Summer Guests Being Honored

With the advent of a general midsummer lull, visitors in town are prompting most of the recent social activities. Advantage is being taken by many of the opportunity to take a few days or weeks off and spend some time at cabins and homes at nearby mountain lakes. Most cabins at the lakes have been full to the brim during the past several weeks of warm weather.

Spending some time here now as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Macartney at their home on Washington street, are Margaret Taylor of Weylesley, Mass., and her sister, Mrs. Les Avrit, the former Sally Taylor.

Mrs. Avrit's husband, a former KUHS instructor, is now serving overseas. The two are spending this weekend at the Franklin Weaver cottage at Lake o' the Woods.

Another visitor here for the past two weeks has been Jean Hauger of San Francisco, who has been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hauger of Pacific Terrace. Jean leaves Sunday morning to return to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Weaver returned to San Francisco last Sunday after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Weaver of Auburn street. Young Connie Weaver is still here with her grandparents.

For the benefit of those who are not so fortunate in being able to go to the lake for these warm weekends, two swimming pools are now open for public use. The pool at one end of Modoc field is being opened for an adult swimming program this weekend and the huge new pool at the Marine Barracks is open for civilian use evenings after six o'clock with the exception of Thursday and after one o'clock on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

For those who enjoy photography, a wonderful opportunity has been offered by the USO at their camera club meetings. Dark room facilities have also been opened to the public and those interested need only to sign up for a certain time and the equipment will be available to them.
