after the invasion opened Sunday, already is being used by artillery spotter planes. It is being developed as a bomber base, within 800 miles of Singapore.

Easily Taken
Fourteen miles south of the mainland invasion beach at Brooketon, the 3600-foot Brunel airfield also was won easily. It is two miles outside the capital city of Brunei on which the diggers are closing from two sides against enemy mortar, machine-gun and rifle fire.

But the Nipponese on Labuan island, which commands the entrance to Brunei bay, showed more fight as the invaders drove within two miles of the 3600-foot Timbalai airfield. It is nearly five miles from the original beachhead outside Victoria town.

After recovering from the apparent early surprise—the enemy obviously expected an invasion at Jesselton 60 miles northwest—the Nipponese started using mines and boobytraps extensively on both Labuan and the mainland.

through by the Indian people themselves.

Want Cooperation
"But they (the British government) are willing to make possible some step forward during the interim period if the leaders of the principal Indian parties are prepared to agree to their suggestions and to cooperate in the successful conclusion of the war against Japan as well as the reconstruction of India which must follow the final victory."
"This is not an attempt to impose a constitutional settlement," Wavell explained in his broadcast. "I propose with full support of his majesty's government to invite the Indian leaders to take council with me with a view of formation of a new executive council more representative of organized political opinion."

Superforts Lay New Jap Traps

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 (AP)—Mine-laying Superforts flying midnight sorties along the west coast of Honshu, main island of Japan, laid new hazards for Nipponese shipping, Tokyo reported today.

Ten B-29s planted mines in the Sea of Japan off the coast of Niigata prefecture, 160 miles northwest of Tokyo. Ten others mined the Suwo sea of the southwestern end of Honshu and at the western end of the island sea.

Each formation planted explosives for an hour, Tokyo radio said in a broadcast heard by the federal communications commission.

CHURCHILL adds that "British, U. S. and Russian relations have improved greatly"—particularly in the last week or so with the breaking of the deadlock over Poland.

He adds that there is no real basis for a misunderstanding with the French over Syria, as "we have no idea of trying to supplant our French friends in Syria; we have no wish to steal our friends' property ANYWHERE in the world."

It appears today that the London Poles are NOT reconciled to the Polish settlement (which has obviously been done Stalin's way) and are planning to put their case before the world. They are said to be clinging to the hope that the Moscow conference on Polish affairs (scheduled for tomorrow) will blow down and maybe come to blows over the difficult problems that will be up for settlement.

THE London Poles are OUT. Quite naturally and humanly, they want to get back in. They may be the cream of the Polish statesman crop. This writer doesn't know. You have to LIVE in a country to know things like that.

But it is extremely doubtful if anybody in this country, or even in Britain, will want to start shooting in Europe again just to get the London Poles back in Poland.

WE learn today that we'll apparently use three American armies—the 3rd, the 7th and the 15th—in occupying our part of Germany. That gives a slant on the size of the job.

Our part of Germany is SMALL as compared with the Russian part, and there is some complaint among office chair warriors that we have been SLIGHTED. Most of us ordinary people are quite willing to give Russia the lion's share of the job of occupying and rebuilding Germany. IS SHE IS WILLING TO TAKE IT.

Roosevelt Loan Query Continues

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The house was advised today the treasury had not allowed a $228,500 "bad debt" tax deduction claimed by John Hartford, reported to have lost $196,000 on a $200,000 loan to Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the house ways and means committee told the house he has been so informed by the treasury department.

Doughton's statement was followed immediately by a demand by Rep. Woodruff (R-Mich.) on the floor that the ways and means committee make a thorough investigation of the matter.

Man Injured In Attack By Bull

James C. Stevenson, formerly of Tulare and now owner of the Meiss ranch near Macdoel, Calif., was injured Tuesday when he was attacked by a bull and trampled. Stevenson is president of the Butte Valley Cattlemen association.

He was reportedly in a corral with the bull when the animal became enraged and charged him. Stevenson dodged behind a tree, but not before he had been seriously bruised and his lip badly cut. A dog assertedly nipped at the bull and distracted the animal until Stevenson could take cover.

'ETS ATTENDANTS' ABILITY QUERIED

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Testimony that the army assigned a neurotic doctor and poorly qualified attendants to the Veterans hospital at Northport, N. Y., developed today during a house committee's investigation of the institution.

Col. Louis Verdel, manager of the hospital where 15 soldier-attendants were court-martialed recently on charges of abusing patients, told the house veterans committee that half of the more than 300 soldiers assigned by the army to the institution are unfit for the work.

Neurotic
Of five army doctors there, he said, one has been "examined by the army and given a diagnosis of neurosis."

This doctor, Verdel testified, "reported for duty on a Monday, went on sick leave the next day and I haven't seen him since."

A subpoena for John H. Ale, manager of a Dayton, O., Veterans hospital, was delayed a few days. The committee was informed he is ill. Rep. Ramey (R-Ohio) a member of the committee, told the house earlier in the week that veterans are "used like dogs" at the hospital. Ale probably will be called in about two weeks.

Physical Violence
Col. Verdel, superintendent of the Northport hospital, was subpoenaed by the committee for questioning after Veterans of Foreign Wars investigators reported "sickening examples of physical violence" inflicted upon patients there.

Earlier testimony before the house group disclosed that 15 negro soldiers, stationed at the hospital as attendants, had been court-martialed for abusing patients and that five former civilian employes are facing criminal charges on the same complaint.

Group "Deserted"
One spokesman for the London group suggested that his exiled government had been deserted outright by Britain and the United States in return for Russia's relaxation of her veto demand at San Francisco.

The London exiles steadfastly refused to recognize the authority of the Big Three powers to supervise the formation of a new provisional government. One spokesman said that "never will our people recognize a so-called government formed in this manner."

New Slant Given By Salesmen Here

The modern magazine salesman is not "working his way through college"—something new has been added.

The Klamath chamber of commerce, issuing a warning against unauthorized solicitors, announces that there is a solicitor in town covering business houses with a magazine proposition, opening his talk with "I'm from the chamber of commerce."

"The chamber of commerce here is a reputable organization," Charles R. Stark, manager, stated, "and has given no solicitors permission to use its name."

No less than six calls were received at the chamber Wednesday from business people checking the salesman's "reference."

Portlanders See Marines Parade

PORTLAND, June 14 (AP)—Sixteen thousand Portlanders watched a fast-stepping marine drill team from Klamath Falls Marine Barracks march down the street in a colorful war loan parade last night.

While a blimp circled rooftops overhead, military units and Red Cross cadet nurses joined the parade honoring the two survivors of the famed two Jima flag raising.

The Klamath Falls drill team, which gave an exhibition in the war loan show following the parade, was headed by Lt. Cecil Brown. A drum and bugle corps led by Sgt. John Marchesi and a marine band with Tech. Sgt. James Kenney as drum major also represented the Klamath Marine Barracks.

The marine band was expected to reach Klamath Falls tonight after brief appearances at Hood River and The Dalles. Correspondent Al Donking that 250 were killed before dawn and the remainder were hunted down behind crags and killed by noon.

American casualties were light despite fierceness of the fight.

The action occurred near Hangatuku, eastern anchor of the Yaeji Escarpment line, when the Japanese attempted to retake Hill 95.
