

Recent Bride Is Visitor In Merrill

MERRILL—Mrs. Gordon Frazier of New York City and Philadelphia is a guest here this week of her mother, Mrs. William Arnold and her father, Harry Martin. She is the former Vivian Martin and was the bride on January 13 of Tech. 3/c Gordon Frazier, U. S. navy, now at sea.

For her wedding the bride wore traditional white satin with full train and a full veil of rose point lace, heirloom in the Gordon family. Her flowers were gardenias.

The ring ceremony was read by Dr. Robert P. Frazier, pastor of St. Giles Episcopal church, Upper Darby, Pa., suburb of Philadelphia where the ceremony was held. Dr. Frazier is an uncle of the groom. A second uncle, Lt. Col. William West Frazier, U. S. army, gave the bride away.

The groom is the son of Lt. Col. Francis Frazier, U. S. army, now in charge of press relations in the Pacific theater of war with headquarters at Manila.

Mrs. Frazier leaves here July 6 for Wyoming where she will join a government geological survey unit which will seek geological information in that area until August. A member of a similar party last summer, Mrs. Frazier stated while here that five major oil companies are now operating in the region covered during that time by the party of which she was a member, operations being based on information gathered by them.

She goes in August to Washington D. C., where she will do government research work at the Smithsonian Institute, considering the development of mineral resources in the Pacific area as a postwar project. She will complete her work at the institute in January and then will resume her teaching at Barnard college, girls undergraduate school at Columbia university where she has been an instructor for several months teaching general and structural geology.

During her visit here she returned to the University of Oregon, Eugene, to complete study for her master's degree and will work for her Ph. D. degree at Columbia. Mrs. Frazier is a graduate of the Malin high school.

Her husband, upon his return from sea duty, will be stationed in Washington D. C., where he will take an administrative course in preparation for transfer in October or November to the Pacific where he will set up an advanced naval communications base. He has visited here on numerous occasions.

Phyllis Crawford Wins State Award

Phyllis Crawford, 1417 Worden, a member of the 1945 class at Sacred Heart academy and winner of the local essay contest sponsored by the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has received word that her essay has also received the highest award in the state competition and is now eligible for entry in the national contest.

In the local contest, she received $10, for first place in the state $25, and the national award for first place is $1000.

Subject of the essay was "What Americanism Means To Me." and Phyllis used as her sub-theme "My Town In America," the story of an average small town with its local government, its patriotic spirit, its freedom from racial prejudices, and its freedom from fear and want as known in countries overrun by oppressors.

Especially well-done is her closing paragraph as follows:

"How great is this feeling of Americanism? It was born in the hearts of the Pilgrims and it has never died in the spirits of their children. If I can find it in the narrow streets of my town, in the laughter of my schoolmates and beating with fervor beneath the neat grey vest of our groceryman, it is a common heritage of all true Americans. It is the greatest legacy on earth. It is America and it is mine."

Forty essays were entered from Klamath Falls, representing students from KUHS and Sacred Heart academy, and the best from each local organization was sent to Portland for entry in the state contest.

Woman's Society

Meeting for the last time in general session until September, members and friends of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church assembled at the church on Thursday, June 28. Mrs. Paul Edwards was in charge of the study hour at 10:30 a. m., and continued with the study of the book of Ephesians. A sack lunch at noon was followed by a meeting of the executive board at 1:30 p. m., and by the prayer circle, with Mrs. T. B. Windham its leader.

The general meeting at 2 p. m. was conducted by the president, Mrs. Earl Redman and Mrs. Walter Herndon was in charge of the devotions, taking as her theme "Juvenile Protection." Mrs. Paul Edwards read a letter from a Methodist missionary, Lila Tingle, who was held a prisoner in the Philippines, and Mrs. L. K. Phelps reported on the church conference held in Salem. In announcing the summer school to be held in Forest Grove, beginning July 15, it was said that only 100 enrollments could be accepted this year.

The organization voted to pay another $100 on its pledge for the "Crusade for Christ," and the third Thursday in July will be clean-up day for the church. A picnic honoring Rev. Victor Phillips and Mrs. Phillips, and new members of the society, will be held in Moore park on July 26 at 6:30.

Burning of the mortgage on the church parsonage was preceded by a short history of the church, given by Mrs. George Casper, and the ceremony was shared by the past presidents, Mrs. L. N. Haines, Mrs. R. P. Ellingson and Mrs. L. K. Phelps. Mrs. Edwin Schneebek sang "A Little Coon's Prayer" by Barbara Hope, and Rev. E. E. Hambrick, guest speaker and recreational director of the city, spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency and Our Responsibility to the Children." Tea was served by circle one, with Mrs. Windham presiding at the tea table. Attention is again called to the fact that there will be no general meetings in July and August.
