Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY

THE effort to get a federal court term for Klamath Falls appears to be moving along smoothly. Bills have been introduced into both the senate and house by the Oregon delegation, and the prospects for favorable action are good.

EPLEY

In this situation, Klamath is fortunate in being able to ask for something without suggesting that it be taken away from somebody else. The bill provides for court terms at Portland, Pendleton and Medford, where they are already held, as well as at Klamath Falls.

A great deal of federal court business originates in the Klamath Falls area, and this is a logical point for holding of a court term. The proposed law provides for court to be held here on the first Tuesday in June. Under its terms, the marshal and clerk of the district court would provide for at least one deputy at Pendleton, one at Medford, and one at Klamath Falls.

New USO

IT was a long time coming, but the new Klamath USO set-up is a grand contribution to the hospitality program for service men in this area.

The roomy establishment, located in the Arcade garage building, is a vast improvement over the facilities which the USO has been forced to get along with so long on Main street. The old quarters, nevertheless, were made homey and comfortable, and performed a fine service, under both the Commandos, who started the job, and the USO which has carried it on.

Klamath now has one of the finest USO set-ups on the coast. It is an improvement that makes this still a better liberty town for service men, a factor worthy of the consideration of the armed forces and the government in the establishment of military facilities and in maintaining their personnel strength.

Publicity

OCCASIONALLY, we receive a visit from a delegation or representative of some organization concerning that organization's publicity. These visitations usually come when the idea has gotten around that for some reason, The Herald and News is not giving the organization the publicity its members think it ought to have.

The Herald and News has no prejudice against any organization, and it is our policy to treat organization news as fairly and impartially as we can. We want to carry all the newsworthy information about local groups. If we don't always do it, we at least have good intentions, and there is no purpose here to slight anyone.

Klamath Falls, like most communities of its size, has a large number of organizations, and like most organizations, they are publicity-minded. It gets to be quite a job to keep up with them. It is not possible to carry all the material which emanates from the organizations, especially that of a general nature which is sent in from the national publicity offices. But we do want to carry the truly newsworthy local news, and we are glad to discuss publicly with organization representatives at any time. At any rate, please don't get the idea we've got a hate on against any group. We haven't.

The War Today

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
 AP Foreign News Analyst

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S disclosure that the U. S. army in the Pacific ultimately will be twice its present size, and "bigger than our army was in Europe at its height," will fall on sorry ears in a Japan which already is apparently abandoning its hold on southern China and concentrating its strength in the north.

There are signs the Mikado's war-lords are adopting Hitler's strategy for his desperate last-ditch stand. This was to fight a delaying action and ultimately to retire into his inner fortress for a finish fight. Meantime he pinned his slender hopes on some circumstance causing a quarrel among the allies. Apropos of this, the well-informed British official military Commentator Veritas makes these observations:

Comparable To Germany

JAPAN at the present time finds herself in a situation not unlike that of Germany before D-Day. In a sense the Japanese are awaiting their own D-Day. They have suffered considerable reverses in outlying territories, their naval power has been crippled so that it can no longer protect their sea lines of communication or keep allied forces out of Japanese home waters, and allied submarines and air attacks have already destroyed a large proportion of their ocean-going transport.

"In these circumstances Japan is evidently falling back on the 'fortress' technique, and adopting the 'fortress' mentality. Just as Germany planned to hold the reich with its neighboring countries behind impregnable defenses and with supporting bastions in the Balkans, Italy and Norway, so, in very much the same way, the Japanese are proclaiming their intention to carry on the fight to the death in defense of Japan itself, with Korea, Manchuria and Northern China. Their large garrisons in the Asiatic Balkans (Malaya, Sumatra, Siam, etc.) will of course fight to the last, but it is not improbable that Tokyo is now resigned to their eventual loss.

Tries Split Tactics

WHEN Germany saw her enemies pressing in from three sides upon the inner 'fortress,' she conducted a high-pressure propagandist and diplomatic campaign to split the allies. In similar circumstances, Japan is doing likewise, and she evidently calculates that the confused situation in Europe (and in China) offers better prospects of success than in the case of the nazis."

try has one of their big men here. If you have a card you can call to see any of them, according to your interest.

The entire conference is run by young people and they are all eager to see something done. The committees work in the Veterans building and are at work all the time.

The British people are not sure about the election but they know it will be all right on the idea that if they have a change of drivers the car will be the same.

Of course, everyone is interested in the USSR and I spent most time with them. They sold me on quite a lot of things but most of the press men here find it hard to understand them. They have with them one general and one admiral. I met the sailors and I am impressed. When I said they are all sea dogs, one of them said it is a young country. They have much to be proud of and seem to wish to tell us the good side, and while they are ready to teach us their ways, they seem against or afraid of the freedom of the American ideas. We have no doubt much to learn from each other. I did not seem to find anyone interested in religion although it is free. I am told, however, there are many.

The USA has an imposing group here and we may be sure that all the rights of the common man will be cared for.

The dominant idea seems to be international. For instance, an ex-servicemen league has started and there are others.

The city is filled with our service men again, young men covered with decorations. The war goes on but the dove of peace is trying to find a home before the waters go down.

DAVID J. FERGUSON.

TREATMENT OF JAPANESE-AMERICANS

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To the Editor)—I'm no admirer of H. Ickes, but his ideas on treatment of American-Japanese are soundly American. Now I don't like the barbaric action of the pro-Japs any more than anyone else, but I do believe in fair play. And we don't need to worry about their punishment, for God tells us in Romans 12:19, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord." He takes care of that here with armies of Christian nations and in the hereafter, too.

B. Z. Smith to the contrary, it would be just as unfair to ask the Japanese-Americans to leave the country of their choice as it would be to deport the Smiths, Shultzes, Swensens, Pierses, Giancominis and Svehlaks because of their ancestry. There is no race on the face of the earth that has "no stain on its background," no nation whose history is clean.

Christ said: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone," "Love thy neighbor as thyself," and in the parable of the Good Samaritan defined our neighbor as anyone in need or being oppressed. He also taught us "to be in subjection to the powers that be"—so the majority of the Nisei have proved themselves better citizens than the white citizens who operate and patronize the black markets and keep striking for higher wages, thereby making prices raise to meet the higher production cost.

As for the opinion of our returning servicemen, it's my opinion they are more tolerant than B. Z. Smith! They know that the Nisei are no more to blame for Japan's treachery at San Francisco, Calif., (To the Editor)—There are 49 nations represented here and it has brought in over 7000 people, great and near great from all over the world. Perhaps the most famous here is Field Marshal Smuts of the union of South Africa. These people want to sell their country to you and are most free and friendly. They have a country about one third the size of USA. The great general is 75 today and has done more fighting and working for world peace than anyone here.

Of course, every hotel is filled and some have the entire building. On the 10th floor of the Mark Hopkins I ran into Jim Farley. He is still Big Jim and will no doubt be heard from again.

Innocent that I am, I tried to find the Finnish people and found them missing. I am sorry I expected so much from them. The Belgium people are fine, but like the British are upset at home and are in the middle of the stream in world affairs. The foreign minister is head of the delegation. In fact, every coun-

Infantry Day Proclaimed

WHEREAS, the United States is engaged in a war in which the infantry branch of the service is playing a vital role, and WHEREAS, the nation is engaged in a 7th War Loan drive to aid and assist in financing this tremendous struggle in the interest of world peace, and WHEREAS, the United States infantry has directed its "This Is Your Infantry" show to Klamath Falls to assist Klamath Falls and Klamath county in raising their quota in the present 7th War Loan drive, and WHEREAS, the citizens of the city of Klamath Falls are deeply indebted to the United States infantry for this courtesy and in order that the citizens of the city of Klamath Falls may show their appreciation for this generous gesture on the part of the infantry of the United States,

I, as mayor of Klamath Falls, county of Klamath, Oregon, do hereby declare and proclaim the 5th of June, 1945, as Infantry Day in the city of Klamath Falls, Ore.

Signed: ED OSTENDORF,
 Mayor of the City of Klamath Falls,
 County of Klamath, State of Oregon.

Real-Life Quiz Program Carried On At USO-TAS

"Say, will you help me figure out how I could maybe get to Los Angeles and back on a three-day pass?" "Would you get us a hotel reservation in Boston?" "Is there any chance of getting a plane reservation to St. Louis? How much would it cost? How long would it take?" "Would it be hard to find a place to live around Great Lakes?" "My daughter-in-law has to change trains in Chicago, and she has three children. Could you fix it so somebody helps her?"

These are samples of the questions you'll have fired at you when you work at a USO-Travelers Aid desk, according to Beverly Richardson, director of the local USO-TAS office. "But you don't have to know all the answers," says Miss Richardson. "You just have to know where to find them. And you'll get a lift out of being able to give one to others."

Klamath Falls women who could serve at such a desk, even two afternoons or evenings a month, are urged to call at the local office at 627 Pine, or telephone 7063.

A training course for USO-TAS volunteers will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings, June 4 and 6, at 7 o'clock in the ladies' room of the Elk's temple. Martha Scarlett, regional supervisor of National Traveler's Aid association, will conduct the first session, which will present the history of Travelers aid and USO.

POTATO GROWERS SET LABOR MEET

Klamath Potato Growers association has scheduled a meeting for Tuesday, June 5, at 1:30 p. m. to be held in Henley high school auditorium.

O. B. Hardy, area representative of the war food administration office of labor, will discuss government contracts with sponsoring associations for obtaining Mexican nationals for the potato harvest.

Growers interested in getting Mexican labor will be given an opportunity to sign contracts with the association for help needed this fall.

Ben Tucker, emergency farm labor assistant from Oregon State college, will discuss migrant labor situation. All growers are invited to attend this meeting by County Agent C. A. Henderson.

Fort Klamath Man Faces Fire Charge

Charles M. Noah of Fort Klamath appeared in justice court this morning charged with throwing away lighted material in a forest. He was arrested by C. C. Williams, inspector for the state forestry department.

A small blaze was started, but was spotted by the lookout of the Klamath Indian service. The Klamath Forest Protective association was immediately notified and quickly extinguished the flames.

Noah was fined $25 and costs by Justice J. A. Mahoney.
