

CHAMBER DRIVE WOULD STRESS SCHOOL VALUE

Plans for a concerted drive to secure maximum enrollment of school age persons who have been working temporarily are being whipped into shape by a special committee of the Klamath county chamber of commerce under Chairman George Conner and Director A. M. Collier.

Purposes of the drive are to demonstrate to boys and girls now working that additional education will fit them for better jobs than they would otherwise be qualified to hold and to make openings in the labor market for returning veterans.

Typical employers in various fields of business and industry are being asked to make statements in support of the drive. These statements will be published in The Herald and News at frequent intervals until school enrollment is completed. Talks will be made before service clubs and other organizations to interest employers and parents in the program. Volunteer speakers will carry the message to as many listeners as possible.

Conner Comments

"Studies made by the education committee of the U. S. chamber of commerce show that among wage and salary workers, the higher incomes generally are received by persons of higher education," Conner stated today. "This is important to the individual worker himself, but is also important to the community as a whole. Per capita retail sales are highest in the states whose citizens have reached the highest educational levels."

The studies referred to by Conner show that Oregon is reasonably close to the top in the nation in both educational level and per capita retail sales. There is a danger that educational levels may drop if a special effort is not made to return as many students as possible to their interrupted studies.

Building Plans To Be Completed

SALEM, Aug. 22 (AP)—Plans will be completed by Thanksgiving Day for new state buildings to cost $4,400,000, the state board of control said today.

The buildings, financed by the legislature, include a $1,500,000 state office building and a $500,000 medical treatment hospital at the State hospital.

Plans for the $6,000,000 worth of state buildings and the $4,000,000 of college and university buildings, all of which was approved at a special election last June, will be finished later.

Flashes of Life

NOT SO NUTTY
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Consider the squirrel! He stores the seed and the state conservation department reapeth a $5000 harvest.

Workers said red squirrel storage vaults for excess quantities of white pine seeds are used in reforestation projects. This eliminates thousands of hours of climbing and saves at least $5000 in payrolls each season, the department says.

TROUBADOURS
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 22 (AP)—Those singing telegrams, which were still a novelty when war halted the practice, have been restored here, at least theoretically.

An operator for the company, asked if a singing messenger boy had been obtained, replied: "Well, no certain person has been hired, but we can all try it, you know."

LUCKY
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 22 (AP)—The city of Springfield has solved its reconversion problem and there will be "no dislocation here at all," says Director Louis Repp of the chamber of commerce. The reason:

"It's because we didn't get any 'big war industries' though we tried hard enough," he explained.

SALARY INCREASE RESTRICTIONS CUT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The internal revenue bureau today formally relaxed restrictions on salary increases in the $5000 a year or higher brackets. The action, taken by the bureau's salary stabilization unit, followed a similar step ordered last week by President Truman for salaries under $5000 which are under the jurisdiction of the war labor board.

The new policy applies, in addition to salaries, to bonuses, commissions, fees, incentive pay and all other types of compensation.

PAPER PROFIT

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 22 (AP)—The federal court says it's O. K. for Morris Goldman to continue to charge himself brokerage fees of $25 a car in excess of ceiling prices for produce. The OPA sued Morris Goldman, Inc., wholesale produce firm, for $10,135 treble damages for alleged overcharging sales to the American Produce company. Goldman also owns American produce. The court dismissed the suit.

Cosmopolitan Magazine Features Local Marine Barracks In July Issue

"How the Navy Licked 'Mu-Mu'" is the title of an article in the latest issue of the Cosmopolitan appearing on the news stands this month.

The feature, written by Albert Q. Maisel, describes the Marine Barracks installation at Klamath Falls and tells how navy medics, under the direction of Captain Lowell T. Coggeshall, senior medical officer, think that they have beaten the dreaded filariasis picked up by the marines in the South Pacific.

Maisel also gives the story of how Klamath Falls was chosen for this unique installation because of ideal climatic conditions and recreational facilities.

The four main fears of the marines sent home from the Pacific after they had contracted Mu-Mu, the native name for the disease, were the pain of the disease, the possibility that they would be disfigured or deformed, and the threats of impotence and sterility. These fears were laid to rest by navy doctors.

According to the article written for the Cosmopolitan, at one time almost all of the crack Third Marine division was laid low by the strange illness and later every man who had spent more than a few weeks in American or British Samoa was suspected of being infected by filariasis.

These men were accumulating at navy hospitals in the United States until the Marine Barracks at Klamath Falls came into being. Since that time almost all of the men whose minds were

The Labor Day rodeo to be held at the fairgrounds September 2-3, has attracted many local cowboys as well as top professional rodeo performers by purses offered amounting to $1600.

Mac Barbour's stock, used in prominent western shows throughout the Pacific northwest, is now in Eureka, Calif., for the rodeo being held there this week, after which it will be brought here for the Labor Day show. Cowboys participating in the Eureka show plan to take part in the Klamath Falls rodeo also, before going to Pendleton to join the Roundup there.

Barbour winters his stock at his ranch near Williams, Calif., and brings it to his ranch in Oregon for summer grazing between rodeo engagements.

The following cowboys, who are known by their names to most rodeo fans in the Pacific northwest, have registered for the September show at the fairgrounds: Carroll Brunton, Klamath Falls; Friedman Kirk, Captain Kidd and Lawrence Hill, Chillicothe; Buck Scott, Coyote; George Francis and Bobby Hutchison, Beatty; Ronny Wilson and Moon Jackson, Sprague River.
