CITY ELECTION MEASURES GET COUNCIL OKAY

Three ordinances were passed at the third and final reading by the city council Monday evening.

Judge Harold Franey prepared the ordinances for approval by the council, as measures to appear on the ballot to be voted on June 22 in a special election.

The ordinances deal with a county-city jail, sewage, and annexation of new territory to the city boundaries.

E. A. Thomas, city engineer, proposed purchasing an oil spray tank, to oil dusty streets, used oil to be obtained from garages. The purchase of the $500 tank was approved, Mayor Ed Ostendorf and Thomas to determine which fund the money is to be taken from.

Two house movers permits were granted, four general licenses approved, and seven offers for property purchase approved. One purchase was rejected, the appraised amount not being offered.

Report of the dog pound for May indicated $287.25 collected. Bail and fines for the police department for May were reported at $2072 total, with 237 arrests made for the month.

BASHAM WITH 7TH
Pvt. Calvin F. Basham is one of the anti-tank men of the 22nd infantry regiment who were among U. S. 7th army troops which drove across the Rhine and pursued the Germans 65 miles east of the river before they met any organized resistance.

Men of the anti-tank company, commanded by 1st Lt. Leonard Debow of West Palm Beach, Fla., wear the Presidential Unit Citation ribbon for the breakthrough at St. Lo, France. Their division was the first to fight on German soil and the first to breach the Siegfried line.

FISHER IN GERMANY
Veteran artillerymen of the 6th army group in Germany, of which Pvt. Lee Fisher of Beatty is a member, sped through Germany for 13 days, moving behind infantry and armored spearheads of General Jacob L. Devers' 6th army group. They met the first organized resistance 65 miles east of the Rhine, and there put their 155-mm guns into action.

These cannoners of the 977th field artillery battalion have a record of fierce combat in Italy and France, shelling the defenses of Cassino, Anzio and Rome and German strongpoints from the Riviera to the Rhine.

(By Sgt. Cyril O'Brien, a Marine Corps Combat Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC (Delayed)—How a Jap on two Jims walked nearly a mile in his underwear to surrender to the marines was told today by Marine Pvt. Eddie L. Young, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young, Rt. 1, Klamath Falls.

Young, a patrol scout with the third marine division, was searching the barren north section of the island for remnants of a beaten enemy defense unit. Stopping near a ridge, he saw a Jap on its crest, clad only in a loin cloth and a cotton jersey.

The Jap waved, and seeing that he had attracted the marine's attention, raised both hands and came down to the patrol.

MORE SHOE STAMPS
WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—OPA said today American civilians repatriated from enemy prison camps will receive two shoe ration stamps, instead of one as previously.

Homemakers Encouraged To Correspond With Others

The State Home Extension Council, with the Associated Country Women of the World, is encouraging correspondence between homemakers of every nation. The purpose is to compare methods and short cuts in rural homemaking.

All Oregon extension women are members of the association. Lucy Lane, specialist in clothing and textiles of Oregon State college, received a letter from a young farmerette in Scotland telling about war conditions affecting farm and community life there.

Christina Montieth, of East Lothian, Scotland, mentioned listening to a radio broadcast from Portland, Oregon, on life in a lumber camp, which she found very interesting. Her news of the partial lifting of the blackout in Edinburgh on a Sunday night in September 1944, is of unusual interest.

Miss Montieth wrote: "Huge crowds gathered to see the street lamps lit again. Many mothers brought their children, some who have only known blacked out streets all their lives. Crowds went mad cheering, laughing, kissing each other and dancing. Scottish reels in the street."

In describing world-famous Princess street in Edinburgh, she said, "on one side you have the shops still displaying lovely Scot tweeds, tartans, hats, shoes and jewelry, for sale if you have the price and the coupons. The other side of the street is a deep gorge, landscaped into beautiful gardens, where concerts and open-air dances are held. Beyond, high up on the hill stands historic old Edinburgh castle, a gray fortress full of ancient memories and folk-lore."

Miss Montieth and her father have been operating their farm with occasional help of wounded veterans, and she says farmers are kept busy day and night growing food for the armed forces and the home front.

NOTIFICATION OF PRESENT STATUS ASKED

With the cessation of hostilities in the European theater of war, names of many men listed as missing in that area remain in that category. The Herald and News, which has maintained a list of missing men since December 7, 1941, is particularly anxious that next of kin advise as to the present status of these men. Some word may have been received which was not passed on to this newspaper. The war department may have advised next of kin that the man is now listed as killed in action or returned to duty.

Following is the list and relatives are kindly asked to advise The Herald and News news department as to any change. Otherwise the name will remain on the missing list. William Dieter, U. S. army air corps. Joseph F. Sexton, U. S. navy. Charles Ole Findholt, U. S. navy.

Robert W. Fensler, U. S. army air corps. Victor Hertager, U. S. navy. Ernest Steinselfer, U. S. army air corps. Winston C. Ketchum, U. S. army air corps. Donald V. Leslie, U. S. army air corps.

W. B. McFerrin, U. S. army. Neil W. Mayfield, U. S. army. Daniel D. Bartell, U. S. army air corps. Harvey Robert Muskrat, U. S. army air corps. William DeCew, U. S. army air corps. Richard Warren Wells, U. S. navy. Bertrand W. Hamilton, U. S. army air corps.

John W. Bowen, U. S. army. Raymond L. Enough, USMC. Harry Johnson, U. S. army air corps. J. C. Crabb, U. S. army air corps. George B. Rhinevault, U. S. army air corps.

Fish Lake Road Not Opened For Weekend
The road leading to Fish lake from the Klamath side was not opened as expected last weekend. Several people reported that the road is still blocked with snowdrifts.

The caretaker apparently did not have time to do the work necessary to clear the road. The Elk lake region, favored fishing spot in central Oregon, is under three feet of well-packed snow, according to word from Bend. The lake will open for fishing May 12, but Operator Myron Symons of the resort said he could make no predictions as to accessibility of the lake to motorists on that date.

Three tablespoons of cocoa plus a teaspoon of cooking fat can be substituted in most recipes that call for a two-ounce square of chocolate.

BPW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR COMING YEAR

Following a report from Martha McCollum, chairman of the nominating committee, new officers for the Business and Professional Women's club were unanimously elected at a dinner meeting at the Willard hotel Monday evening.

Hazel Morrison will serve as the president for 1945-46, Ellen Upp, first vice president; Jewel Cantrill, second vice president; Betty Jones, recording secretary; Madge Boley, corresponding secretary, and Bertha Geiger, treasurer.

Norma Miller, retiring president, was assisted this year by Miss Morrison, first vice president; Miss Upp, second vice president; Veneta Hunter, recording secretary; Mrs. Geiger, corresponding secretary, and Mabel Humble, treasurer.

A state board meeting at Salem, which will take the place of the annual BPW convention, will be held the weekend of May 12 and 13, according to an announcement from Mrs. Miller.

Anna Gamble, local circulation representative for the Christian Science Monitor, was a guest at Monday's meeting and showed the exhibit of Dumbarton Oaks articles that have been on display in the city.

Isabel Brixner told of the opening of bond headquarters for Surrender Day, Monday, and related a number of human interest stories in connection with the buyers. Mabel Humble gave a report of the rummage and auction sale held by BPW on Saturday afternoon.

During the business session, members voted to furnish cookies to the USO during the month of July, supplying 60 dozen a week.

Lt. Austin Reports At Naval Air Station
Lt. William R. Austin, USNR, reported for duty in the operations department of the Klamath naval air station Tuesday. Lt. Austin came from the naval air station at Tillamook where he has been on duty for the past 17 months.

Prior to reporting to Tillamook, Lt. Austin served for more than one year in the South Pacific aboard an aircraft carrier and he was awarded the Air Medal for services as a pilot in the U. S. navy.

Lt. Austin's home is in Yakima, Wash. Prior to entering the service he was a student at the University of Washington. His wife and 2-year-old son will join him here as soon as suitable living quarters are found.

Commercial fertilizers are made of potash, phosphoric acid, and nitrogen.

A CHALLENGE to American Women!

More than 36,000 wounded soldiers a month now come from overseas. Male hospital corpsmen are leaving for the battle fronts to provide life-saving care on and near the lines.

Women must fill the ranks at home. Wacs without experience are specially trained to do important clerical and technical hospital work.

The vital need is a challenge to womanhood and patriotism. Men who have bled for America require the care you can help to give.

The nation will honor you as a Wac. Valuable training, with a soldier's pay, leads to higher rank, greater earnings, a peacetime career. Benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights will be yours. You will work closely with high caliber men.

Serve your country and fulfill your destiny as a Wac, either in the Medical Corps or another branch of the Army for which you may be especially qualified. Apply today at the nearest Army Recruiting Office
