May 1—10:30 a. m. Klamath county first Homemakers' day. First church.

May 1 in the First Methodist church. Homemakers' day will resemble nothing so much as a feminine county fair, from what we have been able to gather. Examples of such have been carried on throughout the county during the year will be demonstrated on the great day for all to see. Every homemaker in the county is issued a special invitation, not only to see what has been done by home extension members, but hear Dr. James Miller, Portland, field representative of the Oregon council of churches, who made a long-to-be-remembered speaking tour of the country in January. His topic for "Homemakers' day" is to be "Ships of Citizenship", which is a discussion of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals.

HERALD AND NEWS—SEVEN

Regular Meeting

Members and guests of Friendship court number 11, Order of the Amaranth, met in the Masonic temple on Wednesday evening for the regular meeting, and to honor the past royal matrons and past royal patrons of the court.

Those honored at this time were Past Royal Matrons Bernice Finch, Francis Reeves, Eva Lee Long, Isabelle Milne and Blanche Schultz, and Past Royal Patrons M. C. Cassel and H. E. Jones.

The court was presented with an altar cloth as a reward for securing the most members in a contest between the courts of Oregon.

Installation of grand officers was later conducted by William C. Laurens, deputy royal patron of Oregon, Mrs. Claire Laurens, grand marshal, Mrs. Bernice Finch, aide to the grand marshal, and Mrs. Eva Lee Long, grand prelate.

Each of the past royal matrons and past royal patrons was presented with a gift from the royal matron, Charlotte Martin, and an appropriate verse was written to each.

Later, the program consisted of a tap dance by Jean Adams and Diane Oldenburg. A solo was presented by Dale Craig, accompanied by Madelon Adler at the piano, who also played the accompaniment for a vocal solo by Georgia Rose.

Refreshments were served by a committee including Frances Reeves, Florence West, Blanche Marks, Rose Jones, Marcella Raymond, Ethelyn Harmon and Blanche Schultz.

Keno
Mrs. Scott visited her sister, Alice Lytle, the latter part of last week. Mrs. Scott's home has been at Lincoln, Ore., on the Ashland highway.

The 7th, 8th and 9th grades observed "Hobo Day" on Friday, April 13, by appearing at school in appropriate garb. Two boys who failed to dress according to the ruling of the day "suffered" the penalty of having to eat a can of beans in front of their classmates. Geraldine Heublein was chosen as the most "hoboish" looking girl, and Richard Heublein and Don Johnson shared the honors among the boys.

The Murl Morgan family are moving to Jacksonville, Ore., this week. They have been living on the Spencer place for the past year.

Mrs. C. A. Waterhouse returned home Thursday after a week's visit with relatives.

The school has already made a good start on its 7th War Loan drive quota.

Mrs. Ray Atchison of the Keno store is under the doctor's care, following a fall from a step-ladder, which she received several days ago.

RECEPTION GIVEN

Honored at a reception given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Metler of St. Francis Park, were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Yancey, whose marriage took place recently in Reno, Nevada. The bride is the former Beverly Metler, and plans to remain in this city while her husband is on duty at Newport, Rhode Island.
