

ANNUAL CATTLE SHOW AND SALE DATES NAMED

The Cal-Oregon Hereford association show is set for October 28, with the annual sale to follow October 29.

Approximately 150 pedigreed bulls and 50 to 75 females from the best California and Oregon herds will be auctioned off by Earl Walters in the sales pavilion at Klamath fairgrounds.

Entries for the show are reportedly coming in rapidly, and Hereford stock owners are requested to have all entries in to Mitchell Tillotson by August 15. The committee includes: Elmer Balsiger, Bill Serruys, Lawrence Horton, of Klamath Falls; John Day, Blue Moon ranch, Medford; Claus Charley, Brownsboro. This group will meet to pass on entries and make final plans for the sale.

Cash premiums in addition to ribbons will be awarded for the first time at the show Sunday. Klamath county is co-operating with the Cal-Oregon Hereford association, of which Day is president, to provide the prizes. A full list of the premiums offered will be announced later.

Other officers of the association are: Bert Hoy of Weed, Calif., vice president; Tillotson, sales manager; Maxine Cameron, secretary.

Catalogues will be ready the latter part of September with extended pedigrees of animals listed. They will be mailed on request to anyone interested.

To facilitate printing the catalogue, three-generation tabulated pedigrees of all animals should be submitted with list of entries.

PLAN RETURN

ALBANY Aug. 13 (AP)—Senator Morse and Congressman Ellsworth reported here they both expect to return to the capital for reconvening of congress September 4.

Our Home Town

His Master's Voice

By EARL WHITLOCK

You recall the picture, of course—the little fox terrier with his ears cocked and his head to one side as he listens to a gramophone. It was a picture from the old horn-model talking machine. I imagine you could call that one of the world's best known paintings. Perhaps it will live in your memory when many of the famous classicists are forgotten. Yet it was painted by an unknown artist, one Francis Barraud, a young Englishman just starting on an art career that never did reach the heights. It was his own little dog that gave him the idea—posing naturally, one day in front of the machine.

And a nice thing is that the company, after they had bought the painting for advertising purposes, and had made it into one of the world's great trademarks, did not forget the obscure man who had painted it. During the latter years of his life he was pensioned by the corporation. Which proves that not all big businesses are the soul-less things we may have been led to believe.

Flashes of Life

BILLBOARD
BURLINGTON, Ia., Aug. 13 (AP)—In warm weather, Van Garrison, sports editor of the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, attended church wearing his bowling shirt beneath his suit coat.

The Rev. Bruce Masselink invited the male portion of his congregation to remove their coats. They did so, including Garrison.

There, blazoned on his back, was the name of a nationally advertised beer.

PERSISTENCE
CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Chicago, as the saying goes, has an unstable climate.

But Vincent Toscano has managed to bring a fig tree, which usually prefers a stable and somewhat warmer climate, to the bearing stage through five years of work.

FREE COMPETITION
RICHFIELD, Utah, Aug. 13 (AP)—Richfield's state liquor store now has a "competitor" that knows no closing hours.

It's the city's new municipally-owned and operated drinking water fountain, installed yesterday on the sidewalk directly in front of the liquor shop.

GOOD EARTH
FIRTH, Ida., Aug. 13 (AP)—Franklin just was working on the Fred Bennett farm with J. P. Croft when the latter dropped and lost his high school class ring. That was 17 years ago.

Just, who now owns the farm, found the ring yesterday while he was irrigating potatoes.

WPB Acquits Portland Man

PORTLAND, Aug. 13 (AP)—Mike Steinbock, accused of building a night club in violation of war production board conservation orders, has been acquitted of the charge.

He was found innocent in federal district court Saturday after he testified he started to serve lunches to war workers, but these customers failed to materialize. William T. Hedlund, his attorney, said plans submitted to WPB showed the place, now Leonard's Supper club, could easily be converted into a night spot.

PORTLAND, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Eighth War Loan drive, tentatively set for mid-November, will be staged regardless of when the war ends, E. C. Sammons, state war finance committee chairman, said today.

The campaign, which probably will be called a "Victory Loan," might be the last of the bond drives, he reported. He will attend a meeting in Washington September 5-6 to make plans.

OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

ASSIGNED
Sgt. Orval L. McFadyen, son of Hugh McFadyen of Route 1, Cottonwood, Calif., has been assigned to one of the most distinguished of the units of the army air forces, the 376th bombardment group.

His wife, Gertrude, lives at 2310 Orchard St., Klamath Falls, Ore.

This much-decorated unit, commanded by Col. Robert H. Warren, Yankton, S. D., flew B-24 Liberators on 452 long-range combat missions in the Middle East, North Africa and Europe. Now the unit is training with B-29 Superfortresses at Grand Island army air field, Nebraska.

Sgt. McFadyen was a lumber scaler at Ewatauna Lumber company, Klamath Falls, before entering the army October 21, 1941. He attended the Sheppard Field, Texas, airplane mechanic school, gunnery school at Las Vegas gunnery field and engine school at Amarillo air field. His present assignment with the 376th bombardment group is crew chief.

TRAINS

ABOARD THE USS PETROF BAY IN THE PACIFIC—Lt. (jg) Charles E. Race of Fort Klamath, Ore., helped polish off Japanese planes and shipping when this small aircraft carrier fought at Okinawa, Iwo Jima and in other engagements that sometimes carried her within 15 miles of enemy-held bases.

Fighting off suicide planes, torpedoes, bombs, strafing and surface and undersea attacks has been a daily routine for the Petrof Bay since she first tangled with the Japs in September, 1944, at Palau.

Pilots from this carrier have knocked down 20 Jap planes and the ship's gunners have accounted for five more. Five flags painted on the bridge signify that three Jap cruisers, a destroyer and a merchant ship have fallen victims to the Petrof Bay.

MILLS SOLD
EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Snellstrom-Ingham Lumber company logging and planing mills at Glendale and extensive lumber holdings in the area have been purchased by the Robert Dollar company. The Glendale operation, one of the largest in Douglas county, has a 125,000 feet daily capacity.

Decorated
U. S. NAVAL HOSPITAL, OAKLAND, Calif.—Marine PFC Robert C. Walton of Klamath Falls, Ore., was awarded the Purple Heart medal here recently for wounds received in action against the enemy on Okinawa May 20.

The 21-year-old Leatherneck was hit in the left arm by mortar shell fragments while advancing with the front lines. Before joining the marine corps in Portland, Ore., May 20, 1943, he attended Custer high school in Custer, S. D., and later worked in a logging camp there. After recruit training at San Diego, he was shipped overseas in December, 1943, to New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, Guam and Okinawa.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Snider, live at 438 Washington in Klamath Falls.

Parents Get Word Of Son's Injuries

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ongman of 2245 Radcliffe have received word that their son, Clifton Ongman, MM3/c with the navy, has been wounded in the Pacific. Ongman was on the ship Callaghan which was just reported as sunk by the war department.

Ongman was not seriously wounded according to a letter received by his wife, Mrs. Clifton Ongman of 2006 Garden. He is now an evacuation ship and plans to be home soon.

Ongman has been with the 58th task force and has participated in the Philippine campaigns, the bombardment of Tokyo, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The United States has sufficient unmined iron ore to last several hundred years.

USO Sponsors Horseback Rides

Horseback rides are being offered as a regular Thursday night feature to service people in this area now, according to the USO sponsors.

The USO will furnish transportation from the clubrooms and will finance the rides which will start from the AB corrals, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buck.

Rides are taken to a picnic area where a wiener roast is held. Six can be accommodated each week and any one interested is asked to sign up at the USO.
