

SURVEY ASKED TO DECIDE ON DEER HERD CUT

A joint survey to determine justification of reducing the Klamath-Modoc interstate deer herd was proposed yesterday after a conference of the California and Oregon game commissions and federal forest officials at Alturas.

The meeting was called by the forest service, and followed an inspection trip in the Devil's Garden area to look over range conditions. Claims from some sources that the range will not support the deer herd at its present size have led to a discussion of the question of reducing it.

Officials of the two state commissions indicated a desire to look thoroughly into the problem before taking any action, and the joint survey was proposed. The matter will be given further consideration by the commissions. The California group indicated it would want a study covering three or four years before taking any drastic steps.

K. G. Denman and T. R. Conn, Oregon commissioners; Frank Wire, Oregon game supervisor, and John McKean, biologist for the Oregon department, were among those present. John Ebinger, Klamath Falls, president of the Klamath-Modoc chapter of the Isaac Walton league, attended from here.

Ebinger, in commenting on the meeting, said today that a report brought in by the forest service showed a count of 20,700 deer on the winter feeding ground both in 1943-44 and 1944-45. The hunter and predator kill and natural causes have apparently held the herd at a level in the period.

He added that he had heard no reports indicating any loss of deer from starvation on the range in several years.

PROTESTANT HEADS DEPLORE VANDALISM

PORTLAND, May 17 (AP)—Vandalism in a Jewish synagogue in Eugene was deplored by Oregon Protestant church leaders today as an example of "the worst kind of nazism."

A statement by Charles A. Sprague, president of the Oregon Council of Churches, and Dr. H. J. Maubetsch, president of the Portland Council of Churches, termed the incident "a shock to the Christian conscience."

"We deplore such acts of vandalism as an attack upon the freedom of worship fundamental to every other freedom in our democratic order," the statement said. "To our Jewish friends we extend good will in the name of our God and of all who have sacrificed and died in the defense of freedom."

Swastikas were cut into the synagogue walls and into a service honor roll. An American flag standard was overturned, the staff eagle broken and a velvet altar cloth torn.

In 1923, when the sarcophagus of the ancient Egyptian king Tutankhamon was opened, several pairs of gloves were found.
