

Martha Shops and Shops

Speaking of weather, as I have been off and on . . . Several people who have lived in this section of the country for only five or six months have scolded me for my remarks on our Klamath Spring . . . They say they have never heard people run down their own weather so much . . . That we did have a Spring several times during the Spring months.

Well, Klamath people do brag about the Falls here . . . The Autumns, maybe I should say.

Art & Gift Shop

TO MAKE you feel gay . . . Or to live up an outfit . . . (Or as a gift solution) . . . Here's a suggestion that I ran across just yesterday and want to pass on:

The Art and Gift Shop has just unpacked some boxes of clever ceramic jewelry from the California studio of Claire Lermer . . . Including full and half combs, barrettes for your hair . . . Earrings . . . and lapel pins.

And they're all mounted with the most realistic ceramic flowers I've ever seen . . . They come in a rose, viola, pansy, or orchid design . . . The earrings are a single flower.

The pansy earrings are awfully cute . . . The one in yellow looks just like the face of a Pekinese!

The combs come in three sizes besides the half-combs . . . A medium and two sizes of large combs.

You can buy the posed barrettes in either a small or a large size.

And one thing about these . . . Unlike the "flours" from your garden they won't get that "last rose of Summer" look soon after you plant them in your tresses . . . They'll stay fresh!

The Art and Gift Store is at 510 Main Street.

Your Store

NEWCOMERS to Oregon may not know that the famed myrtlewood of the Holyland also grows in Oregon . . . And just in those two localities in all the world (unless there's some unexplored section of the globe that has it, and where would that be?)

Anyway, a big shipment of Oregon myrtlewood items is now on display at Your Store . . . And when you see it you'll understand why this light-colored wood is so popular for making useful articles . . . It takes a beautiful polish, and these particular ones really have been masterfully finished.

There are salad bowls, console sets, nut bowls . . . Platters, hors d'oeuvres boards . . . Book ends and salt and pepper shakers . . . And lots of other things.

The salt and pepper shakers are the least expensive, $2.00 the set . . . And prices go on up to about $10.00 for a large-sized salad bowl.

At Your Store . . . 721 Main Street.

Long's

HAVE you ever noticed what a complete selection of blouses Long's has?

While I was in there the other day I was looking at them . . . Not only does the store carry all types . . . But every size seems to be well-stocked . . . (At least, right now.)

I mentioned this to Madge Long . . . And she told me that they had just received another blouse shipment . . . So, of course, I wanted to see them, too.

These new blouses are just the kind that are bound to be big favorites with gals of all ages . . . Some are tailored . . . And some have many frills on 'em.

There's a handsome rayon pique shirt . . . Long-sleeved with a bow neckline, and extremely well-tailored . . . Comes in white only.

And a lovely sheer . . . In two styles . . . Long-sleeved with a small bow at the neck . . . Or short-sleeved with dainty ruffles down the front.

Both come just in white, too.

There are also some long-sleeved jerseys. Striped in a variety of color combinations . . . And so cool to wear.

A champagne colored one with thin, vertical brown stripes appealed to me . . . In fact, I fell for it.

Oh, yes . . . I almost forgot . . . Long's also received some more of those Vera de Givie blouses . . . Remember? . . . I told you about them last month.

Some of the blouses in this new shipment come in a light-weight faille too, and they have the same attractive and unusual silver buttons as the first lot did . . . And the same colors.

However . . . instead of the classic shirt neckline, these have bows . . . Which, incidentally, can be detached by a mere unbuttoning.

And . . . Remember that Long's carries all those famous Sorrel hairis . . . For sports wear or for strictly tailored suits, or for skirt combinations.

The store is located at 710 Main Street, you know.

Town Shop

NEW shipment of Cole of California bathing suits had just arrived at The Town Shop when I was in there a couple of days ago . . . In two new styles that I want to tell you about.

One is a one-piece midriff style, shirred with latex to make it fit beautifully (and in a figure-molding way) . . . Really awfully cute bathing suits in colorful color combinations, either striped or flowered.

They're $9.24 . . . (That's a new OPA price marking.)

The other style is a 2-piece and can be used as a bathing suit or a sun suit because it has a little skirt and feminine flounced collar on the top piece . . . Comes in big polka dots, all colors on a white background . . . At $8.05.

And, of course, there are other bathing suits in cottons and jerseys . . . At The Town Shop . . . Main at Fifth Street.

Currin's

ON DISPLAY at Currin's cosmetic counter this week are items in Tussy's newest "flavor" . . . "Estrellita" . . . Just received a few days ago and being bought up fast by old and new Tussy enthusiasts.

This isn't the first shipment the store has had of "Estrellita" . . . But until now the supply has been very limited.

"Estrellita" is a romantic sounding name, don't you think? And it smells romantic, too . . . A light summer fragrance with just a trace of the rhumba in it. (What a way to describe perfume!)

Packaging of this line follows the "Saludos Amigos" trend, too . . . A Spanish genreia equipped with castanets dances across the front of the bottle . . . It's really very striking.

A generous bottle of the cologne is $2.00 . . . Dusting powder is also $2.00 . . . And a jar of powder sachet is $1.00. (Sprinkle it in your lingerie drawers!) . . . Prices "plus tax," of course.

By the way . . . "Estrellita" perfume is included in Tussy's make-up kits only.

Currin's is on the corner of Main and Ninth streets, you know.

Whytal's

BACK in the stock room at Whytal's, the racks are full of new fall dresses . . . Marge Whytal told me yesterday that I could browse around to my heart's content . . . So I did, and got sort of a preview of what you can see there today.

These are all dressy frocks, definitely for your partying . . . Marge calls them her "cocktail dresses," but if you don't drink cocktails you can call them "date dresses."

There are lots of blacks, of course . . . (College girls please take note . . . A black dress is a "must"!) . . . Plus a number in eye-catching fuchsias, aquas, grays.

I noticed that these dresses have many of the features which style forecasts say will make fashion headlines during the coming season.

Dolman sleeves . . . Sophisticated draped skirts . . . Some hints of bustles . . . Glittering sequined bows 'n' ruffles . . . Touches of white "frou-frou" . . . Vivid color highlights.

Several of the black dresses follow the short evening dress idea . . . Law in front and in back with chiffon insets . . . A beautiful dress to dance in . . . (And to bring out the "femme fatale" in a gal!)

These are the dresses you'll be hunting frantically for, come Fall, if you wait.

So see them now at Whytal's . . . Corner of Main Street at Ninth.

Studio of Beauty

HAVE you heard about the new kind of permanent wave that is part coldwave and part the so-called "machines" wave? . . . Fern Short told me about it when I was in the Studio of Beauty last Monday afternoon to get my hair fixed and cool off in the air-cooled atmosphere up there.

It combines the best features of the coldwave and the "machines" heat wave . . . And takes about as long to have done as the coldwave, or she said, maybe a little less time.

It's the best permanent for going over an old wave, she told me, and does away with having to cut off your previous permanent . . . And it's wonderful on difficult hair.

The way Fern explained it to me, it does wonders as a hair conditioner for dry, damaged hair . . . And protects the texture of hair that is in good condition.

Incidentally, it's called the De-Ter-Jal-ized process of permanent waving . . . If you want to call it that . . . But Fern will know what you mean if you ask her about her "new permanent" . . . The phone there is 7151.

At The Studio of Beauty . . . On Whytal's mezzanine, corner of Ninth and Main Streets.

SFC APPROVES SPEEDING UP TAX REFUNDS

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The senate finance committee today approved legislation to ease the excess profits tax and speed up tax refunds to corporations.

The measure, already passed by the house, is designed to improve the cash position of corporations by about $5,500,000,000 to speed reconversion.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) said that while the bill in general was approved there would have to be a poll of absent members on the question of retaining one provision.

Earlier, Colin F. Stamm, chief of the joint committee on taxation, told the committee that speed is essential if the measure is to have the desired effect of facilitating reconversion.

"Businessmen are now planning for reconversion and readjustment to peacetime operations," he said. "The immediate enactment of this bill would facilitate this planning."

The measure, passed by the house last week, would:

1. Increase the excess-profits exemption from 10,000 to $25,000 effective with the 1946 tax year.
2. Allow corporations to take credit for the postwar credit of 10 per cent of the excess profits tax.
3. Advance to January 1, 1946, the maturity date of outstanding post-war refund bonds.
4. Provide for speed-up of refunds due as a result of previous operating losses or unused excess-profits credits.

Answering a question from Chairman George (D-Ga.), Stamm estimated the change in the excess profits tax would result in a net loss to the government of about $160,000,000.

A pair of shoes ALL BY HIMSELF, with his own hands. As each shoe was finished, he could and doubtless did hold it up and think with personal pride of accomplishment: "I did that."

And when he closed his shop, he probably went home and hoed the garden and milked the cow and fed the chickens—and maybe a pig, for his winter ham and bacon. Then split the kindling to build the fire to cook tomorrow's breakfast.

That night, or some other, he went to a meeting to talk over the affairs of his town or his school district or his road district. Whatever was done in the way of his local government, he probably had a finger in it. His life was lived with STIMULATING activities.

HIS modern descendant stands beside an assembly line all day and pushes bolts into a hole. He goes home at night and eats food that came from a nearby super-market and was cooked with gas or electricity from a central plant. He lives in a flat or an apartment heated by a furnace tended by a janitor. He winds up the day by seeing a movie made by mass production methods in Hollywood.

The government he lives under, including the schools he sends his children to, is provided for him, all ready made, by his big-city political machine.

It isn't strange, under these circumstances, if he becomes so BORED that he is ready for anything that promises a change and so unaccustomed to RELYING UPON HIMSELF that he is ready to follow any loose-tongued demagogue who promises security without personal effort or sacrifice or risk.

THESE wide-open spaces of our great West, where the business of making a living is still largely a PERSONAL matter, where people do countless things with their own hands, where they have a personal finger in the pie of local government and local affairs of all sorts, where everybody knows everybody else, are the antidote for the inevitable BOREDOM of modern industrial mass production. They help to keep America sailing on an even keel.

SUGAR STATEMENTS FALSE, REPORT

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The republican congressional food committee said today that "four out of five" statements made by the office of price administration in application forms for home-canning sugar are "false or misleading."

In a statement released through Representative Gwinn (R-N.Y.), the committee said OPA was seeking to divert attention "from itself and its political purposes by making accusations against the housewife."

OPA's explanation of the sugar shortage in statements accompanying application blanks for additional sugar, Gwinn said, contained these erroneous assertions:

"Ships which otherwise might be bringing sugar into the United States are hauling supplies to the battle fronts."

"Manpower is scarce at sugar refineries and shipping ports."

"Beet sugar production last year was 500,000 tons short, making the stock smaller for this year."

"Last year many people over-applied for canning sugar. We used so much sugar that stocks at the beginning of this year were abnormally low."
