

Martha Shops and Shops

I guess it's safe to say that it is summertime now in the Klamath country. . . And since we really didn't have any Spring we can look forward to one of those long, beautiful Indian Summers throughout the Fall months. . .

Whytals

WHEN I was walking towards Whytals the other morning, the loudspeaker in front of the bond headquarters was blaring Gershwin's "Summertime" . . . Which was very appropriate considering the temperature.

It was a relief to walk into the cool store . . . Where Wanda Speer was unpacking some boxes of "Summertime" dresses . . . On the off chance that they won't be gone by the time you read this, I'll describe them . . . Because good looking cottons are getting harder and harder to find.

There was one box of striped two-pieces . . . Made of men's shirting . . . Two styles in this material. Both are trimmed with organdy eyellet ruffles around the neckline and on the cuffs of the sleeves.

One has a darling nipped-in waistline, and a peplum . . . In gray only.

The other one is more tailored . . . And comes in red and gray.

Sizes 9 to 15 . . . Price $19.95. Then, too . . . There were boxes of those smart seersucker suits . . . Which always have that "out of a handbox" look, I think.

These are checked . . . In several different color combinations . . . All good looking, but it was a green and brown check that intrigued me most.

Sizes in this group range from 10 to 20.

All of these dresses will launder beautifully . . . And wear and wear . . . Wanda told me these seersuckers are $19.95, too.

She also unpacked a few rayon meshes . . . And rayon prints . . . From Marjone . . . Very pretty and cool-looking . . . In larger sizes.

I think I'd better add . . . (As the circus barker would say) . . . Hurry, Hurry!

Whytals . . . As you know . . . Is on the corner of Main at Ninth Street.

Long's

TUESDAY morning I walked in the front door of Long's just as the expressman was walking in the back door . . . Only he was struggling under a load of boxes, cartons and what not.

I asked Madge Long what all these intriguing boxes, etc., contained and she told me that most of them held Fall merchandise and wouldn't be unpacked for several weeks.

One of them, however, she was anxious to open . . . And I don't wonder . . . Because it was full of beautiful Corde bags which are on display by now.

They were all in black . . . And just got a mere glance. Madge wanted to show me the bags on display in the front of the store . . . And . . . really . . . Right now Long's certainly has a nice selection of bags . . . Saddle leathers . . . Alligator grains . . . And lots of others.

A few days ago they received a shipment of black and brown faille bags . . . In the most novel shapes and assorted sizes . . . Madge told me that several of them are copies of very expensive Corde purses.

There are pouches . . . Handled ones . . . And underarm envelope styles.

These faille bags are lightweight . . . And ideal Summer accessories . . . And yet . . . you could carry them smartly into Fall . . . Including tax, the price is $5.94. See them at Long's . . . 719 Main Street.

Town Shop

HERE is an amazing selection of playclothes at The Town Shop . . . You wouldn't expect a store of that size to carry so many different kinds . . . But then, of course, they're going to move into much larger quarters before long.

One of the play suits in the window, you may have noticed, is be-ruffled especially for girls who are flatter than they want to be in certain places . . . And the effect achieved by the ruffles is most flattering . . . If you know what I mean.

There are others of this type, too. The Town Shop features the famous, nationally advertised lines put out by Catalina, Gantner and Cole of California . . . In halters-and-shorts, midrifts-and-shorts (some with additional skirts), play suits and play dresses . . . And separate shorts, too; some with suspenders for easy wear with short blouses.

There are plain and figured cottons, rayons and beautiful cool jerseys . . . Just too many to mention specifically . . . You'll have to see them for yourself to understand what I mean by "amazing selection!"

Prices of the playclothes range from $2.79 to $16.95. At The Town Shop . . . Main and Fifth Streets.

Art & Gift Shop

FROM what I have seen in my wanderings around the stores, I would say the biggest selection of flower containers is to be found at The Art and Gift Shop . . . But you can't appreciate the variety and choice unless you drop in and see for yourself.

There are vases, bowls, jardinières, centerpieces, in pottery, ceramics, china, lucite, clear glass and milk glass . . . Flower holders for every place in the room, in every room and outside.

In wall vases, for instance, you'll find beautiful, cute or odd shapes . . . Tiny pots up to very large cornucopias . . . Really just about every shape that could be used on a wall . . . And priced from 65c to $15.00.

The shop has most attractive ivy bowls, too . . . In metal or mirror-back holders . . . And in all sizes.

But, as I said, you ought to go see this big selection of flower containers yourself . . . There really are far, far too many to describe in detail . . . And just a few of each type. At The Art and Gift Shop . . . 519 Main Street.

Curry's

CURRY'S has just received a shipment of Early American toiletries . . . Which is good news for those of you who are fond of "Old Spice" and "Friendship Garden."

Connie Baert told me that the store now has a larger stock of these products than it has had in many a moon . . . Bath salts . . . Toilet water . . . Dusting powder . . . Soap . . . Lovely sachets.

The popularity of "Old Spice" and "Friendship Garden" is well established . . . It's been several years since they were first advertised nationally. And they're best sellers, because people keep coming back for more.

Some reasons for this might be that the line is so attractively packaged . . . So quaint . . . Decorated with powder-wigged figures . . . Scattered with colonial bouquets . . . The old-fashioned bottles . . . And the lovely old-fashioned fragrances. And, of course . . . Any of the items make such nice gifts . . . As you probably know from experience.

All of these Early American toiletries are priced at $1.00 plus tax . . . (A nice change from prices with a lot of confusing odd numbers!) At Curry's . . . The Friendly Drug Store . . . At Ninth and Main Streets.

FUNDS FOR 10 WAR AGENCIES ELIMINATED

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Appropriations totaling $48,264,450 for 10 home front war agencies were eliminated in the House today from the $752,000,000 war agencies bill in a renewal of the fight over FEPC.

The items stricken out on parliamentary moves for supporters of the fair employment practice committee in an effort to win eventual approval of funds for that agency were: Office of war information $18,000,000; national war labor board $13,100,800; office of defense transportation $7,000,000; office of economic stabilization $198,250; office of scientific research $70,000,000; office of inter-American affairs $14,000,000; war production board $35,000,000; war shipping administration $367,000,000; office of strategic services $20,000,000; petroleum administration for war $3,968,200.

No move was made to eliminate $25,000,800 for the war relocation authority, which also was vulnerable to the parliamentary move that removed the others.

Yanks Attack Jap Troops In Indo-China

CHUNGKING, July 5 (AP)—American fighters "concentrated on the Japanese withdrawal from French Indo-China through Hainan Strait yesterday killing more than 200 in small craft skirting Tonkin Gulf, a U. S. communiqué from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said today.

Authorities said there was no indication of large scale withdrawals from Indo-China, pointing out the small size of the force attacked.

The Chinese high command announced a series of successes including capture of the important highway center of Fashien, 210 miles southeast of Luichow, and an advance to the Lojurg area 20 miles northeast of Luichow.

"We were born five years too late, Morimer—we are a generation of civilians too young for the war, doomed to a life without romance!"

CAUTIOUS DRIVERS HAVE SAFE HOLIDAY

Motorists apparently were especially cautious over the Fourth of July with no serious collisions reported to city or state police.

One accident occurred early Wednesday morning in an unused alley between Willow and Elm when a city patrol car driven by Raymond G. Smoock ran over Manuel Gil, employe of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company, and broke his arm.

According to the city police report, Gil was intoxicated and had reportedly passed out in the alley when the patrol car drove through. Gil's arm was broken and he was taken to Hillside hospital for treatment.

Robson Placed On Probation Here

Arthur C. Robson, 18, who pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny, was put on probation for three years or until such time as he is inducted into the armed forces by Circuit Court Judge David R. Vandenberg this morning.

Robson pleaded guilty to stealing 2000 oat sacks valued at $400 from Zuckerman brothers. He has a long juvenile record here and was recently released from Woodburn school for boys. W. Lamar Townsend was attorney for Robson.

MAN CONFESSES STABBING WIFE IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, July 5 (AP)—Delective Capt. James Lawrence said Charles Ray Ross of Knoxville, Tenn., confessed he stabbed his 19-year-old bride to death here today.

Lawrence said Ross gave a statement that he killed his bride, Wilma Margaret Ross, because of "insane jealousy."

Ross was questioned after the woman's body was found near a railroad boxcar near the waterfront today. He first said four navy sailors had overpowered him and attacked his wife. "It all came up over insane jealousy," Lawrence quoted Ross as saying. "I had caught her stepping out several times on me before, and I caught her stepping out last night. I had been good to her and she had promised to quit it."

Lawrence added: "Ross said he had been talking it over with his wife last night and said that the stabbing occurred after they had descended the stairs to the waterfront at the foot of Seneca street. He said he didn't remember but vaguely of the fatal blow and added: 'I sort of went out of my head.'"

Ross and his wife were civilian employes of the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton. Lawrence said Ross' parents were Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Ross of Knoxville and that the young people were married there last February 27.

OPA May Become Issue In Campaign

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 5 (AP)—The possibility that price controls and rationing may become prime issues in the forthcoming political campaign emerged today as the nation's governors took a hand in the growing food controversy.

Although they acted on a non-partisan basis in pledging cooperation to solve the dinner table shortage problem, there was every indication as the 37th annual governors' conference ended here yesterday that the topic will be one for future political debates. Behind the scenes there was talk that the OPA may well become the center of attack for opponents of the democratic administration, unless something is done soon to straighten out the red point tangle that has left butcher shops bare of meat in many sections of the country.

Two Babies Born Here Over Fourth

The stork made two stopovers in Klamath Falls over the Fourth of July holiday when a boy was born at Klamath Valley hospital and a girl at the Hillside.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Reiling of route 2, box 746, and tipped the scales at 8 pounds 1 ounce.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schmeck of route 3, box 1042, became the parents of a girl weighing 5 pounds 1 3/4 ounces.

Locating Venus Simple, Reports Local Astronomer

By A. B. EPPERMAN Many persons would like an opportunity of seeing the planet Venus in broad daylight, but they are at a loss to know just where to look. Friday, July 6, will be a day on which anyone can find it by following a few simple directions, for on that date the planet and the moon will be very close together. Find the moon and it will be no trick to find Venus. The moon will be west of the sun and will be due south at approximately 11 a. m. Let us consider the distance in a straight line from one prong of the moon to the other as being one inch. Then Venus will be about three or four inches higher in the heavens, and perhaps a little west.

about Venus being visible to the naked eye, or that it gets so close to the moon. This latter fact happens about once a month.

Shade the eyes from the sun, or stand on the north side of a building when viewing Venus to save eyes from injury. Take a little time when looking for it and remember that the thing you are looking for is about 120 million miles distant. In fact, this view is the greatest distance the unaided human eye can reach in daylight and know what it is looking at.

Gasoline pipelines operated by one overseas engineer petroleum distribution company carry 11,000 barrels every 24 hours over a 200-mile line.

Louisa May Alcott, famous as an author, also was a nurse in a federal hospital during the Civil War.

Without too much technicality, Venus will be less than one-half of a degree from the moon at some hour of the day. Furthermore, there is nothing new
