Price Increase Would Add Meat

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A spokesman for livestock producers told senate food investigators today that an increase of $1 a hundred pounds in cattle prices would get the country the beef it wants.

P. O. Wilson, Chicago, secretary-manager of the National Livestock Producers association, expressed the opinion, too, that "it would not cost consumers any more than they are paying now when you figure what they are paying the black market."

Price ceilings on cattle, Wilson testified before the agriculture committee, are based on costs of two years ago while corn has gone up 75 per cent and other feeds are also higher.
