

Berlin Largest City Ever Conquered In Human Wars

By RICHARD A. O'REGAN, Associated Press Staff Writer

Berlin is the largest city ever conquered in thousands of years of human struggle. Its 12-day capture was among the most savage and bloody in man's history. The city which was to have the world for 1000 years traveled over 341 square miles from the east to the west. Today this vast area—a landscape of crumbled stone and steel—stands as a monument to the death of Nazi Germany and the might of allied arms.

World's Fourth City

This was the greatest city of continental Europe—the fourth largest city in the world. Only Tokyo, remained as a great metropolis, prize for the allies in the war against aggression. In Tokyo's days were numbered.

In pre-war days, 4,335,000 people lived in Berlin, then one of Europe's mightiest industrial and commercial centers. Today the survivors roamed its desolate

Wife-Poisoner Given Life Imprisonment

PORTLAND, May 3 (AP)—Wilmer Carl Brinkhoff, who confessed to substituting poison-filled capsules for his wife's cold remedy, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday.

Brinkhoff pleaded guilty to second degree murder. His wife, Wilma, died last July.

Fate Sealed

Berlin's fate was sealed when the Russians swore to avenge Stalingrad. The night of the Soviet union swept the German conquerors back to their capital—1500 miles from the farthest
