertainment committee of the Elks lodge.

ANW Club

At the meeting of the Art Needle Work club on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Z. J. Powell, some of the real art of the members was shown. The hostess showed a knitting and utility bag she fashioned from raffia and wool, an admirable article of home handicraft.

To paraphrase an old adage, an artist is not without honor save in her own home town. To the surprise of the other members, Mrs. George Chastain, a charter member, showed a score of lead pencil character sketches drawn from her own imagination on white paper. It developed that these sketches recently fell by chance into the hands of a professor at the University of Oregon at Eugene, who said some of the sketches resembled the drawings of Rembrandt, the 17th century Dutch painter, and others were like the drawings of our own American artist, Grant Wood, who died last year. He also stated that these drawings were the work of a genius. Mrs. Chastain draws as a hobby and her character delineations are wonderful to see.

Mrs. Chastain undoubtedly inherits her artistic genius from her gifted father, J. M. Sutton, who was the founder of the Ashland Tidings in the 1870's, and was a recognized artist with the brush and canvas.

On Wednesday afternoon, March 7, Mrs. Charles J. Martin will be hostess to the members.

ANW Club

Frederick Roenicke, young son of Lt. and Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke, observed his seventh birthday anniversary Tuesday afternoon when his mother asked a group of young friends to their home on Portland for an after-school party.

Games were played followed by birthday cake served to Jon and Gene Olson, Dickie Clark, Jon Houston, Paul Adams, Gary Kilever, John Steelhammer, James Kirkmire and the young honor guest.

Cutters Needed At Red Cross Room

Lady, can you use a pair of scissors? What a silly question. But it's surprising how many women are hiding their light under a good sized bushel when help is needed so desperately at the Red Cross rooms. With casualties coming into our hospitals by the thousands each week, there is a dire need for hospital garters. These aren't fancy as you can remember if you've ever toggled yourself out in a hospital shirt, and are simple to cut and make. Right now they need cutters. Please put a few hours down for next week at the Red Cross rooms.

Lovely as lovely could be was Rose Macartney when she walked down the aisle last Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's. Her veil, caught at both sides of her dark hair by orange blossoms was the something old and something borrowed, being a family heirloom which has been worn by several generations of Macartney brides. The something blue was a narrow blue satin garter, and the "new" was the satin wedding gown.

On a recent trip north, Mr. and Mrs. Burge Mason Jr., visited with several former Klamath folks. In Eugene they saw Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larsen and sons, who plan to visit here during Easter vacation. In Portland, Mrs. Mason had lunch with Mrs. James Busch and Mrs. Ted Young, both of whom are living in the north.

A former resident was greeted here this week, Mrs. William Dinsmore of Seattle. She was a guest at the Willard during her stay of several days and was among the out-of-towners at the Babson-Macartney wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kent have received interesting letters from son Earl, a second lieutenant with a B-24 Liberator bomber crew out of southern Italy. He has met several Beta Theta Pi fraternity brothers from Oregon State college since going overseas, but as yet has not run into anyone from his home town. Mr. and Mrs. Kent have just returned from a business trip which took them along the coast from Crescent City to Portland.

Remember the year a couple of hundred Klamath folks, with plenty of gas, zoomed over to Medford and listened to Marion Anderson's lovely voice? That same group, and a thousand more are anxiously awaiting Dorothy Maynor's concert here Wednesday night at the Pelican. Sorry, admittance only by membership. If you missed out this year, perhaps you can get tickets for next season. The membership campaign will soon be under way.

Speaking of these two outstanding young negro artists, we listened with interest to Art Schupp's description of Paul Robeson's "Othello" which he saw in San Francisco this week. Said he was sitting next to an Englishman who seemed to know his "Othello" pretty well and had seen many top-notchers perform in that difficult role. He admitted that Robeson turned in a beautiful job. Nope, he didn't sing "Ole Man River!" (L.S.)

Honored At Tea

The Godfrey C. Blohm home on Pacific Terrace was the scene of a lovely tea on Friday afternoon to honor Mrs. Horace P. Babson, who arrived in Klamath Falls from Los Angeles with her husband to attend the wedding of their son, Ensign Denis G. Babson, to Rose Macartney. The occasion also honored Mrs. K. P. Grant of St. Paul, Minnesota, aunt of the recent bride, and Mrs. S. T. Blohm of Portland, who is spending a few days in Klamath Falls with her brother and sister-in-law.

Guests called between the hours of four and six, and the tea table was attractively centered with a red crystal bowl in which gardenias were floated. Serving were Mrs. Frank Jenkins and Mrs. George H. Merryman, and Mrs. Hugh Campbell assisted about the rooms.

MEMBERS OF THE BRIDAL PARTY at the Babson-Macartney wedding included Winnifred Lamm of Modoc Point, Joan Campbell of this city, Ensign and Mrs. Denis G. Babson, Anne Robinson of Corcoran, California, who was the maid-of-honor, and Elizabeth Miller of San Mateo, California. Out-of-town guests arrived during the first of the week to be on hand for the many affairs which were given to honor the young couple.

Dancing Party Event of Friday

A group of the younger set complimented Ingerid Norland with a surprise supper and dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Norland for their daughter Friday evening in the small library club rooms on the occasion of her fourteenth birthday anniversary.

The junior high group enjoyed supper followed by square dancing with Mike Casper at the fiddle and Charles Hallett calling. Mrs. Ed Bell, Mrs. William Frohnmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Honzel assisted during the evening.

Those bidden to share the fun included Marcella Murray, Joan Moore, Jean Rae Oldenburg, Jean Hall, Karin Koehler, John Littlefield, Karlene Cresswell, Marilyn Hayden, Patricia Clegg, Jeannette Ringstad, Marlene Hadley, Barbara McCraw, Mary Stone, Sharon Johnston, Elaine Ericks, Priscilla Hutchinson, Mary Maxwell, Gloria Hill, Madelon Adler, Kathleen Peugh, Martha Phipps.
