

WCTU Head Claims Gambling Again On Loose In Klamath

Charges that "gambling had opened again in Klamath county" were made at the council meeting last night by Mrs. Ellen Rogers, president of the WCTU.

She commended Sgt. Earl Tichenor of the Oregon state police for his recent action against slot machines in Klamath county, but complained that minor children in Klamath Falls are in the habit of frequenting saloons and asked that this practice be stopped. She persistently referred to "gambling on the poles" and repeatedly asked the "assistant police chief" to express his opinion.

Complaint Suggested

She stated that she had heard that gambling had "opened up" again here, but when questioned by Mayor Ed Ostendorf she refused to divulge the source of her information.

Councilman Rollin Cantrall ended the discussion by stating that if she was earnest and sincere in her accusations she should file a complaint.

Mrs. Charles Hollenbeck appeared at the meeting and once again complained that baseballs roused off the outs of players at Recreation park constituted a positive menace to her home. She said that the windows of her home had been shattered by baseballs and stated that she would file a complaint in necessary to restrict baseball from being played there.

E. E. Hambrick, city recreation officer, said that he had contacted the Marine Barracks about the situation and that the marines had agreed to construct an additional backstop for further protection to homes in that area.

Paul Haines, sports editor of The Herald and News and representative of Legion Junior baseball, said that he regretted the situation exceedingly and that there was no doubt that Mrs. Hollenbeck had a legitimate complaint. He pointed out that the ball park is owned by the city and that by the same token, perhaps the city should assist in rectifying the problem.

Survey Authorized

After a somewhat lengthy discussion it was decided to refer the matter to a committee composed of Councilman Rollin Cantrall, Paul Landry and Harvey Martin to make a first-hand survey and offer a recommendation with power to act.

Cemetery Question

J. E. Swansen told the council that he was planning on furnishing ing a cemetery plot for Henry Hobson, negro, who prior to his death Sunday had been employed as a porter at Swansen's barber shop for 18 years.

Councilman Cantrall said that it had been the policy in the past to bury colored people in a reserved section of the cemetery and that he did not believe this policy should be changed.

Swansen said that "was well and good but still showed racial discrimination." Councilman Landry made a motion that the council abide by the present policy and it was seconded by Cantrall and passed.

The Intermountain Plumbing company was awarded the contract for installing a sprinkling system at the new Klamath Memorial park. The company had submitted the low bid of $14,696.95 and the contract was awarded upon the recommendation of the cemetery committee.

A petition signed by seven property owners on Michigan avenue asking that something be done about standing water in the street was read by Police Judge Harold Franey.

E. A. Thomas, city engineer, stated that the water comes from a seepage from the canal and Mayor Ed Ostendorf said that he would write a letter of protest to the U. S. bureau of reclamation.

Pavement Project

E. S. Edwards told the council that property owners in the 2600 block of Orchard way desire paving of the street. Mayor Ostendorf said that he would contact other property owners in that area and determine if they were agreeable.

Edwards was also asked to furnish $100 for a survey of the district.

M. C. Gleason told council members that he had purchased a furnace direct from the city in a home in which Mrs. Rose Goddard lived. Mrs. Goddard was moved by the city from this dwelling, he said, and when he went into the house the electrical controls for the furnace were gone.

If this equipment was not recovered, he stated that he would file a complaint against A. W. Downs, building inspector, now lodged in the county jail in lieu of $5000 bail charged with arson.

Eighteen property owners in the Hot Springs addition deeded three lots at Esplanade, Earl and Pacific Terrace to the city to be used as the site for a park. The property owners who donated the lots included A. D. Lambert, Guy Hancock, Dr. Warren Hunt, George A. Myers, Fred Schallach, Glenn Kent, Dr. R. W. Stearns, C. A. Henderson, Dr. George A. Massey, V. J. Josephson, E. S. Veatch, Fred Eyerly, Dr. M. E. Cooper, B. L. Hardenbrook, W. E. Wiesendanger, Mrs. Jean Puckett and T. B. Watters.

Liquor Control Approves Plan

PORTLAND, Aug. 14 (AP)—A recommendation that juvenile courts hearing cases involving sale of liquor to minors issue warrants for arrest of state liquor licenses has been approved by the Oregon liquor control commission.

Heretofore such cases have been referred to the commission for punitive action against the licensee. The commission said yesterday the new Knox law amendment provides six months imprisonment and $500 fine for persons found guilty of selling to minors.

Henry, the IV of France ordered the death penalty for users or importers of indigo.

Normal annual consumption of iron ore in the United States is about 50 million gross tons.
