

"Mask" Downs Ernie In Top Rassing Go

By PAUL HAINES

Ernie Piluso turned in one of the top bouts of the year last night at the Klamath armory in his headline tussle with the "Grey Mask." The former Klamath Falls muscled turned on the heat with a powerful headlock that had Mr. Stoneface very definitely on the run, but the hooded brycinth used his time-worn methods of fouling to eventually take the match.

The crowd gave the "Mask" a razzberry at the end of the tiff that would have put even the Brooklyn Dodgers fans to shame while Piluso tried repeatedly to get at the veiled violet and questioned his ancestry in no uncertain terms.

It is fairly apparent that the masked might know few rassling holds of any worth and if he had not again been for his use of the ropes, he would undoubtedly have suffered an ignominious defeat.

Ernie Uses Headlock

Mr. Stoneface took the first flop in the second canto with a half-crab, but Ernie came rassing back in the next heat to apply a headlock that all but squeezed the "Mask" out through the top of his hood.

In the fourth round, Ernie tied the hooded hoodlum's head in the ropes and gave him a general working over that had the fans standing on their seats. The "Mask" unfortunately proved equal to the occasion, however, and through use of his head butts, which are his sole weapons, he took the final fall and the match with another half-crab.

Klamath rassling fans got another look at "Sneeze" Achiu's "Chinese sleeper" in the semi-windup when Tough Tony Ross drove out of bounds after rassling a clean, fast bout for the first three rounds.

Tony Gets Tough

With the count a fall apiece, Tony did an about face and began to employ the old leather. Achiu took exception to this treatment and slapped a "sleeper" on his rival to the wild and lusty acclaim of the fans.

The opening bout was a scintillating affair between Jack

Truman Will Not Attend Opening Baseball Game

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Truman's grave new responsibilities seem sure to prevent his throwing in the first ball at the season's opening baseball game here Monday.

He'll be busy that afternoon making his first public address as chief executive to a joint session of congress.

A week ago Truman said he might substitute for President Roosevelt in ceremonies at the opening game between the Washington Senators and New York Yanks. As president himself now he'll probably have to pass it.

Monday's game will be dedicated to the late president with spectators standing for a minute's prayer.

Unusual Events Leave AAU Swim Fans Gasping

Brenda Helser Ponders Potentialities Of Starter's Gun In National Meet

By JIMMY JORDAN

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP)—Brenda Helser, curvaceous brunette with a Hollywood contract, pondered today the potentialities of a starter's gun in a national AAU swimming meet.

Brenda lost her AAU 100-yard free style championship last night to Ann Curtis, indoor 220 and 440-yard champion, and winner of all outdoor national titles from 100 to 1500 meters last year. But back of the loss were some unusual events that virtually left fans at the national indoor women's championships gasping.

Miss Helser, who had turned in the fast time of the preliminaries, asked the starter in the semi-finals to "wait, please," just as he was about to send the first heat into the water. He fired his gun. Brenda stood by the pool. Two other swimmers who had heard her request plunged in seconds later.

Miss Curtis won the heat, in 1:03.8.

The officials huddled for a most an hour and then, after hearing Miss Helser's protests decided the defending champion would have to equal her preliminary time of 1:01.8, swimming alone, against time. Then she could compete with all her original semi-final field, except Miss Curtis, to get into the finals.

She swam against time in 1:01.5, and then beat the rest of the field in 1:02.9, a little more than two hours after her three tests, she plunged into the pool to defend her title. She led for 75 yards, but on the last 25-yard lap she tired, and Miss Curtis came in ahead by about 18 inches. Her time was 1:01.9, compared with Brenda's 1:01.5, 1:01.8 and 1:02.9.

Howdy folks:

Tie your hosses to the hitchin' rail and set for a spell while I give yeah the box score on the ridin' stock. Ernie Morgan is in town and the whisper is his new cow-hoss give him the country cure. He jist broke in two like a cow's foot and Ernie give out with some "floatin' power". He musta lit on his head fer he's nicked up considerable. Jo Matt has got some proud-flesh, and is she proud. Her hoss "Baby" is the mummy of a well formed, straight legged horse colt. Clarice Moon and Lyvina Mattoon each own little colts upholstered in yellow. Seems they're a hatchin' out pretty fast like now-a-days. Earl McNeely was a hawlin' a couple of palomino cows 'round in his trailer. Don't s'pose he's a startin' a milk route without bottles, do yuh? Ruth Rice got herself tie-up like a calf ready fer brandin'. She and one of them soldier fellers were welded by cupid's blow torch a short time back. Congratulations! Ruth, I dropped into the Willard las' saturday ta try and buy a ceagar and thar stood Webb Kennett. Seemed mighty good to shake his hand. Lou Serruys is all steamed up like a tea-kettle over a sorrel he purchased in Portland. Trot him out Lou and we'll size him up. Beth Chase is a ridin' Pat Hogue's string of ponies on a pancake saddle stink-bug fashion or what ever yeah call the jockey stuff. Somebody better git out the liment for she's a comin' home stiff I betcha. Well, sir, I gotta git on over to the bunk-house I'm so tired I cud sleep in a river bed. Bye now.

No games Saturday (cancelled due to Roosevelt's death).

By The Associated Press

Portland and Seattle continued to reign jointly today at the top of the Pacific Coast league as the Beavers knocked off the San Francisco Seals, 7-4, and the Rainiers took a 7-5 decision from the Hollywood Stars last night.

Sacramento moved into a third place tie with Oakland by squeezing out a 1-0 victory over Los Angeles while San Diego took undisputed possession of fifth spot with a 2-0 win over the Acorns.

Liska Hurlis Well

The Beaver's veteran Ad Liska hurled steady ball, granting 10 scattered hits, as the northerners continued their winning pace. Three Seal hurlers were unable to check the Portland attack.

Seattle took a 2-1 lead in its series with the Stars as young Alex Palica went the distance to post his third straight victory. The Rainiers counted three times in the fourth and twice in the fifth to gain a safe margin.

Best pitched game of the night was turned in by Guy Fletcher of the Solons, who allowed only four hits in blanketing the Angels. It was Sacramento's third straight win and the third of the season for Fletcher against a single loss.

Padres Top Oaks

Another top round performance was racked up by Carl Dumler, Padre hurler, who held Oakland scoreless while his mates were counting twice off Italo Chellini. San Diego scored its pair in the third inning on four hits and an Oak error.

Each series will be an abbreviated affair due to cancellation of games Thursday night and today in respect to the memory of the late President Roosevelt. Doubleheaders are scheduled Sunday.

Short Scores:

Turner Draws With Ryan

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14 (AP)—Leo (the Lion) Turner, 161, Portland, and Jackie Ryan, 155, San Francisco, took the best each had to offer last night before Referee Ralph Gruman called their 10-round main event a draw.

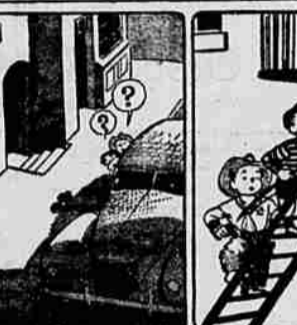

In a second 10-round go, Moose Kennedy, 200, Vancouver decisively whipped Dave Johnston, 198-pound Portlander.

In preliminary bouts, Alex Shipp, 136, Portland, scored a first round TKO over Jimmy Chenault, 135, Portland, and Norman Finch, 153, Vancouver, went to a six-round draw with Eddie Wharton, 145, Portland.
