

KEY SPEAKS HOSPITAL TO ROTARIANS

the 20 years that the hospital for children has been in operation in Portland over 5000 children have been treated and many have been cured. It was said that Earl Riley of Portland was the first to talk to the Rotary at the Willard Friday who is chairman of the hospital, explaining the admission to children is restricted to age who are 14 years of age or under. The expense of treatment of these patients is borne by the ordinary channels. The modern, 50-bed hospital, second Shrine hospital established in the country, costs an investment of $1,000,000, Riley said. It costs $80,000 a year to operate, and $30,000 or more must be raised by donations annually to the $60,000 received from the national Shrine board. In addition to the 5000 beds who have passed through the hospital for Crippled Children, about 60,000 patients have been given out-patient care by the Shrine hospital by the Shrine. About 40 per cent of cases now treated are victims of polio, Riley said. He stressed that there are no restrictions as to race, color, and that a great many apparently hopeless crippled children treated there are active, and are good citizens.

Portland mayor was to attend the Klamath Falls benefit dance. An old friend and associate of Riley's, was man of the day for Rotary.

PACIFIC AVIATRIX TAKEN BY DEATH

ANCONVER, Wash., March 9 (AP)—The death of Mrs. Edna E. Christoffersen, 64, northwest aviatrix and pistol shot of international fame, was disclosed today.

She died last night in a hospital in quiet contrast to an adventurous 11 1/2 in northwest and Alaska aviation history and on tours of major American and European cities as a pistol expert.

Once known as the "oldest woman flier in America," she was the widow of Silas Christoffersen, pioneer Portland and Pacific coast flier, killed in an airplane crash at Redwood, Calif., in 1916. After his death she took up X-ray work and operated a laboratory and X-ray school here and later won fame as a pistol shot while seeking relaxation from her work.

She won competitive matches with some of the best police marksmen of the large American cities and once defeated the crack shots of Berlin police department in an unofficial contest.

French Journalists Told FDR, De Gaulle Relation Friendly

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt assured a group of French journalists today that he and General De Gaulle are great friends.

The president, receiving the French correspondents after his regular White House news conference, made several friendly references to the French leader, evidently intended to calm the feelings aroused by De Gaulle's refusal to meet him at Algiers.

Mr. Roosevelt told the French newspapermen not to pay any attention to all the talk about relations between them.

The president said he was sorry he was not able to go to France after the Crimean conference, explaining that he did not have time for such a visit.

The bus hit the ditch and overturned. Had it plunged off the other side of the road, it would have landed in the Coos river.

Lt. William Laahs Home After Bombing Germany

Home on rotation leave after 35 missions over Germany is 1st Lt. William Laahs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Laahs Jr. of 1109 Pine.

The young navigator flew in a Flying Fortress which boasted an all-Oregon officer crew, including the pilot, 1st Lt. James C. Williams, the co-pilot, 1st Lt. James D. Lyons and the bombardier, 2nd Lt. Douglas N. Morrison, all of Portland. It is believed to be a record in the 8th air force for an Oregonian officer team to be assigned to one bomber, and all four members were strangers before they came together at their bomber base in England.

German targets which were hit during their missions overseas included Berlin, Merseberg, Ludwigshafen, Hamburg and Hanover. Four different bombers were used during this time, and near the completion of their tour, their plane was forced to make a crash landing on a small field near Aachen, but none of the crew was injured "which was the important thing," according to Lt. Laahs.

Laahs is a graduate of Klamath Union high school with the class of 1939, and enlisted in the army air corps in July of 1942. After receiving his training as a navigator, he reported for overseas duty in June of last year. He holds the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf clusters, as well as the Presidential Unit Citation which was awarded to his group.

At the completion of his leave, which is being spent in Klamath Falls, Lt. Laahs will report to Santa Ana, Calif., for reassignment.

ESSENTIAL WORKER LIST DEADLINE SET

Employers of truck, bus, city transit, automotive machine and tire repair shop establishments today were told they have "only until March 15" to file lists of "male employees subject to draft" with the office of defense transportation district office at Room 1130, American Bank building, Portland, Oregon.

Donald F. Call, ODT district manager in Portland said that employers should prepare four copies of the list and that key workers in the order of their importance should be listed first. He explained that "names of full time workers 18 through 29 years of age who were 2-A or 2-B as of January 1, 1945, only are to be included in the lists. Part time workers should not be included."

Call said that employers are required also to file two sets of selective service Form 42-A, Special (Revised) covering only "irreplaceable and indispensable" employees on the lists. Copies of the selective service Form can be obtained at the nearest draft board, it was said.
