Everything Happens To Wally

We have been hearing wails all week over the fiasco that occurred in Friday night's rassing card when Referee Wally Moss counted Jack Lipscomb out while Antone Leone had both feet hooked in the ropes.

The win was a fluke victory for Leone, we admit, but we contend that Wally shouldn't be held to account too much. After all, the guy doesn't have eyes in the back of his head and can't watch a man's shoulders and his feet at the same time.

Offhand, we can think of no more thankless task than refereeing a rassing tiff. Even if you're right you're a bum and if you do make a blunder mistake the wolves are at your door in nothing flat.

Considering the fact that Wally was arbitrating the clambake Friday with three broken ribs, we feel that there is plenty of room for leniency.

The two guys who were slapping each other around the ring were two of the meanest maulers on the circuit and we applaud Wally for standing pat on his decision.

This Friday the same two gladiators will mix it up in a rematch and we are content to view the action from the comparative safety of the ringside. In fact, we wouldn't get in the ring for a carton of Camels.

Lipscomb will enter the ring with the express purpose of taking Leone apart. No time will be wasted in frivolous antics. "Buck" intends to go to work in earnest from the minute he enters the square until Leone is carted out in a wooden overcoat.

We understand that Lipscomb has requested another referee for the fight and we think that he should have his request granted. Promoter Mack Lillard could assign one of the other grapplers to the role of arbitrator and then everyone would be happy, including Wally.

However, we will wager six, two, and even that if this is done the fans will welcome Wally back with open arms. One thing has been established time and again, and that is that rasslers had better stick to their trade.

We have never yet seen one of the bicep boys who could turn in an even mediocre job of refereeing. They leap around like kangaroos on stilts and might as well be non-existent for all the good they are.

So there may be another referee in the main tiff Friday night, and don't say we didn't warn you.

Nats Drop Twin Bill To Tigers

Double Knockout Puts Nats In Fourth Place; Cardinals Muff Chance To Win Game

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Washington's pennant boom collapsed like a house of cards today as the Senators picked themselves up off the floor and tried to dust off the humiliation of losing two straight doubleheaders.

Detroit came into town last night for the opening battles of the year's first "crosshull" series and dropped the Nats to their knees on a pair of superior pitching jobs by Hal Newhouser and Al Benton.

Newhouser copped No. 14 of the season in a 6-4 opener despite a streak of wildness and Benton avenged his only defeat by earning his eighth verdict at Marino Pieretti's expense, 3-0.

Slip to Fourth

The double knockout dropped Washington from second to fourth and boosted Detroit's first place margin to 4 1/2 games.

Joe Cronin brought Boston home in fifth place but they proceeded to take three from the Tigers and pull up into the race. Trouble against Cleveland which took two of three was corrected when Dave Ferriss went out to face Chicago in the series opener yesterday afternoon.

Ferriss, beaten only by the Yankees, who did the job twice, rocketed to his 16th pitching triumph and his seventh in succession by trimming Chicago, 6-2. Boston moved past Washington into a percentage tie with the New York Yankee, who were rained out of a doubleheader with St. Louis.

Cleveland and Philadelphia battled for two hours and 35 minutes but had nothing better than a 2-2 tie to show for their efforts as rain intervened in the top of the 13th inning and washed out a scheduled second tilt. They will try it again tonight.

Cards Blow Chance

The St. Louis Cardinals blew a chance to pick up a full game on the National league leading Chicago Cubs when they dropped the second of two to the Phillies, 5-4. The Red Birds loaded the bases in the last of the ninth but couldn't quite make the grade and so remained three tilts behind the Bruins and only a half game in front of Brooklyn.

The world champs routed the Phils, 7-3, in the first game of the series. The Dodgers came off with an even split in Chicago before 42,047 paying fans, largest weekday Wrigley field turnout in 15 years. After succumbing to Ray Prim's wiles in the first tilt, 5-0, the Bums ruined Lon Warneke's comeback, dubbing five Cub pitchers for 12 hits and a 9-5 even.

Only change in the National standings resulted when the New York Giants, who hadn't won at Forbes field all year, did it twice in one day and pulled past the Pirates into fourth place on 6-3 and 4-3 verdicts. Danny Gardella's three-run homer, the only round tripper of the day in the majors, did the job in the first.

The Boston at Cincinnati tilt was put off until later in the season because of transportation problems.

Still Noisy

Karl Scheel, ex-Marine and now a White Sox pitcher, still flings taunts at opposing players despite rumpus in St. Louis, which saw him attacked by Brownie players. Manager Luke Sewell and three St. Louis players paid $550 for their retaliation.

He Didn't Do It

It looks as though Bud Methany (3), Yankee outfielder, had just clouted the sprawling figures, but he actually was just a spectator trying to get out of the way as Detroit Catcher Bob Swift tagged out Yankee Bill Drescher at homeplate. Umpire Cal Hubbard is at right. The Yanks won the game in New York, July 15, 5 to 4.

Cavarretta Sparks Cubs To Loop Lead

By JIMMY JORDAN

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, who has been around the National league long enough to be ranked a veteran, was 29 years old today, in his 11th season with the Chicago Cubs, and he was enjoying the best season of his baseball career.

The fast running, hard playing first baseman, who came to the Cubs at the tail end of the 1934 season and succeeded in beating Manager Charlie Grimm out of his infield job, is credited by many with having much to do with the Cubs being in first place.

His current batting mark of around .380 is the best he ever has compiled in mid-season and compares with his .384 average over his entire major league career with the Cubs. Last season for the first time for a full season he hit above .300, finishing with .321 to be well among the National league leaders. In seven games in 1934 he hit .384.

Clint Knox Knocked Out Of Tourney

SEATTLE, July 19 (AP)—Portland's Clint Knox seeded fifth, was knocked out of championship competition in the Washington state tennis championships yesterday when he was defeated 6-1, 6-4 by Seattle's veteran raquetier, Mel Dranga, and Coast Guardsman Warren McMillan pushed out Ken Clegg, Seattle, seeded seventh, 6-4, 7-9, 10-8.

Oregon State Girls Champion Arvilla McGuire of San Francisco, continued toward the Washington state junior title trouncing Lucille Winner 6-0, 6-1, but lost in the women's events to Nell Hazle 2-6, 2-6. Mrs. Lorraine Rhoades, 1943 titlist from Portland, defeated Marie Mahoney 6-4, 6-2 in the women's singles.

Morey Lewis, top-seeded Los Angeles star, beat Ash Rice 6-2, 6-0 and Bill Canning of Alameda, Calif., seeded second, beat Mac Smith 6-2, 6-4. Third-seeded Irvin Dorfman of New York and the U. S. navy, beat Rod Sackett 6-3, 7-9 and default.

Joe Louis Fires 80 In Golf Tournament

DETROIT, July 19 (AP)—Heavyweight Champ Joe Louis shot an 80 Wednesday to drop into fifth place in the three-day Joe Louis golf tournament at Rackham golf course.

The Brown Bomber, whose first day 76 gave him first place in the amateur division, encountered trouble in the second 18 yesterday. The final 36 holes were scheduled for today.

Joyce Becomes First PCL 20-Game Winner Of Season

LOS ANGELES, July 19 (AP)—Bob Joyce of San Francisco became the coast league's first 20-game winner of the season. He has lost six and won his 21st game against Seattle Tuesday night.

Bud Beasley of Sacramento was the nominal pitching leader with seven wins and one defeat. Unofficial earned run averages gave Joyce 1.62 and Beasley 1.63.

Vallie Eaves, San Diego, held his strikeout lead with 138. The leading pitchers through July 16 also included:

SEATTLE, July 19 (AP)—The $720 North Star purse feature race at Longacres track was won by Houlihan yesterday. The winner paid $8.50, $4.30 and $3.60. Second-place Klondike paid $6.50 and $5.80 and Pampas Flag paid $5.70 for third place. The mutual handle for the day was $171,247.

Defending Champion Bids For 5th Title

SEATTLE, July 19 (AP)—George L. Butterfield defeated Fred Austin 4 and 2 yesterday in the Washington state senior golf tournament, continuing his bid for his fifth consecutive state title. H. W. Hart beat Joe Newberger 1 up, G. P. McManama defeated Homer Dean 3 and 2 and C. C. Ewing defeated F. M. Brennan 3 and 2.

Nelson Forced Out Of Golf Tournament

ST. PAUL, July 19 (AP)—A back injury which forced Byron Nelson, the Toledo golf wizard, out of the St. Paul Open tournament today opened wider the gates of opportunity to other members of the touring professional troupe on the summer circuit.

Nelson has monopolized top money in nine consecutive tournaments this year—the longest string of triumphs in top-flight golf—with the other pros taking the lesser amounts for second place and below. His latest victory was in the national professional golfers association tournament which boosted his money winnings to $31,500.

Harold "Jug" McSpaden of Sanford, Me., took over the favorite's spot on the entry list for the St. Paul Open, which included such names as John Bulla of Lyle, Ill., Sgt. E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Wright field, Ohio, Bill Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill., Ky Lafson of Chicago, Tony Penna of Dayton, Ohio, and Johnny Revolts of Evanston, Ill.

Revised this year after a two-year lapse, the St. Paul Open offers a prize list of $7500 in war bonds.

Hy Chapin Hurls Seven Hit Game As Marine '9' Blanks Navy Club, 8-0

By PAUL HAINES

Hy Chapin's baffling slants were too much for the sailors from the naval air station yesterday afternoon and the Leathernecks are now deadlocked with the Bluejackets at the top of the Southern Oregon league by virtue of an 8 to 0 victory.

The marine hurler was nailing the corners with virtually every pitch and gave up seven scattered singles. His teammates committed two errors, both on wide throws to First Baseman Jack Branham.

In attaining his triumph Chapin whiffed 16 batters and issued three walks.

Navy Pitcher Bob Patterson had plenty of smoke, striking out 10 men and walking two, but was reached for 10 hits. Four errors were charged up to the navy. Cook, navy centerfielder, made two sensational running catches of fly balls.

The Leathernecks tallied first in the second frame when Pitts, marine catcher, singled, driving in two runs. They scored again in the third when Cyszewski drove out another scorching single, bringing home two more tallies.

In the marine half of the sixth inning Cyszewski connected for a two-bagger, scoring Branham who was safe at second on an error by Jackson, navy shortstop. Myers singled, driving in Cyszewski with the second run of the inning, and scored seconds later when a grounder by Gilbreath got away from Brown at third.

In the final inning, West, marine centerfielder, led off with a resounding double off the right field wall, took third on a passed ball, and crossed the plate on Jackson's error.

In the meantime, Chapin was effectively handcuffing the sailors with his sharp breaking curves. The two rival clubs have now each won seven and lost one in Southern Oregon league play.

Great Lakes Grid Squad Loses Stars

GREAT LAKES, Ill., July 19 (AP)—Great Lakes bluejacket football candidates will answer the call soon for summer practice, but there will be many new faces on the 1945 squad.

(j) Paul E. Brown, football officer, said today. Last year the sailors won nine games, lost two and tied one. But many of the former college stars stationed at the training center have been ordered to the west coast for further transfer, so Brown has a rebuilding job on his hands.

In the past few weeks, Brown said, 16 football players have been transferred from the center including four backfield stars, Claude (Buddy) Young, Paul Patterson and Charlie Johnson of Illinois and Marion Motley of Nevada.

Net Finals Slated In Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Bernard Bartzon of San Angelo, Tex., defending junior boys' champion and Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., who is booming along in big-time tennis, clash today in the finals of the River Forest club's junior open tennis tournament.

Two novice titles were decided yesterday. Jimmy Farrell of Kalamazoo, Mich., won the boys' under 13 championship by defeating Sonny Smith of Chicago, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4, and Conrad Fisher, also of Kalamazoo, captured the boys' under 14 title, defeating Dick McCaslin of Chicago, 6-2, 6-0.

What Late Issues of Two National Magazines Have To Say About
JIMMIE LUNCEFORD AND HIS ORCHESTRA

AMERICA'S FAMILY MAGAZINE
LOOK
(Issue of July 10, 1945)

One of the first U. S. products requested for postwar European consumption was Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra—a standard American attraction since 1934. On V-E Day, Lunceford's manager received from Brussels a cabled offer for a two-month concert tour of the Continent. When and if this can be arranged (previous bookings will keep the band over here until late fall), Lunceford will follow the itinerary scheduled for his second European tour, which was abruptly canceled on August 30, 1939.

Such consistent popularity at home and abroad is the result of Lunceford's musicianship and his refusal to compromise between current fads and what he knows is right for his band. Regular nationwide tours—including both theatre dates and the arduous but profitable "one-nighters"—have brought his "musicians' music" wide favor. His records for Decca have a big and steady sale, with an occasional standout like "Blues in the Night" (which he introduced in the film of that title) hitting the top.

Interested mainly in his band's performance, Lunceford doesn't exploit himself as a personality, rarely talks of his private life. Born in Mississippi in 1902, he grew up in Denver and Memphis, worked his way through Fisk University in Nashville, graduating in 1925. He assembled his first band from his music students at a Memphis high school, returned to Fisk as a headwaiter when they entered there, started a barnstorming career with them on their graduation. After a slow start, the band scored at New York's Cotton Club in 1934, ending its lean years for good.

Many people think of Jimmie Lunceford as having a band that can only jump. This isn't the case at all. Lunceford's band can turn out a lively and melodic brand of stuff, too. There are a number of smooth tunes in the library that the guys do excellently. Maestro has good arrangements and fine musicians to play them.

Lunceford fronts well. His pleasing personality is for the payees. But to the crew, he's a leader who holds his music tight and gets the most out of the arrangements. When he settles down to do one of his numbers, the patron may either dance or listen. The music is designed for both.

A new addition to the outfit here is Nick Brooks, vocalist. While Brooks isn't in the groove far enough for the band to follow on some of the arrangements, the music boys take it slowly, giving him every break. He baries in an okay fashion, and after a few more weeks with the outfit, should be knocking it off in even a better fashion. Brooks' handling of "I Should Care," with Russell Green on trumpet, and a jump tune, with Joe Thomas on tenor, come in for plenty hand. Another sax man of whom Lunceford can be justly proud is Kurt Bradford, alto.

Joe Marshall, on drums, is an asset. He works hard and gives out with a good beat. Earl Hardy, on tram, is called on for spotlighted parts. Lunceford can satisfy dancers—and does.

Helser Wins 14th Game; Raps Stars

Portland Holds 4 1/2 Game Lead; Rainers Keep Pace By Walloping Seals, 7-4

By PAUL WELLS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Portland's Beavers, whose steady pitching staff has been "money in the bank" all season, still lead the Pacific Coast league by four and a half games today after cashing in last night on Roy Helser's 14th victory of the year.

Helser registered his fourth straight triumph in beating the Hollywood Stars 12-4. Second-place Seattle kept pace with the Beavers by downing the San Francisco Seals 7-4.

The gap between second and third was widened to nine and a half games as Sacramento took a double trouncing at Los Angeles 5-4 and 6-5. San Diego's Padres humbled the Oakland Acoorns 7-1 on Carl Dumlum's one-hitter, the best tossed contest of the night.

Beavs on Rampage

Portland went on another batting rampage in defeating the Stars, slamming out 16 safeties of which six were two-baggers. Centerfielder Frank Demaree led the parade with four hits in five times at bat. Long distance honors, however, went to Hollywood's second baseman, Ken Richardson, who hit two consecutive homers over the left field wall, each time with the bases clear. The Beavers hold a 2-0 edge in the series.

Seattle's Veteran Carl Fischer won his 13th of the year as the Rainiers evened the count with the Seals at one game each. After spotting San Francisco to a 4-0 lead in the first five innings, Fischer blanked them for the remainder of the tilt while his mates were pounding three pitchers for seven runs. Seattle started its scoring with a two-tally homer by Catcher Bob Finley in the last of the fifth, added another counter in the sixth and clinched it with four more in the seventh. The two teams will clash in a doubleheader tonight.

Angels Cop Two

Los Angeles, bouncing back from a disastrous losing streak, made it six in a row with its twin killing against Sacramento. Charley Cuellar chalked up his 11th victory of the season in the opener, holding the Solons to eight hits. George Woodend, righthander just acquired by the Angels from Syracuse of the International league, got credit for the win in the seven-inning nightcap. Woodend took the mound in the last frame as relief hurler, blanking the Solons with score knotted at 5-11. The Seraphs pushed over one run in their half to take the decision.

The first complete airplane built by the Wright brothers (the one used in the first flight in history at Kitty Hawk) cost less than $800.

Don't keep your eyes glued to the sky. Remember, a burning match, glowing cigarette, or smoldering campfire can be just as disastrous to our forests as an incendiary bomb. Do your part. Keep Oregon Green.

Old Gaffers Advance Peg In Net Play

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Two "old gaffers," as far as tennis goes, may be battling it out in the final round for the men's eastern tennis championships next weekend.

The two veteran netmen, Sidney B. Wood and Frank X. Shields, both of New York, who were rivals in the 1930 Wimbledon championships, which Wood won, each advanced a notch yesterday in their quest for their first tennis championship in years.

Shields seeded No. 4, in the men's singles, jumped ahead of the field, advancing to the quarter final round by eliminating Leo Johnson of Detroit, 6-3, 6-0. Wood, like Shields a former Davis Cup star and seeded No. 3, had to come from behind to defeat Henry Osten, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, to move into the fourth round.
