Oklahoma Whips NYU, 49-45; Meets DePaul for Top Title

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK March 28 (AP)—It will be DePaul vs. the Oklahoma Aggies and 6-foot-9 George Mikan vs. 7-foot Bob Kurland for the mythical national collegiate basketball championship as the 1945 cage season ends at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The Aggies won the right to battle for the generally recognized national title by whipping New York university, 49 to 45, for the NCAA championship before 18,034 at the Garden last night. DePaul previously had won the Garden National Invitation tourney by beating Bowling Green of Ohio, 71-54.

The game will be the second between the two teams, DePaul having won a 48-46 triumph over the Aggies in Chicago during the regular season. In a preliminary, Bowling Green meets NYU.

Kurland, outplayed by Mikan in their Chicago meeting, sparked the Aggies to their NCAA triumph over the Violets with 22 points on 10 field goals and two free throws. Voted the outstanding player of the game, the seven-foot Kurland dropped in 15 points during the first half that helped erase an early NYU lead and give the westerners a 26-21 edge at halftime.

The Violets fell behind by 11 points midway of the second half, but, as in their upset win over Ohio State Saturday night, put on a late rally that pulled them within four points, 43-39, with less than five minutes left. It was a fierce struggle the rest of the way, but the Cowboys clung to their four-point margin with a neat exhibition of ball handling.

Al Grenert was tops for NYU with 12 points.

Putts Are the Shots That Count

...fter just finishing a tour of nine holes at Reames, we are ...firm believers that putting and approach shots are the strokes ...really count in golf. All the play-for-pay boys on the winter ...nament golf swing are deadly around the green, some more ...an others, and it's the boys that are consistently good putters ...hit good approach shots that collect the cabbage after the ... is over.

...or instance, what good does it do to lay out a couple of 250-...wood shots, get on the carpet of the green in two, and then ... your approach shot or three-putt the green? It's true you ...have your par five, but the point is that you would have been ...n in four strokes for a birdie if your approach shot had been ...ere. By the same token, the guy that takes three shots to ...h the green, but makes his one putt good, will beat the long-...r nine times out of ten.

Williams entered the service with a brilliant four-season major league batting average of .356. He belted 127 home runs and batted in 515 runs.

Sports Briefs

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—It may seem incredible to folks who have been driven to distraction keeping track of basketball scores, but they're actually trying to make the game faster. . . . When officials were given their chance to speak their piece at yesterday's basketball writers' meeting, Elwood Geiges talked about the necessity of "keeping the game rolling" and Dave Walsh proposed a rule change that would save a few seconds on out-of-bounds plays. . . . In addition, the rules committee is seriously considering trying to correct an "abuse" of the free-substitution rule which lets a team stall in the back court for nine seconds, call time out and then escape a penalty by inserting a substitute within 30 seconds. . . . Strangely, there wasn't any squawking about stopping the clock by frequent substitutions late in the game or freezing the ball in the last few minutes. Those tactics were prominent in Saturday's eastern NCAA final but all hands seemed to figure that NYU's Howard Cann had outgenerated Ohio State's Ole Olsen by substituting while Ole didn't freeze.

DEMOTED

When the Giants played an exhibition at the Bainbridge naval training center the other day, Frank Mediamolle, rookie first base candidate, took exception to one of Umpire Bill Stewart's decisions in rather hairy-chested language. . . . Bill took off his mask, looked sternly at the youngster and said: "Young man, I don't even allow major league ballplayers to talk to me like that."
