

Lord Byron Conceded First Place Money In Tam O'Shanter Tournament

Jug McSpaden Leads Battle For 2nd Slot

By L. E. SKELLEY
CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—That $10,000 cash prize for first place in the All-American Open golf tournament was as good as money in the bank for Byron Nelson today.

The ruddy-faced Nelson entered the final 18 holes of the 72-hole championship with a record 202 total and a six stroke lead over Harold (Jug) McSpaden, one of his closest golfing friends.

Yesterday Nelson mechanically ground out a 68 to add to previous 66 and 68 scores and go 14 strokes below par for the 54-hole distance.

Nelson Conceded Title
How could the guy lose, they were asking around Tom O'Shanter where an estimated 20,000 persons swarmed over the fairways. It was generally conceded he would win his fourth All-American title in five starts and easily better the 278 record he established in 1941, the first year of the tournament.

With Nelson regarded as a shoe-in for the championship, attention turned to the anticipated battle for second place, which carries a $5000 cash prize. McSpaden, who also shot a third round 68, held a one stroke lead over Lt. Ben Hogan who had a similar margin over Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen, Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Flight Officer Frank Stranahan.

Right back of the fourth place foursome were Vic Ghezzi, a recent army discharge, with a 211 and the veteran trick shot artist Joe Kirkwood with a 212.

Amateur Lead Shared
Stranahan's 210 total was good for a first place tie with Art Doering of Denver in the All-American amateur meet which, with the All-American Women's Open, is running concurrently.

Stranahan and Doering, who is not entered in the Open, both shot 70's for their third round and Bob Cochran of St. Louis posted an even par 72 for a 216 total and third place.

Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, scoring a third round 80, held the women's lead at 54 holes with a 233 total, two strokes ahead of Lt. Patty Berg of Minneapolis. Phyllis Otto, Iowa champion, moved into third place with a round 78 for a 240 aggregate.

The final 18 holes in the three events originally were scheduled for yesterday but a violent mid-afternoon rainstorm Saturday caused a one day delay of third round play.

JUST AN ALL ROUND MAN
DETROIT (AP)—Jack Simmons, University of Detroit's power house fullback, is a talented violinist. Simmons won the heavy-weight boxing championship at Great Lakes naval training center.

Out In Close Play At Home

Yankee Second Baseman George Stinweis is tagged out at home plate by Chicago Catcher Mike Tresh in an attempt to score on Crossetti's grounder to White Sox Pitcher Bill Dietrich in the second inning at Yankee Stadium. Umpire Bill McGowan calls the play. Chicago won 1 to 0. (AP Wirephoto).

Marines Whip Dunsmuir 7-3, For 12th Straight

The Leathernecks' brilliant right-hand chucker, Hy Chapin, boosted the marines winning streak to an even dozen Sunday afternoon when the marines stopped the Dunsmuir club at their home park, 7-3.

The marines got off to a slow start in the first when Chapin issued two free passes and a single, scoring one run. A fielder's choice and a bad throw accounted for another tally for Dunsmuir.

In the third, Slimak led off with a double. Gilbreath sacrificed the runner to third and Czyzewski brought him home with a single. Busch, next marine batter, was safe when Dunsmuir's first baseman pulled his foot off the sack. Bogarski lifted a nice one over second good for a single and scoring Czyzewski.

With the score tied at the beginning of the fifth, Slimak again led off for the marines and rapped one between first and second. Gilbreath duplicated the order advancing Slimak to third and Branham doubled bringing both runners home.

In Dunsmuir's half of the fifth, Chapin ran into trouble again but was saved by a sensational throw from Czyzewski to the plate. With a man on second and third via a single and a double, and one out, Yeo lifted a high fly to the marine left fielder. Fiddler, third base runner, started for home when the catch was completed but Czyzewski wound up and threw him out by at least 12 feet.

The brilliant gardener work wasn't confined merely to the Pacific veterans. Outfielders Yeo, Richmond and Bambini accounted for four circling catches that robbed the marines of extra base hits.

	R	H	E
Marines	7	12	3
Dunsmuir	3	8	2

Batteries: Marines, Chapin and Bogarski; Dunsmuir, E. Coon and G. Coon and Feminus.

Walla Walla Coach Killed In Accident

WALLA WALLA, July 30 (AP)—Injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Tallgate Saturday were fatal yesterday to Orville L. Hult, head coach at Walla Walla high school of the past year. Mrs. Hult also died as a result of the accident and their six-year-old son suffered shock.

The car in which the Hults were riding collided with a truck, hurtled down an embankment and struck a tree.

Bluejackets Wax Ashland Nine, 15-0

Chief Norm Worthley limited an Ashland nine to one hit yesterday afternoon as the sailors racked up their eighth victory in Southern Oregon league play by lambasting the opposition, 15 to 0.

Jones, Ashland second baseman, singled in the fourth frame for the lone Ashland hit. The sailors scored three runs in the first inning to jump off to an early lead and were never threatened.

The bluejackets ran wild on the base paths, stealing 19 bases. Frederick, sailor first sacker, opened the scoring in the first frame by driving out a triple with two men aboard. He counted for three hits in five trips to the plate.

The naval air station pine has now won eight and lost one in league play. They travel to Medford next weekend where they meet the Craters Saturday and Sunday. The game Sunday will be the only game to affect the league standings.

	R	H	E
KNAS	15	18	2
Ashland	0	1	1

Batteries: KNAS, Worthley and Biddie; Ashland, Marin and Larson.

Conger Raps Mills, 30-0, In Wild Tilt

In a wild hitting and scoring spree, Conger defeated Mills on aulls field Saturday evening by the lopsided score of 30 to 0. Conger Pitchers Petzoldt and Whitt, allowed only one hit between them, and no Mills' player advanced beyond third base.

Conger's high scoring was aided by the willingness of Mills' pitchers, who issued 17 walks. Whitt, Conger pitcher, not satisfied with his portion of the pitching chores, banged out the four-u-u nover and tripled in two m.o.e runs. Dale Craig led the Conger hitters with a single, two doubles and a walk in four times at bat.

	R	H	E
Conger	30	17	1
Mills	0	1	11

Batteries: Petzoldt, Whitt and Petzoldt, Abbey, Randall, Daves and Flora. Umpire: Lynn Roycroft.

Cum Laude Captures Seattle Handicap

SEATTLE, July 30 (AP)—Dr. L. H. Appleby's Cum Laude, British Columbia horse, ran a mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 yesterday to win the $5,020 Seattle handicap at Longacres race track, leading from wire to wire. The winner paid $16.50, $7.40 and $6. Second-place Silver Treason paid $4 and $3.10 and Lavengro paid $7.40 show money. The mutual handle for the day was $380,933.

Portland Divides 2 With Suds

Rainiers Wind Up With 4-3 Series Edge Over Beavers; Portland Leads By 6 Games

By PAUL WELLS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Lanceolli hungry fans, whose attendance set new series records at Cascadia and Hollywood in the last seven days, awaited the 20th week of the Pacific Coast league season today with ravenous beavers still holding a comfortable six-game lead.

In an action-packed weekend, Seattle's rainiers wound up with a 4-3 series edge over the Beavers after spitting Sunday's twin bill 2-3 and 1-1 and dropping Saturday's encounter 9-6. The week's engagement saw 48,381 spectators file through the turnstiles to break the previous mark of 50,461 set in 1939.

Hollywood's total of 38,352 was attributable to the Stars' unexpected resurgence in which they took six out of seven from the Los Angeles angels after losing 12 out of 14 in the previous two weeks. The Twinks swept a Sunday doubleheader 4-2 and 3-2 and took Saturday's tilt 3-3.

San Francisco's Seals shedded the Oakland Aorns 4-3 in their series, dividing yesterday's double feature 4-3 and 0-1 after winning 3-2 Saturday. Sunday's opener saw Bob Joyce, the league's top pitcher in number of victories, cap his 23rd of the year.

Sacramento dropped into fourth place below the Seals as the San Diego Padres won four out of seven. The Padres squeezed out a 10-9 decision Saturday in 11 innings and split Sunday's menu 5-6 and 9-3.

Roy Helser, Portland southpaw, registered his 16th triumph of the season in yesterday's curtain raiser at Seattle, beating out veteran Carl Fischer 3-2 in a mound duel that saw both clubs get eight hits. Joe Demoran led the Beavers to six safeties as the Rainiers easily won the seven-inning finale 5-1. Don Pulford, erstwhile ace of the Portland pitching staff, was charged with the defeat. Seattle's victory in the series was its first of the year against Portland. They will meet for the fourth and last time next week at Beavertown.

Thoren Wins Pikes Peak Golf Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 30 (AP)—A total of 283 over the 72-hole route yesterday won the Pikes Peak Open golf championship for Lt. John Thoren of Fitzsimons General hospital at Denver.

The former Boston pro shot a three-under par 69 on the final 13 holes to defeat defending champion Ellisworth Vines of the Denver country club by one stroke. Vines was ahead of the field when yesterday's round began.

Harry Todd of Dallas scored 280 for third place. O. H. Hoffmeister of second air force headquarters in Colorado Springs and Snee Stewart, Albuquerque, N. M., tied for first place in the amateur division with 298. Next was Al Edwards, Colorado Springs city champion, with a 300, and another local golfer, I. W. Stimits Jr., was third with 300.

Mildred Babe Dirlikson Zaharias of Pueblo, sole woman contestant, posted a 310 in the amateur division.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

Lillard Eyes Double Main Event Friday

Promoter Mack Lillard, the boss-man of Caulfield Row, is contemplating a double main event on this week's rassing show. Definite confirmation has not been received from all four muscilers yet, but Lillard expects all the boys to be agreeable to the proposed tussle.

The two top bouts will pit Paavo Katonen against Antone Leone and the other pairs Georges Dussette with Jack "Buck" Lipscomb. Both tiffs will be six 10-minute rounds of two out of three falls.

A coin will be flipped to decide which match will precede the other. These will be two gory frays and a title bout may be arranged between the two victors or an elimination with the winner meeting Dussette, should he lose to Katonen.

Patty Berg Wants War Over Soon

By JIMMY JORDAN
CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—Lt. Patty Berg of the U. S. marines wants to get this war over "the sooner the quicker" for two reasons.

"The first one is obvious," the short, red-headed, freckled ace of women's golf said. "It's gone on long enough already."

"The second is selfish, perhaps, on my part," she added. "I want to play more golf."

Patty, now in second place in the women's section of the All-American Open tournament at Tam O'Shanter golf course, is doing her part to end the war. But she hasn't been playing much golf since she received her commission in the marines.

"One tournament a year isn't enough for a golfer," she said. "It's that competition that makes a golfer. Of course, practice and ordinary play keep your game in shape mechanically, but the mental and nervous strain you have in a tournament isn't there in that kind of play."

She recorded a two-over-par 77 for a 54-hole total of 235 yesterday, two strokes behind Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia.

Right now, Patty is working in the recruiting section of the marines at Philadelphia. She is in charge of about 50 other lady marines, and is connected with the induction center.

Spy Song Cops Arlington Race By 6 1/2 Lengths

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Spy Song, Charles T. Fisher's little brown colt, today stands out as the season's ranking juvenile on the strength of his one-sided triumph in the $71,300 Arlington futurity.

Winner of his first two starts by six and 12 length margins, the fast-stepping, undefeated son of Balladier-Mata Hari made a show of Saturday's classic at Chicago's Washington park with a five length victory over Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's fleet knockdown, John March, who was gunning for his fourth futurity, had to be content with the show position as his mighty story trailed knockdown by another 2 1/2 lengths.

If it's a "frozen" article you need, advertise for a used one in the classified.

Cubs Sweep Double Bill From Reds; Bengals Win

Wyse, Borowy Whip Cincinnati Club; Bruins Increase Margin To 5 1/2 Games

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hank Borowy, whom the pennant-hungry Chicago Cubs purchased from the New York Yankees only last Friday for a reported $100,000, already has begun to pay dividends on the investment.

The frail-looking righthander, whose departure from the American league via the waiver route, caused Owner Clark Griffith of Washington to go up in arms over the waiver clause, made his National league debut a successful one yesterday by pitching a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati. The Cubs scored a double triumph over the Reds when Hank Wyse won the opener, 4-1, for his 15th win, tops for National league hurlers.

Reds Held To 7 Hits
Fordham Hank limited the Reds to seven safeties, and after yielding single tallies in the second and third frames, held the redlegs scoreless the remainder of the contest. A home run by Bill Nicholson in the first with one on got Borowy off to a good start, and a pair of singles by Andy Pafko and Lenny Merullo in the sixth, sandwiched around a sacrifice, proved to be the deciding run.

Borowy came close to seeing his game tied in the ninth, but a fine throw by Harry Lowrey cut down Frank McCormick, trying to score from second on Eddie Miller's single, the usually mild-mannered Bill McKechnie and Third Baseman Steve Mesner of the Reds kicked so strenuously they were ruled off the field.

The double win gave the Bruins a record of 13 victories in 13 starts against the Reds, and increased their first place lead over the St. Louis Cardinals to five and a half games.

If President Larry MacPhail of the Yankees felt any remorse over Borowy's fine showing with the Cubs, he must have been comforted by the Bronxites' double win over Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1 and 11-3. The clean sweep moved the Yanks into second place one game over Washington's Senators who lost to Boston.

Ernie Bonham outlasted Bob Newsom and Steve Gerkin in 10 innings of the opener, with Gerkin, who hasn't won a game this year, charged with his 11th loss. The second was a rompy for Bill Zuber, the Yankees combing two Mackmen for 17 hits.

Brooklyn handed the slumping Boston Braves a double licking, 5-2 and 15-4, to make a clean sweep of its four game series with the Hubner and handing the losers their ninth straight setback. Goody Rosen and Augie Galan, with six hits each, led the Dodger attack, Galan driving in eight runs.

The Cardinals divided a double header with Pittsburgh. The Pirates won the opener, 9-6 in 10 innings and the Redbirds, with Lefty George Dockins gaining his first starting victory of the season, winning the second 6-4, a three-run homer by St. Louis' Whitey Kurowski was the winning blow.

A Detroit crowd of 33,780 saw the Tigers come from behind to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, in a single contest. Al Benton won his ninth for the Tigers.

Tex Shirley of St. Louis and Jim Bagby of Cleveland swapped shutouts as the Browns won the first, 4-0, and the Indians the second, 3-0.

Bartzen Opens Bid For Junior Tennis Crown

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 30 (AP)—Bernie Bartzen, the San Angelo, Tex., youngster who lost to Job Falkenberg, Hollywood, Calif., in the finals of the national junior tennis championships here last year, opened his bid to halt the 1945 sweep of Herbie Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif., as they opened today in the national junior and boys' tournament at Kalamazoo college.

Bartzen, seeded first in the junior division, lost to Flam two weeks ago in the finals of the River Forest, Ill., invitational tourney.

Chicagoans Turn Somersaults As Bruins Drive Toward Flag Under "Jolly Cholly"

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

The stands are filled for weekday games. On Sunday's the "All tickets sold" signs are up at noon. Thousands are turned away.

It is beyond dispute that Grimm, with tremendous popularity and success, has been the revivalist. When Grimm was recalled in May, 1944, to the job from which he was summarily fired six years earlier, the Cubs had languished in the second division for four consecutive years. The attendance, which once touched 1,400,000 in the halcyon Hack Wilson home run days of 1930, had dropped to an annual average of 500,000 or less. The club was in last place.

Now, with practically the same team he inherited from Jimmy Wilson 14 months ago, Grimm is out in front by an even larger margin than at the same time in the Cubs' pennant years of 1932 and '35. With the exception of Don Johnson, second baseman, and Andy Pafko, centerfielder, rookies of last year, and some secondary batterymen, the entire cast is a holdover from the Wilson era.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—There is Grimm prosperity at Chicago's Wrigley field for the first time in ten years.

Leather-faced Charlie Grimm, whose coaching line acrobatics are extra-curricular entertainment wherever his Cubs play, has Chicagoans turning somersaults with him these days. He also has them in lines, shouldering their way into Wrigley field, where the Cubs are driving toward what could be their third National league pennant during his hypenated eight-year managerial reign.

When the league leading Cubs end their 23-game home stand next Thursday, more than 325,000 will have paid to see them play during the past three weeks.

That's more than some major league clubs have drawn in an entire season.

With this showing, it's no wonder Grimm swings added zest to his antics at third base coaching box. He doffs his cap and uses it to dust off the base for a home run hitter to step upon as he trots plateward. . . . When a pitcher hits a homer that pitchers aren't supposed to hit, he topples over backwards in a "dead faint." . . . When a foul liner streaks by his feet in the coaching box, he picks up a mitt, puts his hands on his knees in characteristic defensive style and fields his position.

Still a better fielder than many active players much younger—he'll be 47 August 28—Grimm once flogged a foul liner with his bare hands. While the fan howled, he counted his fingers then frantically started searching the ground for a "missing" digit.

Grimm has Cub fans sizzling where it counts most—at the turnstiles. With the attendance around 570,000 now, the total may reach 900,000 for the full season, provided they keep on winning.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Dr. Clarence (Doc) Spears, resigned as U. of Maryland's football coach in order to practice medicine.

TRUCKS AND PICKUPS FOR R