

HT LUMBER PPLY HOLDS NSTRUCTION

scarcity of lumber and other building materials continue to delay home building or new construction otherwise permitted by opening of war production controls on construction. The W. C. Bell, managing director of the Western Reconstruction association in Portland to Klamath lumber.

Number is still a vital war effort. The armed forces in vast quantities not to help speed the war in Japan, but also to box the tremendous amount of lumber here and in Europe. The fact that production is down because of man and equipment shortage, is easy to see that while production board wishes the controls on civilian production as quickly as possible there will be a period before the industry will be in position to help the public advantage of the war production board action," continued.

In these limits, the industry is prepared to do everything it can to help its customers. It is needed repair and maintenance work. The relaxation of construction control order increases the amount of work on home construction, including repair, maintenance, or remodeling, from $1000, both for farm buildings, as well as for town and wellings. It steps up the amount from $1000 to $5000 on commercial stores, shops and service establishments, from $5000 to $25,000 for industrial buildings. At the same time, the war production board has found it necessary to exercise its tight control on the distribution through its order L-335, which permits only a very small amount of lumber in dealers' inventories to be sold to homes for maintenance, repair and remodeling.

Prayer For Rain Answered In Hill Country Of Georgia

METTER, Ga., June 13 (AP)—There was rejoicing here today. Many hillbillies.

The devout said: "The Lord saw fit to answer our prayers. We are humble." The devout, incidentally, includes all the 2500 people in this town.

Not since May 13 had this community, this rich agricultural county, had a rain. The crops were ruined, or near ruin.

Yesterday was set aside as a day of community-wide prayer service. Stores and shops were closed so people could go to the service.

Then, before the end of the day, the rains came—drenching rains which refreshed the hungry red Georgia earth, gave life to the wilted and burnt tobacco and corn stalks.

MORE PERMITS FOR SELLING LIQUOR EYED

SACRAMENTO, June 13 (AP)—Issuance of additional hundreds of liquor selling permits would be sanctioned by law under the swing bill which was favorably reported to the assembly by its public morals committee today.

The measure which already has passed the senate provides that one on-sale and one off-sale permit can be allowed for each thousand of population based on the most recent U. S. decennial or special census.

The board of equalization ruling, the same limitation was observed during the last few years but the population count was that of an earlier census. The swing bill would write the ruling into the law and the maximum number of licenses issuable would be augmented by the state's wartime population increase, estimated in excess of 1,500,000 persons since 1940.

Further, by a discretionary provision, the board could issue still additional licenses, if there is satisfactory evidence of a population increase in any county greater than 1000 persons since the last special census.

Approval of the bill was given by the public morals committee at a five minute, informal hearing held on the assembly balcony.

TIES OF EMPIRE

A railway cross-tie is a carefully fabricated item of equipment. Manufactured from selected timber, ties utilized by Great Northern are sawed to specific size and pressure treated with preservatives to lengthen life.

There are 3,250 ties to every mile of Great Northern's main line track. Approximately 1 1/4 million new ties from the timberlands along the railway were added in 1944.

Literally, they are the ties that bind Great Northern to the vast empire it has served so dependably in peace and in war.
