CHANGE MADE IN SAFEWAY STORE HEAD

T. M. Medford, for 10 years past district manager of Safeway stores, Klamath Falls, has been promoted to the management of a larger district, embracing Salem, Eugene, Corvallis and the Coos bay area. Medford will make his home in Salem.

In the decade he has been in Klamath, Medford has been extremely active in local affairs and civic organizations. He was president of the Kiwanis club, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the Reames Golf and Country club; member of the advisory board of the Salvation army; honorary member of Future Farmers of America at Bonanza and Henley; for two terms director of the chamber of commerce.

Medford took much interest in 4-H club work. In 1937-38 when the junior livestock shows were just getting started, Medford's personal touch in this project, through Safeway stores, did much to give impetus to the growth of the program.

Medford's successor here will be M. J. Hauser, known to his acquaintances as "Mike," comes here from Pendleton where he was district manager for Safeway in the eastern Oregon territory.
