

OPA SERVICE PANEL STUDIED IN KLAMATH

Mary A. Johns, information specialist of the Portland district office of price administration, was in Klamath Falls Friday to discuss organization of a community service panel in this area. This group will be selected for the purpose of making certain that the OPA reaches the people who are concerned with the information. The threefold benefit of this panel will be through service to the community by spreading information, through service to the board, as a public relations department, and as a source of information for people who are concerned with advisory problems. In order to understand the situations that arise in the community with prices or rationing, the individual must know the whole story, after which the plans are built around the picture. Miss Johns pointed out that there is a noticeable number of violations in areas where the job is being done in community service, and that many of these are a result of lack of understanding. Miss Johns went on to say that the panel should include a cross section of the city, whose job it will be to glean all possible information from the OPA regulations, and pass it on to the groups represented by the community. She also pointed out that the panel should be made up of people who mean the kind of thing that community service says, "according to Miss Johns. The information specialist provided by the district office at Portland, dealing with items that are rationed, and subject of price control. These kits are to be used by members of the panel, as they contain prepared speeches on various topics that may be presented to a group or club, as well as lists of films that may be secured pertaining to the subject under discussion. Miss Johns concluded by saying that the war price and rationing board is a wartime organization. Although wartime rationing should not last indefinitely, individual lives must be planned to keep economy within control, because the first impulse accompanying total victory will be to spend lavishly, and unless caution is taken, a depression as was experienced following World War I will take place.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

German Underground Steps Up Activities Against GI's

By HAL BOYLE
WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, April 30 (AP)—Two American trucks came rolling down the dark highway, wheeling at high speed as all army drivers love to drive on traffic-empty roads.

Hidden by the night, a strong steel cable was stretched across the highway between two stout trees along a lonely forest stretch.

A second before his truck struck the cable, the leading driver got a blurred glimpse of it and ducked. The cable sheared through the cab and the truck swerved off the road as the truck behind it stopped with screaming brakes.

Nazi Loot Trucks
As two soldiers climbed out of the second truck to assist the dazed driver of the first a group of Germans swarmed from the forest and raked them with machine pistol fire. Hurriedly the Germans searched the trucks, took what they wanted, then fled.

Two members of the truck crews were killed, one was wounded, and the fourth crawled unnoticed along a ditch and reported the trap to the nearest army post.

By the time an armed patrol returned to comb the forest the Germans had escaped.

Other Incidents
This is just one of many incidents behind the lines indicating an increase in "werewolf" and terrorist activity.

With the German nation falling into military ruin on a grand scale, Nazi underground movements are intensifying their sabotage efforts.

They waylay and ambush lone jeeps. They halt and steal civilian motorcars. They attack and kill solitary soldiers who stray from camp. They distribute poisoned liquor and poisoned food. They cut wires and hide out with radios and send messages through the lines.

Army leaders do not regard these elements as a serious menace, but they are a considerable nuisance. And to the individual soldier they are sometimes quite disturbing.

By day Germany seems to be a land of smiling, fair and friendly people. They scowl less at the Americans now. And since the Russians' approach, the average German has shown a desire to warm up to the Yanks, whom he has found to be pretty easy going on the whole, with little vindictiveness.

Night Changes
But at night Germany is a dark, sinister and fearful land. The soldiers hate to drive in it except in convoys.

You think each bush or tree may hide a sniper, and it is a well founded fear. If you drive a hundred miles alone anywhere in Germany at night you have a fair chance of hearing a wild potshot whistling past.

Even more of a problem than the scatterbrained Hitler youths with their sabotage kits and packs of explosives, and the over publicized "werewolf" organization, are German soldiers in civilian clothing who have filtered through our army lines with groups of displaced foreign workers.

Many of these soldiers carry arms and know how to use them.

Many are angry and frustrated men looking for a chance to commit a spiteful deed merely to harass the army that whipped them. It will take weeks and months to find and imprison them all. Mostly, they work individually. But some are organized in bandit, looting gangs like our own post-Civil war guerrillas, cloaking criminals acts in the guise of serving a nation whose will they no longer represent.

For there is no doubt now of the German people's will toward peace. They want peace even if Nazi and militaristic leaders are planning already for another war by sending renegade Belgians and French agents back into their own countries to stir up dissension.

BOY SCOUTS WIND UP PAPER DRIVE

The Boy Scouts wound up their General Eisenhower waste-paper campaign Saturday with an attack on the paper situation at the Marine Barracks. Scout troop eight sent boys to the Barracks Saturday morning to tie and load more than 3000 pounds of paper. Members of several troops in Klamath Falls have collected approximately 100,000 pounds of wastepaper in March and April, while scout troops throughout the Modoc Council area have added substantially to this amount.

The campaign closes today, and each scout who has collected 1000 or more pounds of salvage paper will receive a General Eisenhower medal. Troops that average 1000 pounds per scout will receive a shell case from the European battle front. It is not yet known which Klamath troops will qualify, but several troops in this organization are nearing the required amount.

A second suit to recover money was filed by David Lofgren vs. W. E. Anderson. The plaintiff charges that he loaned Anderson $900 which he now wishes to recover plus 6 per cent interest from April 28, 1939.

L. Orth Sisemore is attorney for plaintiffs in both cases.

Anyhow, He Caught Someone

SEATTLE, April 30 (AP)—E. J. Riley, 21-year-old navy veteran of the South Pacific, nursed cuts and bruises today from mistaken identity.

In a department store Saturday a sales girl asked Riley to catch a thief, and the sailor set out in such vigorous pursuit he ran squarely through a plate glass door, then captured a man who was trying to capture the thief. Riley turned his suspect over to police but two civilians meanwhile apprehended the true culprit.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

When the San Francisco Conference ends, the delegates will have experienced their "first day of school" for the study of the complex problems of world peace, and for the development of a curriculum for a permanent school.

Everyone everywhere should clearly understand that this Conference is the most important international meeting in history.

We can be thankful that our nation is represented by wise and experienced statesmen with a sincere desire for peace, and we are sure the other nations have the same type of representation.

The Conference will furnish the leadership and the plan, but peace depends upon the peoples of the United Nations—upon their will to peace, upon their sacrifice for peace, upon their works of peace.

The difficulties are enormous, some of the problems cannot be solved immediately, and compromises will be made by all nations in order to arrive at conclusions that will be fair to all countries.

The Conference cannot create an enduring peace. But it will lay the foundations for a plan for peace to be put into effect as soon as possible, and which we and future generations of the world must maintain.

Let us be sparing in our criticism and generous with our encouragement and constructive suggestions.

And above all let us pray that the thinking people of the world will take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the "first day of school" and build continuously toward an enduring peace.
