

FERTILIZER MOUNTS MAY BE NORMAL

Growers may expect to receive their regular amount of fertilizer this year, Alfred L. Perry, sales manager of the Pacific Guano company in Medford, said at a meeting here Wednesday.

Materials used for fertilizer, he pointed out, are also used in explosives. Sulphuric acid, "pigiron" of fertilizer, is used in the manufacture of all explosives, and fertilizer producers only get an ordinance does not use.

Fertilizer shortage is due to the situation, and is national, not just local, Perry said.

Regarding the situation in the north basin, Perry presented the following facts:

During the past three years Pacific Guano company has shipped nearly all of the 18,000 tons that has been shipped to the area. Special allotments of fertilizer, in addition to regular allotments for this year were supplied in 1943 and 1944.

With these special allotments in 1945, Klamath basin received approximately twice the amount as in the previous year. Shipments so far for the season have been equal to amounts shipped in previous years without the special allotments.

With the increased acreage planted however, due to food requirements, fertilizer shipments without the special

To Speak

U. G. Dubach, dean of men at Oregon State college at Corvallis, will speak at the annual dinner meeting of the Klamath County Public Health Association, Inc. The dinner is to take place on Tuesday evening, April 17, at the First Methodist church, and Dubach's topic will be "Progress Through Teamwork."

Special allotments do not adequately cover the need.

Contracts were made by growers last fall, for fertilizer, basing their orders on the amount they had obtained with the special allotments.

Fertilizer producers are doing all in their power to fill these orders, and although some months the quota has been a little behind, demands are being met eventually. The concerted effort of fertilizer men, with some trading of materials, enabled them to obtain promises of shipments of the necessary ingredients which will allow them to deliver approximately 54 per cent of the outstanding

TRACTOR CARRIES SICK MAN TO CITY

MEDFORD, Ore., April 12 (AP)—A stricken caretaker was brought back from snowbound Diamond lake to a hospital here early today by a snow tractor speeding over 28 miles of deep drifts.

Robert Shampine, whose wife telephoned Medford yesterday that he was seriously ill, made the trip on a stretcher constructed on the "sno-cat"—a combination of a sled and caterpillar-treaded auto.

George Howard, manager of Diamond lake resort, and Dr. W. W. Howard headed the party which started up the mountain yesterday. They returned in the early morning hours.

Added Vacation Week Granted In Portland

PORTLAND, April 12 (AP)—Portland school children will get an extra week's vacation this summer.

At teacher request, the school board voted to open fall term the week after Labor Day instead of the day after. Classes will continue a week later the following June.

Orders some time during April or the early part of May. They have been assured by the WPB that the balance of this will be available before June 30.

Some growers figured that if they could get delivery on half their order before May 10, and the balance before July 10, they could apply the later shipment by side dressing after the crop is up. This is a general practice in some potato growing states, Perry believes, however, that shipments will be completed well before July 10.

$212 Refunded by Landlords In Area

Rent refunds amounting to $212 were made by landlords during the month of March in this defense-rental area, according to Marvin Hixon, area rent examiner. Five landlords were affected by this refund action, and the total refunds were made to the tenants.

Effective April 1, penalties for rent overcharges will be treble damage action against any landlord who is in violation, Hixon stated. The rent control program has been in effect in this area for six months, therefore such violations can not be tolerated, and landlords and tenants are cautioned against paying or accepting rent in excess of the legal maximum, Hixon added. Any questions pertaining to maximum rent or rent control should be referred to the area rent office, 430 Main.

Carpenters Needed For Housing Work

There has been and will be a considerable call for carpenters in Klamath Falls because of the beginning of two new housing projects here, according to C. D. Long, business representative of the carpenters' union, AFL, here.

One project to be started soon is 150 housing units at Washburn way by the Halvorson company from Salem and the other is a 50-unit project beyond the Mills addition on the east side of the canal in charge of the K. T. Henderson company of Longview, Wash.

Temporary buildings, such as offices and tool sheds are already under construction, Long said, and the call for carpenters is expected to increase in the next few days.

SCOUTS WORK FOR EISENHOWER AWARD

Klamath Falls Scouts are working hard to qualify for the General Eisenhower medal and troop award for the collection of 1000 pounds of waste paper. Scouts have already accounted for more than 25 tons of paper since the drive began March 1, and this amount stands to be doubled before the campaign closes on April 30.

Troop 8, sponsored by the Altamont Community Presbyterian church, leads the field with more than five tons of paper, exactly 10,925 pounds. Close on 8's heels is troop 3, sponsored by the Lions club, with 9310 pounds. Several other troops are well up in the race and expect to have a considerable number of scouts eligible for awards. Cubs are also gathering paper and will be in the running when the final totals are in.

100,000 May Lose Jobs In War Work

ALBANY, April 12 (AP)—The Columbia river area can expect from 100,000 to 180,000 workers to be fired next year, Lee C. Stoll, state war manpower director, predicted here.

Eventually, he told the chamber of commerce yesterday, some of them will be absorbed in private industry. He proposed that jobless workers be carried along by unemployment compensation during the transition period.

Neuner Rules On Garbage Collectors

SALEM, April 12 (AP)—Employees of a garbage collection company in Corvallis must be covered by the unemployment compensation law, Attorney General George Neuner ruled today for District Attorney Fred McHenry of Benton county.

The law affects employees of four or more persons. The Corvallis company normally hires less than four men, but about once every three months it hires a larger crew to load salvage paper into a railroad car.

Neuner ruled that these additional employees are not "casual" employees under the law, and that by employing them, the company must include all of its employees under the law.

CHILD HOME AFTER INTRA-STATE CHASE

PORTLAND, April 12 (AP)—Brown-eyed, 5-year-old Mary Amelia Evans was back home today after a chase of several thousand miles to recover her from the father who kidnapped her.

It took five months for Mrs. Delia Evans to locate her child. Her estranged husband, Marshall Crowell, took Mary Amelia from the home here, where she was being kept while Mrs. Evans worked at a shipyard.

He fled with her through California, Texas and Oklahoma.

Oklahoma authorities, unaware that the child was being hunted, took her from Crowell and notified Mrs. Evans that action was pending to make Mary Amelia a ward to the state.

Mrs. Evans, who has legal custody of the girl, went immediately to Oklahoma and brought the child home. She is going back to her shipyard welding job.
