

12 FAMILIES TO MOVE INTO HOUSING UNITS

Twelve navy families will move into new homes in the military 80 housing unit on Washburn way, Saturday, April 14.

Lt. R. S. MacGregor, navy housing officer, has assigned the men returned from overseas duty, with families who could not otherwise be near them, as first occupants of the new units.

Capt. Frederick G. Lewis, present housing officer for the Marine Barracks, is to be transferred and no official notice has been received as to whom will be assigned to succeed him.

Furniture placed in the 12 apartments in the navy section, which will be the first of the units ready for occupancy.

Concrete sidewalks are being laid this week and the streets will be started next week. No units will be occupied until they are accessible by finished roads and sidewalks.

Occupancy has been held up by the delay in arrival of oil drums required for heating the units, and these are now promised for the first part of next week.

Seeding for the lawns that will carpet the entire area has been held up by frosts.

The housing project has been extended to 155 more units which have been contracted for by the Halvorson Construction company. These units will be started right away and will be finished in four months. The new unit will be two story apartment buildings erected adjacent to the present unit on Washburn, between Eberlein and Radcliffe.

Harry R. Gamble, project engineer for these units is also engineer for the 50 civilian "portable" housing unit, to be erected at the foot of Main. K. Henderson, contractor, whose bid was accepted for this project, has received notice to proceed with the work which is to be finished in three months. This new residence section to be placed on a rolling site with well planned streets is expected to add to the civic attractions of Klamath Falls. As soon as the usefulness of this unit is over here, the entire set-up can be moved to the next area where it is needed.

Lakeview Marine Dies On Iwo On Birthday

LAKEVIEW—Word was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. Marion Andrews of Lakeview of the death of their son, Cpl. Durward Ray Dunn, 24, on Iwo Jima on March 1, the date of his first wedding anniversary.

He enlisted in the marines in September, 1940, and had been in the South Pacific for 11 months this time. In March of last year he was granted a month's furlough in the States after a considerable period of duty in the same theater of operations.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife, Barbara, in Colorado, and a sister, Geraldine, in Lakeview.

You Are His Riches

One instant you were a hell-deserving sinner, and the next, God counted you to be his riches.

Of yourself, you could never figure out how the mighty God should love you as to give his Son to die for your sins. But you came to see that Christ was the Lamb of God, slain for your sins.

And then it was done, nor can any tell how.

"The wind bloweth whither it listeth and thou hearest the sound thereof and cannot tell whence it cometh nor whither it goeth. So is every one that is born of the Spirit.

By this is the New Birth. And except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

David L. Roberts, 89th pursuit squadron, writes: "As Jesus stooped low to save me out of my sin, so he accepts each soldier who calls on him in faith."

Memorial Services Planned For Shadley

Memorial services for Sgt. Walter E. Shadley will be held at the Sprague River Friends' church on Sunday, April 8, at 11 a. m.

Sgt. Shadley was killed in action on Luzon on February 20, and is survived by his wife, Pearl, of Sprague River, his mother, Mrs. Rosa Shadley, of Sprague River, three sisters, Mrs. Nettie Shough of Trail, Oregon, Mrs. Pearl Rogers of the River and Mrs. Melvina Frazier of Tulelake. Young Shadley is also survived by five brothers, Lee, of Chico, California, Fred, who is now stationed in Florida, Albert and Amos of Trail and Edwin of Vale, Oregon.

The chamber of commerce gratefully acknowledges responses of Klamath Falls residents to housing problems which have appeared in The Herald and News.

Numerous calls were received regarding housing for the marine and his wife who were living in a condemned building. They are now located in a real home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Christy opened their own home on Laverne to this couple. They now have a comfortable room, use of the kitchen, and are accepted as part of the Christy family.

The marine, milking a cow and caring for chickens here on the Christy place, concludes that it was worth fighting to come home to after all.

HI-Y CHAPTER TO SPONSOR CONFERENCE

In accordance with other Hi-Y congresses to be held throughout the state, the KUHS chapter of the Hi-Y will stage a one school conference to be held all day April 10 at the Methodist church.

Originally the congress was to include the Chiloquin and Merrill chapters, but since these schools do not have Hi-Y clubs and transportation difficulties prohibit the attendance to the conference to be held in the valley, it has resolved itself into a one school conference with the public invited.

The program for the day's affairs is as follows: 10:15—Devotional Program, Opening Formalities, George Zupan—Entertainment, Songs—Specialties.

10:20—Keynote Congress Speaker, 10:50—Report of Program Committee: September, Dee Nelson; October, George Zupan; November, Ted Reeves; December, Gene Peyton; January, Fred Reeves; February, Jim Pope; March, Don Eittrich; April, Gordon Veitch; May, Jim Palmer.

Noon recess: 1:30—Round Table discussion: League of Women Voters with Mrs. McKay as chairman. 2:15—Recess.

2:20—Boy and Girl Relations, discussed by E. E. Hambrick. 2:35—Race Relations, Rev. Victor Phillips. 2:50—Pre-Induction, Recruiting Officers. 3:05—Vocations, LeRoy Erdmann.

State Senator Marshall Cornett and State Representative Henry Semon, both members of the Klamath Falls Rotary club, provided the club's program this Friday noon at the Willard with talks on the 43rd legislature. Rose Poole, Klamath's other representative, was a guest at the meeting.

Senator Cornett paid tribute to the Klamath people for expressing their opinions on pending measures, and to his colleagues, Semon and Mrs. Poole. He explained the mechanics of legislation, and as an example traced the course of house bill 345 which was finally killed in the senate highway committee, of which he is chairman.

Representative Semon, who served as chairman of the ways and means committee, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of Mrs. Poole. "We talked matters over and then we each voted as we thought best," he said.

Semon urged that attention be given to the special election, June 22, when two measures will be up for vote. He recommended passage of both the building program measure, which he pointed out would be financed from current income tax money, and of the retirement plan measure.

PORTLAND SHIPPING NOT TO BE IMPEDED

PORTLAND, Ore., April 7 (AP)—The steady stream of Russian shipments from Portland will not be impeded by the USSR's abandonment of the Japanese neutrality pact, a war shipping administration official declared.

"I do not expect it to have much effect on this port one way or another," said George Powell, assistant WSA Pacific coast director.

The waterfront here would suffer markedly if Russian exports slackened, for Portland has been the Soviet's chief Pacific coast shipping point. Detailed figures on this trade have not been disclosed.

For months, specially built trains have been assembled here and shipped across the Pacific to Russia. Because the engines were built for a certain rail gauge, they could not travel across country on American railroad tracks.

Juveniles Curtail Costly Tampering

PORTLAND, April 7 (AP)—Chances for accidents from youths tampering with city transportation have been greatly reduced, a city commissioner said today.

Dorothy McCollough Lee said redoubled effort by students to ward off meddling with street car equipment has resulted in marked improvement in the last 30 days. Only two or three youths have been called to court per week lately, while a dozen were summoned four or five weeks ago for interfering with transportation lines.

SAILOR PRESENTED WITH PURPLE HEART

In a ceremony at the naval air station, Commander R. R. Darron, U. S. navy, presented the Purple Heart medal to Lee Phillip Chase, F 1/c, USNR.

The Purple Heart medal was awarded Chase for wounds received in action during the Kiska island occupation, August 18, 1943. Chase was aboard a destroyer which was participating in the bombardment of Kiska. At midnight, an underwater explosion shook the destroyer's fantail where Chase was located. The blast was believed to have resulted from a torpedo by a Japanese submarine. Many men were killed and Chase was badly wounded.

The destroyer managed to remain afloat and was towed into Adak harbor. Fireman Chase was removed to the hospital there.

Prior to coming to Klamath Falls last September, Fireman Chase was in the Puget Sound naval hospital, Bremerton, Wash.

Chase is a native of Denver, Colo., but at present his home is 1742 Menlo way, Klamath Falls, where he resides with his wife and 9-month-old daughter, Diana.

Discussion of Peace Plan Set for Policy Session

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Wide open discussion of peace-keeping proposals is scheduled when the American delegation to the United Nations conference on the UN's policy making sessions Monday.

Chairman Conally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee and a delegate, said today there are no cut and dried limitations on the policy actions of the eight-member group.

"The American delegation, in its meetings will give consideration to all proposals that are advanced by members or by any foreign government," the Texan told a reporter.

Sifting Blat He assumed that proposals which might be made by citizens who hold no official position would be sifted by the state department and transmitted to the delegation if the experts there felt they were worthwhile.

That seemed the most likely course for suggestions such as those made by former President Hoover, which have been criticized editorially in the Russians newspaper Pravda.

Hoover advocated, among other things, that the San Francisco conference provide in the projected league's charter for revision of unsatisfactory treaties at 10-year intervals.

So far as could be learned, no member of the delegation has been asked to sponsor the Hoover proposals. They apparently were made too late for inclusion in a compilation of peace-keeping suggestions turned over to the delegation by the state department.

Denunciation Talked Russia's denunciation of her neutrality treaty with Japan meanwhile continued to be a topic of interest among legislators.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) suggested that Russia be actuated because of the American advance on "One explanation of the fear of Japanese capitalism is that Russia could be an active participant in the war and demand her share of the spoils," the Maine senator reported.
