

LEADLINE ON AAA PAYMENT APPLICATIONS

All applications for first quarter dairy feed payments on the basis of milk and butterfat during the month of January, February and March, must be filed by dairy producers in the county AAA office before May 31.

Payment rates for April will be the same as those for the first quarter, 70 cents per hundredweight for whole milk, and 60 cents a pound for butterfat, cents a pound to recent work records at the county agent's office.

April rates previously had been scheduled to drop 35 cents a pound for whole milk, and 25 cents a pound for butterfat.

Burrill Short, chairman of Klamath county AAA committee, announces that the 1945 agricultural conservation program again offers assistance to livestock operators.

As in 1944, range features of the program are based on a plan of land management planning and land management planning which the county committee will carry out.

This year's grazing land practices will allow an allowance of 5 cents per acre for range improvements needed for conservation of forage and better distribution of livestock. Rates are on cost of improvements.

Improvements may include construction and repair, construction of dipping vats, corrals, guards, branding and line chutes, seeding of fallow on depleted range and land for use as supplemental pasture.

Provisions for adequate water distribution of livestock is included in the improvement program.

Other range conservation practices offered in the 1945 program include control of destructive plants, seeding, rodent control and the establishment and maintenance of fire guards.

YOUR GARDEN

By J. R. McCAMBRIDGE

We haven't received many questions from people who are growing gardens. Nor have we had anyone express their experiences with certain varieties or problems. These are welcome and would be appreciated as it is desirable to add some local interest to this column. Send your comments and questions to the writer, box 1000, Klamath Falls.

If you are bothered with cutworms in your garden last year it is likely that you will experience a visit from the same insect again this year.

Poisoned brain mash is the standard remedy for cutworms and when properly prepared and applied gives excellent control. The following formula is recommended by the Oregon experiment station:

Coarse wheat bran, 12 pounds, salt, 1 pound.

While arsenic or paris green, 1 pound.

Syrup or brown sugar, 1 pint.

Water added to make a crumbly mash.

The dry ingredients are first thoroughly mixed together. The syrup is added to a small amount of water and the syrup and water solution stirred in with the dry ingredients. Too much water makes the mash sloppy and hard to scatter.

It is wise to use such a bait before the garden is planted, broadcasting it freely over the garden area of an evening, as cutworms work during the night and early morning.

There are commercial baits available in the markets for cutworm control. These baits can be used effectively by scattering them about the plants after the garden is growing.

Be extremely careful when handling poisons! Clean all receptacles thoroughly. This bait is also excellent for earwig control.

Gardeners who have in the past purchased their transplants such as tomatoes, peppers, cabbage, and so forth, from Moeller's will be unable to get them this year. Labor shortage prevents these folks from rendering this service this year.

It is too late for those who have hot beds to start tomatoes, peppers, and egg plants. If you have, or plan to build a hot bed, you still have time to grow the following transplants: cabbage, cauliflower, brussels sprouts, lettuce, celery, cucumbers and squash.

There is an excellent table for seeding under glass and the handling of transplants in the "Klamath Garden Plan." We also have bulletins available for those who want them on how to construct hot beds and cold frames.

"Red" Bussman of Murphey's Seed store states that he will have a limited supply of tomato plants, cabbage, peppers and eggplant for transplanting. Don't set them out too early and lose them.

Starter or booster solutions are excellent to use when setting out any transplant. These solutions are made by mixing small, but exact, amounts of commercial fertilizers in water. These solutions can be made by using one ounce of such commercial fertilizers as 4-12-4, 6-10-4, or similar combinations, with each gallon of water. Do not get this solution on the foliage of the plants because it may burn them. This solution is used by applying a cupful in the hole at the time the plants are set in the garden. Benefits are that the plants start off quickly and without much, if any, apparent setback in their growth. More vigorous and rapid growth of newly set plants have resulted from these treatments.

Small fruits are excellent to include in your garden. Strawberries of the ever-bearing variety are good for this area. The specialists on strawberry culture tell us that the Rockhill variety should be re-set each year to get production, as this variety will not yield if left in a permanent place year after year.

Two other good ever-bearing varieties are Mastodon and Gem. Recommended red raspberry varieties are Latham, Chief and Ruddy. A fall-bearing variety, Ranere or St. Regis, is a good one. Recommended gooseberry varieties are Pixwell and Abundance; currants, Redlake.

Children's Diseases Increase in Week

PORTLAND, April 26 (AP)—Four children's diseases—measles, whooping cough, chicken pox and mumps—jumped 51 per cent in Oregon last week, the state health bulletin showed today.

There were 243 cases compared with the previous week's 161. They accounted for the six per cent overall rise in communicable disease in Oregon in the week ending April 21.

Weekly Market Trend

(Editor's Note: The following market information is supplied from materials obtained over the Government leased wire in the office of the extension economist at Oregon State college. The material is in the form of a weekly summary of the livestock market. It is not intended to replace day by day market reports.)

CATTLE MARKETS

Salable supplies of cattle on the North Portland market April 23 totaled 1750 head out of 2550 received. This was a slight increase in salable supplies over a week ago. The market was uneven with fed steers mostly 25 cents lower at $15.50 to $16.75. One short load of experimentally fed steers topped at $17. At Chicago trading was mostly steady with a top price of $17.85 on heavy steers. Stock cattle were scarce and firm at $12.50 to $14.

SHEEP AND LAMB MARKETS

Of 400 head of sheep received only 200 were offered, the same number as last week. Good to choice wool and spring lambs sold up to $16, with a common light springers down to $11. Spring lambs at San Francisco were scarce but quoted at $14.50 to $15.25. At Omaha slaughter lambs were down 25 cents, while at Chicago good to choice fed woolled western lambs were unchanged to 25 cents lower.

HOG MARKETS

While 1150 head of hogs were received over the weekend, only 400 head were offered locally, the same number as last week. The market was steady with good to choice butchers selling at $15.75. Feeder pigs were stronger with good to choice grades selling at $17.50 to $18. Hogs were also fully steady at Chicago.

RANGE CONDITIONS

Grazing conditions were generally good on lower intermountain ranges early in April. Conditions are not quite so favorable in the southwest. In Oregon condition of cattle and sheep on April 1 was about the same as a year ago, but below the long-term average for that date. Livestock in eastern Oregon are generally in better conditions than those west of the mountains.

GENERAL LIVESTOCK

Marketings of cattle, sheep and lambs have been heavy so far this year. Cattle slaughter is up about 2 per cent and sheep and lamb slaughter about 5 per cent, while hog slaughter is down more than 50 per cent compared with a year ago. Despite the heavy slaughter of cattle, calves, sheep and lambs prices have been at seasonally high levels. Prices of fat lambs at Chicago have reached the highest level in 16 years, while most grades of cattle and calves are higher than a year ago.

WOOL MARKETS

Interest in domestic tools has increased somewhat at Boston in the past week, following the awarding of contracts for military goods. Recent increases of about 5 cents, clean basis, on South American wool have reduced the spread between domestic and foreign wool prices, which now ranges from 8 to 15 cents in favor of foreign wools. Wyoming average length fine staple shrinking 63 per cent sold at $1.19, which is equivalent to a grease price of 44 cents. Half-blood staple sold at $1.18 or 47.5 in the grease. Graded Idaho staple wools were appraised at grease prices of fine at 45.2 cents, halfblood at 50 cents, three-eighths at 50.7 cents, quarter blood at 52 cents, low quarter at 50.2 cents.

Farmers Advised to Use 'Canned' Pasture

CORVALLIS, April 26 (AP)—Western Oregon farmers were advised today to take advantage of "canned pasture" to feed livestock at lower cost and with less work.

"Canned pasture"—an Oregon State college official's term for grass silage—officially reduces the amount of hay needed, and is the most efficient feeding method after fresh pasturage, Harold Ewalt said.

Ewalt, assistant extension dairyman, said some Oregon farmers have tried grass silage for the past five years and reported great success.

Hockey, the Irish national game of hurling, and possibly golf and cricket are derived from polo.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or painful passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable vitality.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They help bring relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Payment Limitation For Weed Control Eliminated by AAA

The $10-an-acre limitation on chemical weed control payments under the AAA program has been eliminated. Farmers can now apply for payment not to exceed 80 per cent of the cost of carrying out chemical weed control and should save their receipts for material purchased. These receipts should be turned in at the local AAA office when reporting work done.

Prior approval of the county committee is required for the practice and prior inspection for approval will be made by Harold Schieferstein, county weed control supervisor, upon request.

New Pine Creek

The Home Economics club met last Thursday afternoon at the Grange hall with Mrs. Lydia Bishop as hostess. She received a nice hostess gift consisting of a glass cake plate.

Nine members were present and since the president and vice president were both absent, the conventional formalities of regular business procedure were omitted. The ladies worked on towels and the bazaar quilt. Mrs. Alpha Smith will be the next hostess.

Members of the East Side Grange were treated to an interesting presentation of 4-H club pictures and a lecture by Harold Talley, club executive and organizer, on the construction work of the organization, at their meeting held in the hall last Saturday evening.

Ted Conn of Lakeview also spoke at some length on the purpose and usefulness of a farmer's cooperative and marketing to a farming community. He also touched upon the plans of the contemplated farmer's cooperative destined to be established in Lakeview for the primary benefit of the farmers of the valley. The usual potluck supper followed the program and members enjoyed a short social hour of dancing to the music of Mrs. Daisy Fleming, assisting Grange musician.

A farewell dinner party was given by Mrs. Frankie Williams for her daughter, Opal, last Saturday evening. Opal will leave soon for Reno where she plans to take a beauty course and will be gone for several months. Those attending were Elsie Turpin, Velma Arnette of Likely, Calif., Evelyn Cundiff, Doris McCrary of Canby, Calif., Don Butler and Kelton Vincent.

Mrs. Halle Cook was the buyer of the "Resident Plate" quilt which was recently auctioned off by the women of the Home Economics club of the West Side Grange. She was presented with the reward last Tuesday afternoon.

Verle Cook returned last Saturday from Portland where he passed his physical examination for army induction. He was told, however, on account of his age and the nature of his work he would be deferred for a few months for essential war lumber work.

Word has been received recently by Mrs. Erbie Hammersly that her brother, Donald F. Menefee, has been recently promoted to the rank of major. He is stationed at a base somewhere in the South Pacific and has been operations and supply officer there during the past year.

Eulah Veronica Franz, Klamath Falls beauty operator and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franz of New Pine Creek, was married in Reno, Nev., April 14 to Cpl. Charles Mawhinney, USMC, who is stationed at the Marine Barracks near Klamath Falls. At present the couple will reside in Klamath Falls.

It has been learned indirectly that Mrs. Anna Schroeder, who lives alone, secluded in her massive canyon domicile, has been suffering from poor health of late. It is feared by many of her friends that she has had another slight paralytic stroke that has affected her vocal chords; impairing her speech. She also has considerable difficulty in getting around it is reported. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gale, hydro-plant operators, and A. E. Stinson, who lives on the old John Lar-
