progress "so eloquently proclaimed by Franklin Roosevelt" and called upon the nation to unite in their defense.

5. Declared that the great nations which mustered the force to defeat the fascist conspiracy must continue to cooperate in peace—"The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not dominate the people of the world."

6. Appealed for support in building "a strong and lasting United Nations organization" at the San Francisco conference for mastering the problems of peace through the triumph of justice.

7. Promised continued efforts toward a better social order "to improve the lot of the common people."

8. Asserted America will never forget the sacrifices of the men and women in the armed services.

9. Family Attends
The president and Mrs. Truman reached the capitol at 12:27 p. m., and were met by their daughter, Mary Margaret Truman.

10. They went immediately to the office of Speaker Rayburn where the president waited for the formal senate-house committee to escort him into the chamber to deliver his message.

11. Also in Rayburn's office was Anthony Eden, British foreign minister, with whom the president conferred earlier in the day at the White House.

12. The six-minute ride from the White House to the capitol was through streets virtually empty for blocks at a stretch.

13. 8-Car Procession
The 8-car procession, including press cars and those of the secret service, in one were Ed McKim, Omaha, Neb., insurance executive, and a member of Truman's artillery division in the first World War; Matt Connelley, his executive assistant as vice president, and stenographers from his old capitol offices.

14. A misty drizzle fell as the cars traveled down Constitution avenue. Last Saturday the funeral procession of Franklin D. Roosevelt had moved up this same avenue to the White House.

targets south of Bologna. At places the carpet of bombs fell within five and a half miles of fifth army lines.

The experience of the eighth army in its week-old offensive indicates the fifth will face bitter and bloody fighting in its effort to break out of the mountains south of Bologna and into the broad Po valley.

Choose to Fight
The Germans have chosen to fight for northern Italy despite military disasters which are ripping the reich apart.

Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, in a special order of the day, declared:

"German forces now are very groggy and only need one mighty punch to knock them out for good. The moment now has come for us to take the field for the last battle which will end the war in Europe. It will not be a walkover. The mortally wounded beast still will be very dangerous . . . but the end is quite certain . . . You who have won every battle you have fought are going to win this one."

Parents to Keep Children off Logs

A plea to parents urging them to keep their children away from the logs in Lake Ewauna was made today by Klamath County Juvenile Officer Harold Hendrickson.

The officer said he had received complaints from the Modoc Lumber company, advising that with the advent of warm weather, a number of little children have been playing on the logs near the plant. The youngsters ranged from 10 to 15 years of age, Hendrickson was told.

Priorities for the additional reservoir have been approved by the WPB, Duff reported.

ed the heavy, flag-draped casket from a gun caisson and carried it inside the garden to the graveside. Behind the caisson stood a horse draped in black, carrying only the boots and saber of a symbolic rider.

Mrs. Roosevelt and two of her children—son Elliott, an air forces brigadier general, and the daughter Anna—stood dry-eyed before the grave. To Mrs. Roosevelt's right were the top military commanders of the nation, members of the cabinet and of the supreme court. To her left stood official delegations from both branches of congress.

White-bearded George W. Anthony, 78-year-old rector of St. James Episcopal church in Hyde Park, walked slowly to the grave to intone his church's burial service. A spring breeze ruffled his white hair and plucked at his surplice as he spoke. His voice came sharp and clear on the morning air:

"To Almighty God we commend the soul of our brother departed . . ."

Evans will be in Grants Pass Wednesday, April 18, and in Medford on Thursday, April 19, to meet with slaughterers and growers there.

CALIFORNIA TAX ISSUE RESUMED

SACRAMENTO, April 16 (AP)—Resuming after the weekend recess and the cessation of controversy out of respect to the memory of President Roosevelt, the legislature today again had the question of taxation before it.

Also there was the prospect of a decision might be reached by Governor Warren's forces as to how and when the battle would be renewed for enactment of compulsory health insurance legislation at this session.

In the senate four tax bills, continuing another two years the 1943 reductions made in the personal income, retail sales and bank and corporation franchise taxes, were on the calendar. As in the assembly, the corollary issue of whether tax reduction would be qualified by amendments calling for state allocations to cities and counties for postwar construction, was likely to be brought to a showdown.

unit which left its fighting position "must be shamed by our women and children who in our towns are standing up to the bomb terror."

Then he warned the soldiers to watch "particularly the few treacherous officers and soldiers who, in order to secure their miserable lives, will fight against us in Russian uniform, perhaps even in Russian uniform."

Arrest Retreating
"Anyone who orders you to retreat and is unknown to you must be arrested immediately and if necessary, disposed of, whatever his rank."

"Berlin remains German," he declared. "Vienna will again be German and Europe will never become Russian."

He concluded with an appeal to "drown the bolshevik assault in a blood bath."

"At the moment when fate has eliminated the greatest war criminal of all times, the turn of the tide will come," he said.

SHERER TO TALK AT HEALTH MEET

Fred G. Sherer, division director of the social hygiene education division of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, will give a short talk on "Decent Living" at the Tuesday evening annual meeting of the Klamath County Health association, Inc. His talk will be delivered at 4:30 in the afternoon, preceding the dinner at 6:15 in the dining room of the First Methodist church.

Sherer has just returned from a trip of study and investigation in eastern cities, sponsored by the American Social Hygiene association.

The social hygiene committee will meet in the church parlors, at which time the initial program for Klamath county will be set up, and plans made for the work to be done here. Klamath county is one of three in the state chosen for an intensive campaign against sexual delinquency and venereal disease.

The Oregon Tuberculosis association has taken over the social hygiene education program at the request of the state board of health, University of Oregon medical school and the American Social Hygiene association.

The campaign will be based on a long-range six-point program, stressing the importance of reaching young people, personal premarital counsel, adult education through church, school and home; rehabilitation of youthful delinquents, maintenance of gains made against professional prostitution and control through knowledge of the cause and treatment of venereal disease.

destroyer and a gunboat. His Monday communique announced the losing of more than 1100 tons of bombs, including a significantly heavy 387-ton load on Davao, Japanese stronghold on Mindanao island.

Attacks Continue
A Japanese communique claimed suicide planes were continuing "savagely attacks" on U. S. ships around Okinawa, sinking 7 and damaging 15 since Thursday. But American reports indicated they had faded out after 265 were shot down in three days.

A major offensive appeared to be shaping up on southern Okinawa where lines have been stalemated for nine days. But it was doubtful which side would take the initiative.

Three Nipponese counterattacks, described by imperial headquarters as "suicide drawn-sword attacks," were broken up by American artillery. Another was routed by 96th division infantrymen. In one charge, the Japanese were armed only with pronged, six-foot poles.

There is another 400-plane B-29 fire raid on Tokyo this morning that leaves large areas of the city in flames.

If the Japs think it is tough, they should remember that they haven't seen anything yet. When our mighty fleets of bombers, that have laid Germany in ruins, arrive in the Pacific, they will find out what bombing is like.

enough, is to whip up the German people to such a peak of frenzied fear that they will ALL die in defense of him and his Nazi crew.

It is a sickening exhibition. A DYING tiger lashes out with frenzied last sweeps of its claws. In similar manner, the dying Nazi beast strikes at one of our bridgeheads over the Oder, at Magdeburg, driving our advanced force back to the western bank.

We hold our other bridgehead over the Elbe and PUSH ON from it.

The Canadians reach the North sea, trapping the Germans left in Holland. The British are within two miles of Bremen. To the south of Berlin, our Americans reach and pass Leipzig and push on toward Dresden. Farther to the south, we approach within a few miles of Nurnberg.

IN Italy, General Clark announces that the "last big battle is beginning." The Germans in the Po valley fight with stubborn determination. Our job is to SMASH them before they can get back to the mountain hideout.

THE Russians are pushing westward across Moravia, near Austerlitz and Brunn, wiping out the German-held, slave-operated Czechoslovakian war factories. We are nearing the Czechoslovak border from the west.

ON Okinawa, this morning's dispatches report a notable decrease in the Jap artillery fire before Naha. Our guns appear to be getting the best of the Jap guns.

Jap air attack against our fleet around Okinawa is dwindling away. In these attacks, many of them by suicide pilots, the little yellow men have lost 265 planes in two days and apparently are concluding that the cost is more than they can stand.

Something wierd is happening on Okinawa. AGAIN (they have tried it several times before) there is an attack by Japs armed only with SIX FOOT SPEARS, tipped with metal points.

WHY spears? They can't as yet be short of guns and ammunition. You explain it—if you can. This writer can't.

It must be just another queer quirk of the sub-human Jap mind.
