Margie Marie Brown Is Bride Of Sunday

TULELAKE—A June bride of Sunday, June 3, was Margie Marie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown of Tulelake, who exchanged vows at the First Presbyterian church in Klamath Falls with Corporal Sylvester O. Francisco, United States marine corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Francisco of Tulsa, Okla.

The candlelight ceremony was read at 3:30 in the afternoon by the Reverend P. C. Alderson, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church in Klamath Falls. The church was decorated with large arrangements of yellow tulips, bridal wreath and candelabra amid a setting of palms. Immediately preceding the ceremony Patsie Brown sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," and Pharmacist Charles Barry sang "At Dawning." The two vocalists were accompanied by Mrs. Elbedt Veatch at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a wedding gown of white marquisette with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was caught with a halo of seed pearls, and bordered with a ruffle of lace from the wedding gown of her maternal grandmother, which she wore 65 years ago. Her bridal bouquet was of talisman rosebuds with white satin streamers. Dorothea Brown was maid of honor for her sister, and wore a floor length dress of blue crepe. Her arm bouquet was of pink and white carnations, and she wore a circlet of white carnations in her hair. The three bridesmaids, Mary Jean Jones and Mrs. Jean Bond of Tulelake, and June Herrold of Klamath Falls, were attired in identical dresses of pink net over taffeta, and their bouquets were fashioned of lavender sweet peas.

Sergeant Major Joseph Sharp, United States marine corps, stood as best man for the groom, and ushers included S/Sgt. Clayton L. Black, T/Sgt. R. E. Drennen and PFC J. C. Priddy, all of the Marine Barracks.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brown wore a pale green suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Francisco, mother of the groom, chose a black suit with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The newlyweds received their guess in the church parlors, after which a reception was held at the home of the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Brown of 704 North Ninth in Klamath Falls. A three-tiered wedding cake in white and silver and topped with a bride and groom was cut by Corporal Francisco and his bride, after which the four members of the bridal party served the confection to the 75 guests. The table was covered with a gold cloth and tall white tapers, and pouring were Mrs. Eldon Kaylor and Mrs. Buford Kaylor, cousins of the bride. Vocal selections were presented by Mrs. P. C. Anderson and her 10-year-old daughter, Barbara.

For going away, Mrs. Francisco chose a wool suit of aqua blue with white accessories. She is a graduate of the Tulelake high school with the class of 1941, later attending Walla Walla State college where she majored in dietetics. She was affiliated with the Alpha Gimiel Ain sorority.

The groom entered the service in 1941, and prior to that time, he was a student at Collegedale, Tenn. The young couple plans to live at 2651 Tornage in Klamath Falls.

Arriving here for the wedding with Mrs. Francisco was a family friend, Mrs. May Weldon, also of Tulsa. The bride's sister, Dorothea, arrived from Los Angeles where she is a student nurse at the Glendale Sanitarium.

Thursday Bride

At seven o'clock on the evening of Thursday, May 31, Bonnie Jeanne Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Moore, exchanged vows with William W. Atwood, United States marine corps, at the Sacred Heart church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length dress of white with a fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Cecelia Flocchini was the maid of honor, and chose a formal of light blue taffeta with a bouquet of pink carnations. Sergeant Hal Calhoun, United States marine corps, stood as best man, and Father Beard officiated at the simple ceremony.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on 2316 California avenue. The bride and groom cut their three-tiered wedding cake, which was later served to a few close friends and relatives.

Welcome Party

The bachelor officers quarters of the Klamath naval air station was the scene of a welcome party for Commander and Mrs. Phil L. Haynes on Friday evening, June 8. Guests enjoyed dancing to music furnished by the marine band, and a buffet supper was served at 10 o'clock.

Commander Haynes arrived in Klamath Falls on May 9, from the Hawaiian Islands to assume duties as commanding officer of the station, replacing Commander Darron, who is now attached to the naval auxiliary air field at Arcata, California.

Informal Recital

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mushen on Del Moro street was the scene of an informal recital on Friday evening, June 8, at 8 o'clock, when ten of Mrs. Mushen's piano pupils, most of them young children, presented a musical program for their parents. The rooms of the Mushen home were decorated with arrangements if lilacs, tulips, iris and bridalwreath.

Following the recital, which was the first for most of those taking part, refreshments were served to the guests.

Janice Barnstable Honored At Parties

Guest of honor at several affairs during the past few weeks has been Janice Barnstable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barnstable of 123 High street, prior to her marriage to Corporal Bert Hagler, United States marine corps, which has been slated for Friday, June 15.

Mrs. J. F. Penrod and Mrs. J. L. Thompson were co-hostesses at a delightfully planned miscellaneous shower on Thursday, May 31. The affair was given at the Penrod home on 415 North Sixth street at eight o'clock in the evening. The shower gifts were arranged on a table beneath an umbrella, and refreshments were served at a later hour to Mrs. Ida Odell, Mrs. C. H. Barnstable, Mrs. L. D. Gass, Mrs. H. M. Brown, Mrs. A. R. Wilson, Mrs. Carl Hagel, Mrs. Ima Ehs, Mrs. Amy Connor, Mrs. J. C. Hunt, Mrs. Lena Hackett, Mrs. Helen Schneyder, Betty Champagne, Willa Lynch, Dorothy Gilchrist, Dorothy Baxter, Lily Darby, Olive Wilson, Martha Keller, Florence Walker and Gladys Wardwell.

On Thursday afternoon of this week, Mrs. L. D. Gass, Mrs. John Yadon and Mrs. Earl Redman were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect. The party was given at the home of Mrs. Gass on 429 North Third between the hours of 2 and 5, and the rooms were beautifully decorated with arrangements of spring flowers, including columbine and iris. Pouring at the tea table, which was centered with a lovely floral bouquet, were Mrs. Holly Monroe and Mrs. L. K. Phelps.

Forty guests were bidden to honor Miss Barnstable, and each brought a favorite recipe which was placed in a filing cabinet for future reference.

Flier To Wed

Friends in Klamath Falls have been told of the engagement of Lieutenant Glenn A. Stover, United States army air corps, and Nadine Lassiter of Lonoke, Arkansas. The announcement of the betrothal is the culmination of a friendship which began when Lieutenant Stover was taking cadet training near Lonoke several years ago.

The groom-elect is the son of Mrs. L. K. Wade of Roseburg, Oregon, and was formerly employed by the First National bank in Klamath Falls. A graduate of the Merrill high school, he enlisted in the air corps in 1942, and returned from a tour of duty in the European theater of operations in September of 1944. Since that time he has been stationed at the Lockbourne army air base at Columbus, Ohio.

Tentative wedding plans have been made for the late summer months.

Service Wives

Wives of servicemen in Klamath Falls are cordially invited to attend the regular weekly meetings of the Service Wives' club every Monday at 1:30. The meetings are to take place in the women's lounge of the new USO building on Eleventh at Walnut, and it is hoped that as many as are able will attend. The first meeting is to be held on June 11, at which time a calendar of events will be planned by the members.

The women's lounge was especially designed for wives of servicemen as well as servicewomen. This room boasts numerous facilities for their convenience, including dressing tables with cosmetics, a utility room with wash tubs, irons, ironing boards, washing machines and sewing machines, and a particularly nice kitchenette, which was built for wives who wish to whip up a snack for their husbands — or for themselves while waiting for him to get off duty.

In the event that there are not enough interested wives, the club will not be allowed the use of this more than attractive room—so everyone is urged to turn out on Monday at 1:30.

Third Birthday

Barbara Gayle Grove was the guest of honor at a party in celebration of her third birthday at her new home on 512 North 8th street. The party, which was given by her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Grove, was an event of last week. The refreshment table was centered with a large birthday cake, and those who were invited to share it were Mrs. Fred Fleet and Kathleen and Freddie, Mrs. Kallie Walters and Jimmie Dee, Mrs. Mildred Fisher and Johnny Leonard of Louisville, Kentucky, Maureen and Norman Jean Lyon, Beverly and Bonnie Grove and the guest of honor.

Surprise Shower

Surprised at a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday, May 29, was Grace Jones, bride-to-be of Corporal Elmer Jacobson, United States marine corps. The affair was given at the home of Clara and Genelle Lynch of Tulelake, who, with Imogene Rowan, were hostesses between the hours of 2 and 4:30 in the afternoon.

The Lynch home was decorated with several lovely bouquets of spring flowers. An attractive floral arrangement centered the refreshment table which was flanked on either side by tall tapers, and also held a bridal figurine and a wedding cake, topped with the names Jack and Grace. Card games were played during the afternoon.

On the guest list were Mrs. Ruth Birtwhistle, Mrs. Mildred Eberhardt, Mrs. N. O. Copeland, Mrs. Velma Long, Mrs. Lillie Stallings, Mrs. J. O. McCuan, Mrs. Mable Rowan, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Gladys Ganger, Mrs. Herbert Floyd, Mrs. Irene Markham, Mrs. C. Good-Bys Said

With a great deal of regret, good-bys were said to Mrs. Guy Harmon at a party given by Mrs. Ted Reeves at her home on Melrose street on Wednesday evening.

Bridge was played with Mrs. Clemens Lundy winning high score. Refreshments were then served to Mrs. Jack Schulze, Mrs. Frank Marks, Mrs. Glen Inman, Mrs. Clemens Lundy, Mrs. Paul Farrens, Mrs. Ralph Howard, Mrs. Raymond Reeves, Mrs. Myrle Adams, Mrs. E. M. Raymond, Mrs. Harmon and the hostess.

The refreshments were followed by a handkerchief shower for the guest of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Harmon and daughter, Charleen, will make their home in Eugene after July 1.

Sojourner Club To Install Officers

Installation of officers who will serve during the next six months will be held at the regular meeting of Sojourners on Wednesday, June 13, in the Willard hotel, and they will be feted with a party by the retiring officers, who will be hostesses for the day.

These informal parties are quite in keeping with the friendly spirit of Sojourners, whose purpose it is to meet and greet newcomers who may be here for only a short while, or who may have come to make Klamath Falls their home.

This marks the eighth year since Sojourners was organized in this city. It is sponsored by the chamber of commerce, while the management of the Willard hotel has graciously provided a place for the regular meetings and social gatherings.

Carried quite regularly in this column are notices to the effect that newcomers are welcomed at Sojourners, and whether or not they are contacted by a member of the club, they are cordially invited to come if they wish. After attending three meetings, a membership card is given, and once a Sojourner, always a Sojourner. Since the club is purely a social organization, only a small fee is collected upon registering at each meeting. This goes into a fund for cards, flowers, necessary supplies, or for some social function. Picnics, teas, and dances are given at intervals to which each member may invite several guests, and these affairs are eagerly anticipated by all concerned.

Personalities in the club have changed many times during the past eight years, as from the small group of twelve members, the club grew to well over one hundred before the war—since that time there have been many new faces, but due to changing war conditions, people do not stay permanently in one place. Nevertheless, there has always been the nucleus of a thriving club with the intent and purpose of the original club still intact.

Officers are elected twice yearly, and those to be installed on Wednesday are Mrs. Andre Lambert, president; Mrs. R. G. Fisher, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Larkin, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Petty, treasurer.

The retiring officers include Mrs. Byron Friedman, president; Mrs. W. B. Yates, vice president; Mrs. Andre Lambert, secretary; Mrs. Louis Sauer, treasurer. It is hoped that a large attendance will be present at this meeting in which the new officers assume their duties.

OFFICERS OF THE SOJOURNERS CLUB who will serve during the next six months will be installed at a ceremony to take place at the Willard hotel on Wednesday, June 13, and at the same time, the women will be feted by the retiring officers, who will be hostesses for the day. Incoming officers include (left to right) Mrs. Andre Lambert, president; Mrs. R. G. Fisher, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Larkin, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Petty, treasurer.
