

PIG CROP MAY FALL GREATLY SHORT OF GOAL

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—This year's pig crop may fall more than 3,000,000 short of goal set by the war food administration.

A recent agricultural adjustment agency survey of farmers' production plans indicated a crop of about 90,000,000 head, compared with a WFA request for about 93,500,000 head. The goal is 6,250,000 head greater than last year's production, but about 28,000,000 below the record 1943 crop.

One of the factors contributing to the current meat shortage was a 30 per cent decline in 1944 hog production. This drop followed a market glut during the winter of 1943-44 during which many farmers were forced to sell hogs at prices they claimed entailed severe losses.

The WFA recently increased the government support under hog prices from $12.50 to $13 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, for good and choice butcher hogs weighing up to 300 pounds. This increase had been announced before the AAA survey was made.

The house food investigating committee meantime has urged WFA to raise the support price to $13.50 for hogs of all weights and grades. Such a program, it said, is deemed necessary to encourage maximum supplies of meats.

Even Governors Can't Find Houses

SALEM, May 10 (AP)—Governor and Mrs. Earl Snell still were unsuccessful today after a week of house hunting, and they have to vacate their present home by July 1.

The present home, owned by the Salem General hospital, has been sold to Bruce Spaulding, Salem attorney, who was Polk county district attorney and twice a democratic nominee for attorney general.

Interesting To Note!

By Phyllis Beardsley

It's told that someone had been barked at once too often. He had some large display cards printed, showing a vicious bulldog. If he had been ignored, snarled at, growled about or otherwise abused he would slip the card into the door of the store as he went out. Customers coming in would then see the picture of the dog and the words "CUSTOMERS, BEWARE OF THE CLERKS IN THIS STORE!"

SKILSAWS, Electric Drills and Drill Stands, Electric Grinders, Water Systems, Building Materials, Builder's Hardware, Hydraulic Jacks—but let's not make it an inventory. These and many other "hard-to-get" items are on sale at the KLAMATH BASIN COOPERATIVE.

One wonders what happens when a driver's license examiner goes riding with his wife; "be sure you are on the right hand side, no use the correct signal, put it in gear so that when the light changes, gauge your speed by the pedestrians, etc., etc." One does wonder?

Joining a Cooperative isn't like picking four leaf clovers. What I mean is, a good Cooperative isn't luck. It's the result of farmer's taking themselves and their problems seriously and then doing something about it.

They keep in mind, constantly, why they formed that Cooperative and expect and demand top service. If they get it, they are well pleased, if they don't, they find out why and see that the cause, what ever it was, is remedied.

It is interesting to watch one of the new does-everything-but-cook calculators. It makes your head swim just to watch it. The one we have has twenty places. We tried multiplying ninety million by ninety million and the machine did it, only we couldn't read it. Decided it was something like the national debt, and let it go at that!

OPA To Re-Study Gas Problem Of Buyers

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The office of price administration will re-study the question of increasing gasoline allotments for lumber buyers in the Pacific Northwest, Director Chester Bowles today wrote Rep. Homer Angell (R-Ore.). Congressman Angell had informed Bowles that restricted rations had hampered the industry.

AAA SOIL-BUILDING PAYMENTS REDUCED

Klamath county AAA committeemen have been informed by the state committee that payments for soil-building practices to farmers under the 1945 AAA program have been reduced to $170,000 for this year. Payments made on these improvements aggregated slightly more than $300,000 in 1944 and farm signs up for 1945 indicate that farmers plan to earn a total of $506,000. This has made it necessary for the county committee to make a payment adjustment within the county to meet this drastic decrease.

In order to stay within the state allocation it was necessary that the county committee reduce maximum earnings to any one operator, partnership or corporation to $3000, whereas the former limitation was $10,000. In addition it was necessary to limit the percentage payment on the amount earned. This was set at a tentative 40 per cent subject to reduction if necessary, or to increase if funds remain to the credit of Klamath county after the 40 per cent is paid. It is estimated by the committee that some additional percentage will be allowed as a number of projects will not be completed by farmers as originally agreed upon.

YOUR GARDEN

By J. R. McCAMBRIDGE
 Assistant County Agent
 Perhaps you are getting tired of being told how important it is to raise a Victory garden again this year. Maybe you had more lettuce, peas, beans and other vegetables than you could use or give away last year. Even so, the report just brought back from Europe by American representatives certainly increases the necessity for Americans to produce every ounce of food possible this year. Only food from America, according to these representatives, will save much of the war torn countries from utter starvation in some areas.

Here is what the new president, Harry Truman, had to say in a letter on Victory gardens sent last week to the chairman of a national advisory garden committee: "There is a greater need now than at any time since the war began for more and better gardens whether they are at home, in a community plot or in a company employ garden."

Planning before planting always ends with a good garden that will fit the family needs. Many people early in the spring develop an interest for garden growing and find later on the task to be rather time consuming. That is true. Gardens do take constant care once they are planted to keep the weeds out, keeping it watered properly and be ready to control pests when they start working on the garden.

Cutworms were mentioned in this column a couple of weeks ago and a bran bait formula recommended. This cutworm bait is the most practical means of controlling this insect where a large garden is involved. However, there are other means of protecting plants, especially those that have been transplanted and where the number is not large. This can be done by paper collars put around the plants to provide protection. You can easily make these collars. Take a piece of paper about the size and stiffness of a penny post; roll it into a cylinder about four times bigger than the main stem of the plant; put it around the plant and about one inch into the ground. It should extend about two inches above the surface of the soil.

Irrigation aids in producing vegetables of good quality and a person should give the garden an adequate irrigation when the vegetables are needing moisture. I know from my own personal experience it is a tendency to be sparing with the water when using it through a meter. Sometimes this is not economical in the long run as it affects the quality of the vegetables. In 1943 and 1944 the California Oregon Power company gave the garden growers of Klamath Falls a credit refund on their water used during the garden season. They have again extended this credit refund for the 1945 garden season.

Anyone using city water for garden irrigation should make application at the California Oregon Power company before May 25 to be eligible to receive the full credit refund on the water bill. You will need the size of your garden when making application for the refund.

I know that many of you gardeners have had some particular experiences in gardening that would be helpful to this column. Many of you have raised various vegetables, put them in your lockers, and found that they were not a recommended variety for freezing. Many of you have used various varieties and found them possibly superior to those we recommend. Others of you have used various means of irrigation and have found it superior maybe to your neighbors and really I would appreciate any notes of interest pertaining to gardens that you could send me.

Weekly Market Trend

(Editor's Note: The following market information is supplied from material obtained over the government leased wire in the office of the extension agent at Oregon State college. The material, in the form of a weekly summary of trends in the livestock market, is not intended to replace day by day market reports.)

Another decline in receipts occurred in the cattle division of North Portland Monday, but there was an increase in the salable supply of hogs and sheep.

CATTLE MARKETS
 The salable supply of cattle numbered only 1050 head, which was 430 less than both a week and a year previous. During the first quarter of this year receipts of cattle at North Portland totaled a little over 40,000 head, which was about 2400 head more than during the same period of 1944.

Trading in the cattle division at North Portland on May 7 was active and prices of fed steers advanced 25 to 30 cents. Several loads sold at $17.50 and one load at $17.75. Good steers were $16 to $16.75 and mediums $12 to $15.

The increase in salable receipts of hogs was only 100 head, making a total of 380 on sale. For the period January through March receipts of hogs at North Portland were only 3000 head, which was half those of a year earlier. Prices at North Portland continue at ceiling levels.

There were also a hundred more sheep offered at North Portland Monday, making a total of 1000 head. The market for spring lambs was weak to 25 cents lower but other classes were steady. Good spring lambs brought $15 and shorn yearlings $12.25.

Recent country contracting of lambs for June and July delivery in northern California has been on a basis of $13 to $15 for mountain lambs with a minimum delivered weight of 60 pounds. In Montana, a few whitetailed ewe lambs have been contracted at $12.50 per hundredweight and mixed whitetailed lambs at $12. Several bands of mixed black and white lambs for fall delivery brought $12.

SHEEP MARKETS
 Domestic wools were moderately active in the Boston market the past week. Sales of recently appraised Utah grade fine and medium wools, and original bag Arizona fine French combing wools were active. Immediate delivery was the best. Demand good for U. S. No. 1, size B, demand good, market steady. Alabama 100-lb. sacks, Illinois Triumpha, U. S. No. 1, $4.27-4.40; Louisiana 100-lb. sacks, Illinois Triumpha, U. S. No. 1, $4.40-4.60; Florida 100-lb. sacks, U. S. No. 1, $4.55; North Dakota Cobblers, commercial, $3.22.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—Wheat and flour prices were steady today in futures markets today under a bushel in commission house liquidation. Some recovery was made during the final hour but most of the list finished on the level.

Technical weakness following six weeks of rising prices was one of the factors given for the sell-off. A more important factor, however, was the buying side, until after release of a government crop bulletin.

At the finish wheat was 3/4 to 1 1/4c lower than yesterday's close. May 1945, corn was up 1/4c to 1/2c, May 1945, oats were down 1/4c to 1/2c, May 1945, rye was 1/4c to 1/2c lower, May 1945, barley was off 1/4c to 1/2c, May 1945.

Size of your garden when making application for the refund.

I know that many of you gardeners have had some particular experiences in gardening that would be helpful to this column. Many of you have raised various vegetables, put them in your lockers, and found that they were not a recommended variety for freezing.
