Allies Hunt For German Grafters

BERLIN, July 23 (AP)—American, British and soviet occupation armies here pressed a swift hunt for big-time German operators in illicit stocks of allied food and gasoline, in an attempt to crush fantastic speculation in Berlin's necessities of life. Joint plans to throttle the corrupting influences at work among allied troops in the capital were drafted yesterday after American and British security officers for two weeks carefully spotted illegal trading centers. The Berlin kommandatur authorized soviet military police to join the hunt for the high-ups.

Medford Polls Parking Meters
MEDFORD, July 23 (AP)—Medford business firms are about evenly divided on a proposal to install parking meters, according to a poll just completed by the Jackson county chamber of commerce.

Of 86 concerns interrogated, 32 favored the installation and 31 voted no. The rest refused to express an opinion without further study.

Nutgrowers See Import Problem
NEWBERG, July 23 (AP)—Uncertainty of the import policy on filberts, almonds and walnuts worries Pacific coast growers, John E. Trunk, Oregon Nutgrowers, Inc., manager, told the 15th annual growers meeting here.

Trunk said foreign imports could ruin American growers and that recent conferences with OPA officials may result in higher prices to offset greater production costs.

ADDED HOUSING TO RISE AT MERRILL

MERRILL—The acute housing shortage and normal growth of the Merrill Mills are contributing factors in a building program that is underway this week to provide modern living quarters for two families. Jack Hagglund, manager, announced Monday purchase of a 5-acre tract from Walter Fotheringham, formerly the Turner place, location of one of the pioneer homes of Merrill. The property is within the city limits. Priorities have been granted for two three-bedroom homes with 700 feet of floor space. Water lines are being run to the property and actual construction will get underway before the end of the week. With the installation of a new pellet mill and barley roll, it became necessary, Hagglund stated, to provide living accommodations for employees. The 5-acre tract is laid out to provide for future expansion.

Hagglund, formerly with the Deschutes Milling company of Redmond, has been here since last November. Harry Cline, formerly of Opportunity, Wash., is field representative for the mills. Further new additions to the staff will be made before fall. Earl Barnham, Dunsmuir, contractor who is building several homes in Tulelake, is in charge of construction.

OREGONIAN ACCEPTED
WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Rep. Stockman (R-Ore.) has been informed of U. S. naval academy acceptance of the college credits of his latest appointee to the academy. The appointee, Robert Earl Ward, will be given his physical examinations in August.

Nazi Youths Form "Traitor Patrols"
HERFORD, Germany, July 23 (AP)—German youths have begun going on "traitor patrols" in various towns in the British occupation zone, taking the names of all German girls they see with allied troops.
An allied officer said: "I have seen gangs of these young Germans, armed with notebooks and pencils, going along river banks spying on German girls. I saw one German girl being kicked and slapped after she had left her British soldier friends."

Salvage Drive Nets 2 Million Pounds
PORTLAND, July 23 (AP)—Salvage committee workers estimated today the city's special weekend waste paper and tin can collection netted 2,000,000 pounds of paper and 80 tons of tin.

Neighborhood corners were piled high with paper and boxes of cans early yesterday and trucks hauled all day to speed the salvage to railcars.
William A. Bowes, drive chairman, estimated paper salvage would add $15,000 to the Shrine hospital fund.

ATTENTION! HOSIERY CUSTOMERS
For a long time, Moe's, "The Women's Store," has tried to solve the retail hosiery problem to all.
★ However, we feel that the working woman has not had an equal chance to secure her allotment of hosiery, because of being confined to her job.
★ We therefore have decided to give the working girl a better chance to secure her allotment by setting apart a time strictly for her.
★ The time decided upon for offering the present stock is at an hour when most working women are off duty.
★ The next sale of HOSIERY for WORKING GIRLS will be
TUESDAY, JULY 24 FROM 4 TO 6 O'CLOCK ONLY
★ Each customer will please present a slip with her name, signed by her employer, and name of the company by which she is employed. Otherwise she will not be served.
