TULELAKE PASTOR SPEAKS TO CLUB

MERRILL—Rev. Hugh Bronson, pastor of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church, was guest speaker at the luncheon of the Merrill Service club Tuesday, using for his theme the parallel benefits to the community of two organizations, the Service club and the church.

Gus Haaglund, chairman of the club's agricultural and irrigation committee, reported on the hearing held recently at Klamath Falls on the proposed diversion of irrigation water from this watershed to the Sacramento area. Haaglund and Riley DeLap represented the club, registering a protest against the plan.

Twenty-five dollars was donated to the Red Cross and the membership voted to contribute $20 toward the purchase of a mimeograph machine for the club. George Elliott, principal of the high school, is chairman of the Red Cross campaign for the Merrill district, but contributions may be left at the bank with DeLap.

The luncheon was served in the church annex by the Ladies Aid.

BE NOT DECEIVED

Even though many have laid aside the Bible and have taken as their textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" or have taken as a supplement to the Bible "The Book of Mormon" let us not be deluded. Remember the words of the beloved apostle John, "Whosoever goes onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God; he that abideth in the teaching, the same hath both the Father and the Son. If any one cometh unto you and bringeth not this teaching, receive him not into your house, and give him no greeting; for he that giveth him greeting partaketh of his evil works." (II John 2:9-11).

At a meeting of the A. F. of L. sawmill workers union held at Willow Ranch a week ago last Monday night, February 26, the members voted 71 to 22 to strike. The cause of the strike was an alleged under pay schedule in some departments, the alleged discharging of certain workers without cause from the union's viewpoint, for an alleged over time back pay and more sanitary living and working conditions. The members, although voting to strike, have not yet set the date when they will walk out.

The grange meeting held last Saturday night was well attended with 65 members being present.

Considerable interest was shown in the various discussions that came up. The members voted almost unanimously to abide by the war-time midnight curfew ruling and the social hour was brought to a close at 11:50 o'clock. It was decided to set up the meeting time of the grange from 8:30 to 8 p. m. and it was believed that by cutting the meetings a little short that enough time could be had for the programs, suppers and social hour.

At the suggestion of Pearl Steward, the grange voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop with Pearl Steward, appointed as scout master. A meeting was held last Tuesday night to get the organization under way. William Allen and Irvin L. Farris were appointed as counselors and assistants to work with Steward.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Elliott were obligated at the meeting. The matter of supper arrangements for March 17 when the grange will hold a dedication of their service flag, has been left up to the Home Economics club. Upon this occasion the public is invited to attend the dedication program which begins at 9 o'clock.

The program for the evening was a piano solo by Susan Jane Faris, mandolin and guitar duet by Cameron P. Fleming and Mrs. Lydia Bishop, and a song by Garland, Cundiff, Lorraine Hammersley and Raymond Fisher.

Lee Johnston returned home last Wednesday evening from a visit with his son, Kay Johnston and family at Vallejo, Calif. He had been gone since January 10 and was glad to get home. He was not half as glad to get home though as his big Lewellyn setter, Sandy, was glad to see him coming in through the gate.

The lonesome dog had just been handed a heaping plate of dinner. He had taken just one gulp when he flew into a state of ecstasy at the sight of his master. The setter was so excited he could not eat another bite until around 10 o'clock that night.

Jimmy McGrew was given a farewell party last Friday evening here, third trick operator until E. L. Knoles of Oakridge arrives to take the position over permanently. Mrs. Kirk's daughter, Mrs. Betty McKee, is with her mother here. Her husband is in the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Porter received word from their son, PFC Roland L. Porter, that he is now with the armed forces in England.

The weather here is still mild and the sun shines much of the time. A snowstorm left several inches of snow making the snow level 40 inches.

been quite sick and had undergone a major operation at the Lakeview hospital, is home now and is getting along as well as could be expected, it was learned.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DANCE TO BE HELD

MERRILL—It's been almost 40 years since the Irish lads and lassies of the Klamath basin sponsored the first St. Patrick's dance, this year marking the 39th annual affair. The dance will be held Saturday night, March 17, when folks of the Klamath basin who love to dance are expected out in force.

Dancing will begin at 8 and continue until 12 o'clock, in the Merrill community hall, with music to be furnished by the local orchestra. Toby O'Keefe, Tulelake, is general chairman. The colors of old Ireland, green, gold and white, with a sprinkling of shamrocks, will be used to decorate the hall.

Friends who seldom meet during any other time, gather at this annual dance and a number of basin residents who attended the first ball still reside here.

Couples will be charged $1 plus 20 cent tax. Unescorted ladies pay the tax only and service men are admitted for half price. The dance is a non-profit affair.

Improvement Club

FORT KLAMATH—The regular meeting of the Civic Improvement club was held at the clubhouse on Friday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Carl Wilson, in the chair for the first time since she underwent surgery in Klamath Falls in January.

During the business meeting, plans were made for a Red Cross benefit dance to be sponsored by the club on Saturday evening, March 10. It was decided that admission for men would be one dollar, and each lady attending the dance is requested to bring a cake or pie, which will be auctioned off at midnight. Entire proceeds of the affair will be given to the Red Cross war fund in the current drive.

Several interesting letters from Fort Klamath servicemen were read by Mrs. Frank Denton, who is in charge of the monthly community news letter sent to all Fort Klamath men in the various branches of the armed forces. Military Praises Portland For Aid In Controlling Vice PORTLAND, March 10 (P)—Letters from this area's military authorities have praised Portland's police force for cooperating to stamp out vice, Mayor Earl Riley declared.

He flatly denied a federal security agency charge that organized prostitution was rampant here—an accusation which prompted action by an incensed citizen's committee.

Verneal disease has increased here on the records because of war-boomed population and a police drive which last year rounded up 1200 women for examination, he said.

Insurance Companies Granted Moratorium

WASHINGTON, March 10 (P)—President Roosevelt has signed legislation granting an anti-trust law moratorium to the insurance industry until January 1, 1948. The chief executive said the respite would provide an opportunity for the "orderly correction of abuses" which he said have existed in this business.

The bill gives insurance companies an opportunity to adjust themselves to conform with a supreme court decision holding them subject to the anti-trust laws. It was signed by the president yesterday.

BUREAU ASKS FOR CENSUS DATA WORKERS

An appeal was made today by the bureau of census for young people to work in Washington, D. C., compiling the farm data now being collected by the census enumerators throughout the United States.

Announcement of this need was made by R. L. Ackerman, 606 Medical Dental building, local supervisor for the 1945 census of agriculture, at the request of Census Director J. C. Capt at Washington. The message states that the second phase of the census, that of editing the collected data, is about to begin, and several hundred people are needed to do the job.

Young people, not now engaged in other essential war work, preferably high school graduates with agricultural background, would be well qualified for the work. Director Ackerman explained. General office experience, or experience in operating adding or calculating machines is desirable, but not absolutely essential. All employees will be given special training in Washington for their particular jobs to which they will be assigned.

In addition, Director Capt said, the bureau of census also has openings for typists and stenographers, with or without experience.

The entrance salary for all of these employees will be $40 per week for the standard 48-hour week, which includes overtime as arranged by law. There are excellent chances for advancement, as approximately 30 to 40 supervisors and special editing clerks will be selected from among those employees who make the best records of performance in their job, Capt said. The entire project is expected to last from nine to 20 months.

Housing for women is available in a large government residence hall within walking distance of the census building.

It is not necessary to pass a civil service test to qualify for employment. Applications for the positions may be made by writing to the personnel division of the bureau of census, Washington 25, D. C., giving a description of education and experience. Accepted candidates will be required to obtain a release from their local U. S. employment service office before being hired. Persons now engaged in essential war work are not eligible for these jobs, Capt specified.
