

Keno

The bond drive for the Keno district is progressing quite satisfactorily. Working with Mrs. Lena Holliday as chairman of this district, are Mrs. Ralph Johnston and Mrs. Joe H. Foster.

Bonds may be purchased at the Keno post office, which will save time and gas for the bond buyers of this community.

The Keno community has given nearly 150 of its boys and men and women to the service. Pictures of about 50 of these service people are on display in the windows of the Shell station at Keno. The display was planned especially for Memorial Day, but will remain until the close of the bond drive and possibly until after the Fourth of July, Mrs. Foster states. Anyone having pictures of relatives or friends, who are or have been in the service, and who have lived in the Keno school district, is invited to bring these pictures to Mrs. Foster at the post office to be added to the display for the remaining days of the picture exhibit.
