TULELAKE EXCHANGE NOW DIAL OPERATION

The Tulelake exchange of the California-Oregon Telephone company has been converted to dial operation. The cut-over was completed Monday, with the exception of several rural lines which will be converted to dial in a short time. The central exchange dial plant is located in the new Shuck building recently completed on B street. The telephone exchange will occupy the entire ground floor, and is thoroughly modern.

Dial switching equipment of the exchange is the latest all-relay type. Practically all of the subscriber telephone instruments are the latest model wall and desk hand set types. A two-position manually operated attendant switchboard will be operated as an auxiliary to the dial exchange to provide long distance and information service. The Tulelake Western Union office will continue to be operated at the telephone exchange business office.

An auxiliary private branch manual exchange is operated by the company at Newell, war relocation center. Service is also furnished to the army-owned exchange at Camp Tulelake. A private branch exchange is operated at Tionesta.

The California-Oregon Telephone company is an operating subsidiary of the Columbia Utilities company which operates exchanges at Merrill, Malin, Bonanza, Langell Valley, Eagle Point, Trail, Prospect and Camp White. The Merrill and Bonanza-Lorella exchanges will be converted to dial operation as soon as equipment becomes available. The Malin and Camp White exchanges have operated with dial equipment for some time, the latter being one of the largest and most modern dial exchanges in the ninth service command area. Operating headquarters of the two companies are located in Klamath Falls.

Lake County Leads State in Cattle

LAKEVIEW—Lake county now leads any other county in the state in cattle numbers, and in the past 10 years, cattle have increased 50 per cent while sheep have declined during the same period, 50 per cent, according to Vic Johnson, a week ago Friday night when the Shasta-Cascade sub-section of the American Society of Foresters met at Hotel Lakeview to discuss range conditions.

The county now has 73,000 head of cattle and in 1944 had 75,000 sheep.

Range Management Assistant John Kucera stated that a heavy increase in deer use of the Fremont range has taken place in the last 20 years. During this same period, the number of livestock grazing the public lands has decreased considerably, due in part to the fact that in years past the valley lands were devoted much more largely to the production of feed for livestock than now; also that the public lands were overstocked in livestock, which did not allow for the best grazing practices.

Angus and his wife visited last week with relatives of Mrs. Angus and the families of G. M. and Roy Powell of Keno. Ronald Angus was formerly employed by Weyerhaeuser Timber company and lived at Weyerhaeuser Camp 4 and in Keno several years. At the time of his induction into the service his home was in Klamath Falls.

Fred Herrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herrick of the Klamath Falls-Keno highway, has been home on a few days' furlough. He left April 7 to report back to San Diego.
