

AN ICE BLUE BROCADE GOWN fashioned in the Victorian style was chosen by Mary Ann Grafton, daughter of Mrs. Harry Jackman, when she became the bride of PFC Norman Eugene Hand of the United States marine corps. Vows were exchanged at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Tuesday evening of this week, with the Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach officiating.

IDENTICAL GOWNS OF WHITE CHIFFON were worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Martin Packard of Pittsburgh, Penn., who is a sister of the bride, and Sara Margaret Stewart who was flower girl at the wedding. Both carried similar Dubonnet arrangements of red carnations with matching flowers in their hair. Mrs. Packard is the former Barbara Grafton of this city.

FOLLOWING THE CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY, the just-weds cut their four-tiered wedding cake with a sword belonging to Col. Bernard Dubel, former commanding officer of the Marine Barracks, who is now overseas. The young couple spent the week at the bride's summer home at Lake o' the Woods, after which they will be at home at 524 Eldorado while the groom is stationed here.

Mary Ann Grafton May Day Bride

In one of this spring's most beautiful weddings, Mary Ann Grafton, daughter of Mrs. Harry Jackman, became the bride of PFC Norman Eugene Hand, United States marine corps, in a candlelight ceremony read by candlelight in St. Paul's Episcopal church at 8 o'clock last Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach officiated. White stock decked the altar and a profusion of stock, white carnations and Easter lilies were in the church where many white candles burned. The altar rail was banked with papyrus.

The bride, given in marriage to Chester Davis of the marine corps, was charming in her gown of ice blue brocade, the full stiff skirt falling in a train. The yoke of the net was gathered at the shoulders and the sleeves were long and fitted to the wrist. The long veil was caught at the sides by antique pins of ivory. She carried Mrs. Franklin L. Weaver's ivory book with a cluster of orchids from which fell ribbons of white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Martin Packard of Pittsburgh, Penn., the former Barbara Grafton, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a white chiffon gown with white skirt and bows of the net made cap sleeves at the shoulders. She carried a formal arrangement of Dubonnet red carnations and white taffeta ribbons and the same flowers in her hair.

Sara Margaret Stewart was flower girl and her gown was a replica of Mrs. Packard's. She also carried a smaller arrangement of carnations with a ribbon of the flowers in her hair. The best man was PFC John Grafton, brother of the bride, who was last weekend from Fort Worth, Kas. There were men from the Marine Barracks, Sgt. Alfred Schamp, Capt. Larry Riley, Vincent Quinn and PFC Alvin L. Ushers, and the bride wore the dress blues of the marine corps.

Other tables were arranged with centerpieces consisting of dainty vases of sweet peas in pastel shades. Narrow ribbons of corresponding colors joined the centerpieces with each place card. Pink hearts were scattered about on the table, and miniature ring boxes containing hearts upon which were printed the names of Dennis and La Rayne told of the betrothal.

Corporal Lilly's home is in Cincinnati, Ohio, but at the present time, he is stationed at the local Marine Barracks.

Flower Show and Spring Tea Planned

Warm spring weather of the past two weeks has hastened the blooming of flowering shrubs and plants and the case of past flower shows, where the season prevented gardens from doing their best, will not be the excuse this year.

The annual spring flower show and tea, sponsored by the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club on Monday afternoon, May 14, should therefore be especially attractive with a wide variety of blooms from which to make arrangements.

This is the last meeting of the year, and will be held at 2 o'clock in the main auditorium of the city library. Mrs. Glenn Kent will preside at the annual business meeting at which time officers and standing committee chairmen will make their reports.

Members of the nominating committee will also announce selections for officers for the coming year, and serving on this committee are Mrs. Carleton W. Hornbrook, Mrs. E. D. Hamacher, and Mrs. William Spangler.

Mrs. Will Wood is in charge of the flower show and there will be more about this later. Chairman of the tea committee is Mrs. S. G. Clark, and proceeds from the silver tea will go to the United Service Organizations. All members are urged to call at some time during the afternoon.
