

New Klamath USO at 11th and Walnut Offers Varied Services to Military Folks Stationed Here

Meeting in the powder room of the women's lounge to "freshen up" before returning to their base are Waves M. J. Anderson, Sp. (S) 2/c. and Dorothy Spence, Y 2/c. In this part of the building, which was planned especially for the comfort of the service women and wives of servicemen, are various types of entertainment features, including a piano, radio, writing desks, and attractive furniture. All of the cosmetics for the powder room were donated by two local drug stores.

Waiting for her husband in the women's lounge is Mrs. Robert L. Fahnestock with baby, Ruth Ann, and Mary Lou. Among the many attractive and useful facilities which are offered, in addition to those indicated on the sign, are showers, a utility room and a kitchenette, which may be used for snacks or private parties. This room was especially designed for the convenience of Waves and service wives.

One of the popular means of passing time is playing cards, as is shown here by George Johnson, AOM 3/c. USN. All types of games and recreation equipment are available at the information desk, and in the main lobby are pool and ping pong tables which are constantly in use. Also in this large room are writing desks, floor and table lamps and any and all types of comfortable furniture. (All photos by Guderian).

Mayor Obtains Meat For Cherry Pickers

THE DALLES, June 26 (AP)—Restaurants here today listed meat, poultry and fish on menus or the second consecutive day, courtesy of Mayor George Stadelman.

The cafes were scheduled to close yesterday because of ration point shortages, but Mayor

Stadelman announced extra food would be shipped here to feed cherry pickers crowded into town for the harvest season.

SECRETARY DIES
PORTLAND, June 26 (AP)—Dr. Franklin Winfield Hollister, 63, past president of the Oregon Dental association and recently its secretary, died in a hospital here yesterday. He practiced here for about 40 years.

Dorothy Anderson, SK 3/c. is taking advantage of a little extra time by making use of one of the many conveniences which are found in the utility room. Boasting such wartime "unobtainables" as washing machines, sewing machines, irons and tubs, this room is a particular favorite among the service wives, many of whom are unable to secure housing with such facilities.

Hygiene Director Plans Program Here

F. G. Scherer, director of social hygiene of the Oregon Tuberculosis association of Portland, is here to discuss plans for the county program. He will meet with the Klamath county committee of the health association at a luncheon to be held at the Willard Wednesday noon.

Scherer will be at the Willard hotel the remainder of the week, and will be glad to discuss association activities with individuals or club and civic representatives, desiring to incorporate health information in their coming programs.

Returns—Ruth Rogers returned recently from the University of California at Berkeley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of 821 Eldorado.

Snapped in the music room, which is perhaps the most popular section of the building, were George Tenhaaf and W. G. Hadden. Service personnel may congregate here to enjoy either the radio or the many and various records, ranging from classical to "jive." Behind the music room is the library in which are found recent editions of best sellers, as well as all types of magazines, newspapers and periodicals.

TRAIL BLAZERS

Imperishable history was being written in the West 140 years ago this month by two courageous young men—Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark.

On their trail-blazing journey to the Pacific they sought, but failed to find, a pass through the Rocky Mountains in northern Montana.

That elusive gateway through the mountains was discovered 83 years later when Great Northern Railway was advancing westward. Through now-famous Marias Pass the railway's trains cross the Continental Divide less than a mile above sea level.

The pioneering services of Captains Lewis and Clark have been commemorated by a monument which stands along the steel trail of the Empire Builder near Meriwether, Montana.

A trail blazer in its own right, the railway joins the American Pioneer Trails Association in observing the 140th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark Expedition.
