From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Lud Denny Solves the Locust Problem

Lud Denny may not be much of a farmer, but most folks allow he's pretty smart at solving other people's problems. Like Alvin Blake's locusts.

For years Alvin has been trying to get rid of a grove of locusts. They aren't using up any good land, but they annoy Alvin. Every time he cuts them down, up they shoot again.

"What'll I do about them locusts?" Alvin asks Lud. "Well, if you can't get rid of 'em," says Lud, "I'd say you better get to like 'em."

From where I sit, that's sound philosophy—applied to people just as much as locust trees. You can't always change folks to your way of thinking—some may prefer beer to buttermilk, or a double harness to a single one—but you can get to like them (if you take the trouble).

And first thing you know, the little differences don't matter.

Art & Gift Shop

A NEW shipment of really beautiful framed pictures has arrived at The Art and Gift Shop . . . Large ones and medium-sized ones . . . At prices from very little up to $28.00.

There are some lovely scenes of ducks and geese . . . Landscapes, seascapes, interiors, portraits and florals . . . And a selection of animal etchings by Muyttens (dogs and horses) that I fell in love with . . . There also are a number of colored photographs of dogs, cats and horses, framed.

Town Shop

FOR some reason, I have had the idea that Koret jackets came in only one style . . . So I really was interested when I discovered FIVE different Koret jacket styles at The Town Shop the other day.

There is the well-known Jog-a-Long, a loafer style, a cardigan, a chesterfield and a mandarian style . . . In all kinds of colors and combinations of colors . . . And every one adorably jaunty.

Materials are spun rayons, flannels, herringbones, serges, homespuns, etc. . . At $3.98 to $15.95.

At The Town Shop . . . Main at Fifth Streets.

Shaw Stationery

A NUMBER of new and instructive toys for small children have arrived at Shaw's . . . But unfortunately they're the type that are awfully hard to explain . . . The simplest are trapeze gadgets for babies, to be attached to the crib, carriage or play pen to teach baby to hoist himself around.

For older infants there are wooden inlay puzzle plaques, with pictures of Red Riding Hood, A Frog He Would A Wooing Go, and others, in sort of jig-saw form for very youthful minds and fingers.

There are several Tony Sarg creations . . . A Surprise Book, in which one of the surprises is the penny that the child actually finds in Simple Simon's pocket . . . The Play-A-Tune Blox, which teaches the child to read music partly through identifying animals . . . And Sarg's Magic Movie Book, equipped with 2 sets of magic lenses.

There are other toys for very small children, but, really, you can't appreciate them unless you see them yourself.

They're at Shaw's . . . 729 Main Street.

Long's

THERE are some glazed leather purses at Long's that I really have fallen for . . . But there are three styles and three colors and they're all so inexpensively priced, considering the cost of handbags these days, that I'm really in a quandary deciding which to get.

Two are underarm styles, (one zippered), some with stitching, some with nailhead design . . . At $9.54 and $10.20, including tax . . . And the other has leather strap handles, and is $10.74, including tax . . . They're all very roomy and have sweet little matching leather coin purses.

The colors are natural saddle leather, rosewood (which is a bee-ootiful brown) and red (a luscious cherry-ish red).

At Long's . . . 719 Main Street.

Garcelon's

THERE are several sizes of portable bars at Garcelon's . . . One kind, with 2 decanters, ice bucket, 4 shot glasses, 6 highball glasses and 6 stirring sticks on a tray, is $8.95 . . . Others are to $14.95, but they're larger and more inclusive.

Garcelon's also has many liqueur, brandy, wine and whiskey sets from $4.50 to $11.95 . . . And, of course, separate decanters and glasses of all kinds.

Garcelon's is at 407 Main Street.
