Security Depends On Forests

CERTAINLY our very security depends upon the production capacity of our forest lands. Keeping Oregon and Klamath green means more than just keeping the state and county beautiful...

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON
WASHINGTON, June 12—In a very quiet way, Mr. Truman has started choosing judges on a democratic party basis rather than for their New Dealism.

If he has any intention of reforming the federal judiciary, however, it will require his lifetime at least. In four terms, Mr. Roosevelt chose about 85 per cent of the present judiciary.

You can begin to see a fresh line being started by Mr. Truman, in the facts down behind his first three choices. These set what seemed to be strictly a party rule, holding that where the New Dealers are locally in control...

Truman's first appointment was Donald Gilliam as federal judge of North Carolina. Gilliam is not a reactionary and not a New Dealer, but was recommended by a southern anti-New Deal democrat, Senator Bailey.

Hannegan Intervenes

FOR the Minnesota federal judgeship, the inside story is that Democratic National Chairman Bob Hannegan intervened between factions to name another man against a Biddle candidate. At any rate, Mr. Truman nominated Daennis Donovan, of Duluth, who was attorney for the Oliver Iron Mining company...

The third appointee for the eastern district of Michigan, Arthur A. Koscinski, Detroit, was charged with being a communist although the charge seems to have been false, judged by the evidence here.

These three all have in common the backing of their state, senatorial or congressional organization, although strictly only one is a New Dealer. They also have in common the opposition of the departing attorney general.
