Cascade

Friday the 13th arrived at Cascade Summit with a bang. The populace awakened thinking the Japs had arrived with a full charge of bombs. One bolt of lightning followed by a terrific clap of thunder caused damage to the Southern Pacific telephones in the section foreman's and signal maintainer's houses. Dorothy Dahl, telegraph operator here, received a shock while on duty when the lightning followed the wires to the telegraph office.

Among summer colonists who have opened their homes here are Mrs. Maxwell and children, Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stein, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Moody, Eugene; and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sprague, Sweet Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Benson and family attended a reunion of the Charles Hebert family at Cultes lake recently. All seven daughters of the Hebert family with their husbands and children were there. The son, PFC Glenn Hebert, is in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Tony Eames of Portland is here with her two small sons, occupying the summer home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Lucas.

Word has been received from PFC. Roland L. Porter that he is now stationed in Greenland. He states that he was flown from England to Greenland where he will assist in the installation of a radio station. The climate, he reports, is much the same as Klamath county. He states that the sun barely sets behind the mountain there, and were it not for their being surrounded by mountains it would not set at all.

Lt. and Mrs. Keene stopped at Summit lodge while en route from Massachusetts, where Lt. Keene had been stationed, to their home in Palo Alto.

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Hensler called on friends at Cascade Summit. Capt. Hensler has just returned from Europe where he was with the air corps in Italy. He was a former Crescent Lake teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Barnard, Alameda, spent a week at Summit lodge. Barnard is an official of the Southern Pacific company with headquarters in San Francisco. While here he enjoyed the good fishing.

Mrs. Jack Tomlinson and son, Craig, Oakridge, have been visiting at the R. L. Porter home this week. The Tomlinsons are former Cascade Summit residents. They will soon move to Eugene where they have bought a home.

Arthur Parsons, civil engineer for the Southern Pacific company, has been in Cascade Summit doing surveying for the company.

All of the cabins at Summit lodge have been filled to capacity all summer. The dining room of the lodge has not been opened but the rooms have been well filled.

Tax Levy Up For Election Again

LAKEVIEW—The town council moved at their meeting Tuesday night to again place before the people of the city at the November 6 general city election the question of a tax levy for construction of paved streets within the city limits.

The council believes that if streets are to be paved in Lakeview, now is to time to lay away money for the project.

By issuing a tax levy of 24 mills for a three-year period, the necessary amount will be collected by the time construction of the paved streets takes place.

Duba, Corvallis, flew with a party of 16 privateer search planes of fleet air wing one which covered virtually all of Korea Saturday, destroying or damaging bridges, trains, tunnels and stations on the double-line railway to Manchuria, and sinking or damaging 10 small and medium cargo vessels Japan-bound.
