

Martha Shops and Shops

I hear that there is a shortage of play clothes on the Atlantic Coast, because of the unusual demand this summer and also because so many of the best styles are manufactured in California and have to be shipped East. . . . And trying to get something from the Pacific Coast to the other side of the continent is just as difficult as trying to ship things from the East out here.

Town Shop

SOME awfully cute new play clothes arrived at The Town Shop this week to augment the already extensive selection to be found there. . . . They're different and cool-looking and I know you'll love them. . . . They are blouse-and-skirt affairs. . . . The blouses are round-neck peasant type in sheer batiste (white, pink and pale blue) with short sleeves. . . . While the skirts are brightly printed glazed chintz, fashioned in the youthful peasant style. . . . They carry the famous "Hobbies" label and cost $6.76 (the OPA price). . . . Of course, The Town Shop has all kinds of shorts and play clothes, in a price range from $2.98 to $16.95. . . . Including darling 1-2 and 3-piece outfits. . . . And this store is headquarters for the famous Gantner, Catalina and Cole of California bathing suits. . . . For which you can pay anywhere from $1.98 to $11.95.

Incidentally have you seen the Magic bathing suit, made by Cole of California, when it's on a gal? . . . It molds the figure in a most flattering way, uplifting or flattening in the right places, and really is sensational! . . . At The Town Shop. . . . Main at Fifth Street.

Shaw Stationery

A LOT of new books for children are now on display at Shaw Stationery, the store where you always can get children's books. . . . And these are something special, besides being inexpensive! . . . There are lots of different types of these animated books that children are so tickled with. . . . Like "The Animated Circus Book," which, besides a charming story, is interspersed with pages in which a lever makes the circus characters and animals perform their tricks. . . . "Animated Nursery Tales," about the Three Bears, the Three Little Pigs and the Three Little Kittens, also brings the animals to life by the simple movement of levers that any child can work. . . . Other fascinating books of the same type are "The Animated Mother Goose" and "Animated Story Rhymes."

Another book that I'll have to call "fascinating," too, is "Uncle Ben Jay's Jungle." . . . But it's hard to explain unless a person actually has seen it. . . . Children work out all kinds of composite animals that are particularly amusing to a young sense of humor, composite stories and poems. . . . And they also can brush up on unconsistencies on the spelling of proper names in the process! . . . A second Uncle Ben Jay book I noticed particularly at Shaw's is the "Wonder Book." . . . It comes equipped with magic lenses. . . . When the child looks through the lenses he finds that he can make moving pictures of Willy Pogany's delightful drawings of familiar folk and fairy story characters. . . . And the stories are retold, in a modern manner, by Baroness Christina de la Motte.

Shaw's also has a new shipment of wooden inlay puzzle plaques that are sturdy constructed for repeated use. . . . Shaw Stationery store is at 729 Main Street, as you probably know.

Art & Gift Shop

MAYBE you've noticed the display of Roseville pottery in the window of The Art and Gift Shop. . . . I thought I'd mention it today because this line of pottery is so popular and there never seems to be enough of it for sale in Klamath Falls. . . . Jean Kierulff was telling me how hard it is to keep a complete supply of Roseville pottery in stock. . . . Right now, however, The Art and Gift Shop does have a good selection.

All of it is in the "Clematis" pattern. (The best way I can describe this pattern is that it looks very much like the dogwood which grows in this vicinity.) . . . There are tea sets. . . . Cookie jars. . . . Candlesticks. . . . Book ends. . . . Fruit bowls. . . . And lots of other items. . . . I especially noticed a hanging bowl. . . . With a METAL chain. . . . Perfect for your ivy. . . . "Clematis" comes in three colors. . . . Aqua. . . . (the prettiest for my money) rust, and green.

And. . . . Roseville pottery is surprisingly inexpensive. . . . The Art and Gift Shop is at 519 Main Street, as I've mentioned before.

Long's

MADGE LONG saw me walking past Long's the other day. . . . And she motioned for me to come in. . . . She had something she wanted to show me, she said. . . . That "something" turned out to be one of the cleverest things I've ever seen. . . . It was costume jewelry made of real flowers and leaves grown in California. . . . Yes, that's what I said. . . . Made of real, honest-to-goodness flowers. . . . While the "recipe" for this process is obviously a well-kept secret. . . . I did learn that the flowers are preserved in a transparent material which is non-inflammable, water-proof, and guaranteed not to crack! . . . These posies are fashioned into pins and earrings. . . . Some of them are single flowers and others are clusters of three or four. . . . They come in all varieties of flowers. . . . And they look so natural. . . . But then, they should, because that's what they are! . . . Beautiful colors, too. . . . In fact these flowers would add spice to any costume! . . . Single pins are $1.50. . . . While the clusters are marked $4.20 and earrings to match are $2.10. . . . All prices include tax. . . . Drop in to Long's and see them. . . . 719 Main, you know.

Whytals
HERE is good news for you back-to-schoolers. . . . Whytals' now has sweaters galore. . . . And is receiving more and more every day. . . . I asked Wanda Spuer to show them to me. . . . There were so many that I finally had to stop her, and considering the paper shortage, I couldn't possibly describe them all. . . . Dozens of boxes of lovely nubby knits were still unpacked, but I imagine they are on display now. . . . Wanda was rushing to mark them because the girls are already sweater-hunting in a big way. . . . These nubbies are, of course, pure wool. . . . Hand-fashioned by Lady Gay. . . . I could go into ecstasies over the beautiful colors. . . . A bewitching "hot" pink. . . . A bright cherry. . . . Maize and light blue. . . . Light pink. . . . All of these come in either a long-sleeved pullover or a long-sleeved cardigan. . . . Then, too. . . . There are lots of white sweaters. . . . Made by famed Koret of California. . . . (You know. . . . Trikskirts, etcetera). These are fashioned from a downy soft, fine wool. . . . A button-down front sweater in the same fine knit is awfully attractive and it comes in a "goodly number" of colors. . . . Among 'em, aqua, chartreuse, blue, maize and fuschia. . . . If you'd rather have a coarser knit sweater, Whytals has those, too. . . . In another long list of shades. . . . Including spice, plum, green, blue. . . . Just name your shade! . . . And there are a few short-sleeved sweaters. . . . Which are ideal for under-suit wear. . . . Besides lots and lots of others that I haven't room to describe. . . . Really darling ones, too. . . . At Whytals', Corner of Main, at Ninth Street.

Whytals
I KNEW that Currins has been rather impatiently waiting several months for a shipment of Chen Yu's new make-up. . . . "Cloudsilk" comes in a gorgeous red and black plastic case. . . . Very striking. . . . It also has a cloth protector for the compact, a sort of little bag to keep it scratch-free. . . . "Cloudsilk" is $2.00. . . . And refills are $1.25. (Plus tax, naturally.) . . . Chen Yu nail polish comes in an astounding number of shades. . . . To be exact, 18 regular colors (at 75c). . . . And six costume shades. . . . (at $1.00). . . . Also included in the new shipment were Chen Yu's newest lipstick shades. . . . "Fury" is nice for redheads because it has a brownish hue. . . . "Sea Shell" . . . And "Frozen Fire" . . . One of those up-to-the-minute pinks. . . . Which makes a grand total of 14 lipstick colors. . . . Connie said that there is a complete stock of Chip Chek, remover pads, cuticle oil, hand lotion, hand cream. . . . And the new Prefix remover which cleanses as it removes polish. . . . And, oh, oodles of other Chen Yu products. . . . Currins. . . . I don't have to tell you. . . . Is on the corner of Ninth and Main Streets.

Local Agent Qualifies

Paul Lee, local insurance agent for Sun Life of Canada, has qualified for president's section of the production club of Sun Life. Lee's June sales totaled over $64,000. . . . He is also a member of the Quarter-million Dollar round-table in the state of Oregon. This is an honor society which includes all insurance companies in Oregon. Lee is second leading producer for Sun Life in this state for the month of June, 1945. . . . Maybe you will never realize that ambition to slap a Jap, but you can help by being sure your match is out. To be doubly sure, break it in two before throwing it away. Do your part. Help Keep Oregon Green.

Draggins Stops At Mountain Lake

Organized dragging operations at Lake of the Woods for the body of Robert Barney Hollingsworth, 25, who apparently drowned there last week, have been abandoned, according to the sheriff's office. . . . Volunteer searchers are still keeping a close watch on the lake shore, however, in the event that the body is washed up. . . . Hollingsworth apparently drowned on July 10 when a boat in which he was riding with four companions capsized during a storm. He has now been missing for nine days and extensive dragging operations have failed to recover the body.

Sailors Returned TO FACE CHARGES

Six sailors, who have been held in the Jackson county jail at Medford, were returned to Klamath Falls last night by the shore patrol and are now lodged in the county jail here charged with grand larceny. . . . They were reportedly new draftees for the USS Bunker Hill and were en route to Bremerton, Wash., from Treasure Island, Calif., when they jumped the train near Dorris, Calif. . . . They allegedly stole an automobile here belonging to James Guerin of Klamath Falls and were later arrested by state police. . . . The six men will either be turned over to navy authorities or will be required to face a charge of grand larceny brought against them by the district attorney's office here.

TOWNS LINED UP FOR X-RAY PLAN

Klamath county towns are rapidly falling in line for the free chest X-ray service which will be furnished by the mobile unit which arrives in the county on July 27, according to the office of the Klamath County Public Health association. . . . Calls have been received from Bonanza, Langell Valley, Ivory Pine and Chiloquin about information on the huge rolling unit. . . . Mrs. K. C. Burke of Merrill was in the office in room 5 of the courthouse Thursday taking enrollments. They will also be taken in Merrill Saturday and Monday afternoons at the public library. . . . Enrollments can be made by calling the courthouse office at 6259 or a post card with the name and address. . . . This service is arranged by the public health association, free of charge, to keep the threat of tuberculosis under control.
