

EASED CONTROL FINDS LUMBER SUPPLY SHORT

is going to look to management and labor to settle their own problems.

The WLB requested the west coast lumber industry and AFL and CIO unions to resume negotiations in an effort to settle their disputes in the light of a new wage policy, which permits wage increases which do not permit strikes.

The action was in keeping with the board's announced practice of urging industry to settle its own problems by collective bargaining, leaving only the most critical disputes for settlement by the board which is striving to liquidate itself in the near future.

The board unanimously adopted yesterday a resolution declaring it to be "the consensus of opinion that the parties should be afforded reasonable opportunity through collective bargaining to resiprocate the wage issues in the light of the new wage policy . . . and in relation to the problem of reconversion in the lumber industry."

"Assurance was given the board that the parties were prepared to enter into collective bargaining on their return to the west coast, and that every effort would be made to conclude an agreement. If no agreement is reached, the parties will be prepared to present their cases to the board."

Procedure Set
Collective bargaining is to begin at once, with the parties keeping the west coast lumber commission of the board advised on progress of negotiations. The commission is to make an interim report to WLB by September 20 on the status of these negotiations.

The board then will schedule hearings contingent on the final outcome of negotiations. A tentative date for beginning those hearings is September 27.

The board added that the same procedure will be followed for certain western lumber cases still under the jurisdiction of regional boards.

Approximately 130,000 workers are involved in west coast industry in California, Washington, Oregon, Montana, and Idaho.

Vote
The AFL lumber and sawmill workers, affiliated with the carpenters union, has requested a strike vote be taken by the national labor relations board in all the states involved except California. The first of these votes will be taken August 29.

The Klamath strike, called by CIO, was taken without the strike vote procedure set up by the Smith-Connelly act and adopted in the AFL situation.

AWNING BURNED
An awning on the Montgomery Ward store at 9th and Pine streets was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. The fire department was called at 2:25 a. m., to extinguish the blaze which was confined to the awning.

Police Court—Two drunks appeared in police court this morning. One additional drunk bailed out.

EDNA CHOCKTOOT WINS PROBATION

Edna Mae Chocktoot, Klamath Agency, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of government mail from a post office box at an arraignment in federal court this morning and was placed on three years probation by Federal Judge James Alger Fee.

A two-year prison sentence was suspended by Judge Fee and probation was granted on the condition that she refrain from the use of intoxicating liquor. A. C. Vaden represented the defendant and was appointed probation advisor and accepted the responsibility of the defendant living up to the terms of the probation.

Restitution of $20 was made in the case.

IVORY BID FAVORED ON INDIAN TIMBER

Klamath agency superintendent has recommended acceptance of a bid of the Ivory Pine company for some 10 million feet of timber in the Kanotit unit on the Klamath Indian reservation.

Ivory bid $8.60 for the pine, $4.30 for the Douglas fir and cedar, and $2.20 for other species.

The only other bid was submitted by Ewauna Box company, which offered $9.75 for pine, $3.40 for fir, and $1.70 for other species.

Supt. B. G. Courtright said that $8.60, the Ivory bid, is the limit permitted by OPA, and pointed out in a telegram to the Indian department that on the other species, Ivory's bid was the highest.

of 62 homes for men of the station and their families.

The buildings are 56 feet long and were built at a cost of $3000 per building. This does not include the cost of the furniture.

A $10 service fee is charged to tenants when they first move into the units and from that time, the charge is $1 per day.

Homoja Personnel
Lt. E. C. Granbery, assistant public works officer at the base, is responsible for the management of the huts and Lt. Robert MacGregor, housing officer, makes the housing assignments. Taking care of the office for the Homoja huts is Mrs. Helen Andrews.

The units were built under contract for the navy by the Todd Construction company under the local direction of Dave Taylor.

First used by the navy at the submarine base in New London, Conn., these housing units have been found practical by many of the navy stations.

Symbolic Name
The Homoja huts, in some places called Quonset huts, are named for three navy admirals. The first two letters of the names of Admiral Horn, vice chief of naval operations, Admiral Moreel, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and Admiral Jacobs, chief of the bureau of naval personnel, were put together to form the word Homoja. It was due to these three men that the huts were adopted for navy use.

BRICCO WINS ACQUITTAL IN FEDERAL CASE

stamped with the official U. S. government stamp was a much debated question and Boivin asked why Edward B. Twining, U. S. attorney, did not produce these cases as evidence in court.

Boivin stated that there were six different versions as to the type of markings stamped on the cases.

Bricco took the stand yesterday in his own defense and said upon interrogation that he had no idea that the articles were stolen or where they came from, but that he thought they came from a private concern.

Twining contended that Bricco knew exactly what he was doing when he bought the goods which were delivered by men in uniform in a marine corps truck. He also said that Bricco would not have paid $850 for the cases without first checking the contents.

He also charged that Bricco gave no points for the meat and butter he allegedly bought.

The government placed W/O Edward Kron, who was assistant provost marshal at the Marine Barracks on or about April 27 when the goods were allegedly stolen, on the stand and Kron testified that he told Bricco that "you've got yourself into a hell of a peck of trouble," whereupon Bricco allegedly replied, "I sure have. This is the first time I've ever been a crook."

Defense witnesses were Frank Z. Howard, Bricco, Mrs. Marvin Roeder, Alfred Castel, Mrs. Alfred Castel, and character witnesses included R. S. Dixon and Fred Pope, both of Ft. Klamath.

The government witnesses included the two marines who allegedly stole the property; Sgt. John W. Rogers and Sgt. Everette M. Moser, who were brought here from Terminal Island penitentiary, San Pedro, Calif.; PFC J. R. Woodridge, 1st Lt. Berthold O. Fay, W/O Emil Anreas, Max L. Greenstreet, and Kron, who is now stationed at Farragut, Ida.

Members of the jury were C. I. Hutchison, Jack Steward, Lester Lewis, W. W. Hammond, Arthur Williams, Dee Hedgeboth, Walter Germer, Harold W. Hubler, W. Bernard Roberts, Robert A. Duff, Paul B. Newcomb, and Paul McDuffee.

leaving you, our friends here, to go where duty calls us, but under the nearly 8000 white crosses in the nearby cemetery we are leaving behind us something that will be forever ours, forever yours. Through all the years to come, this will be a bond between us—a bond that nothing can ever break."

THERE are tears in many English eyes as he concludes. Many a Cambridge (and nearby) home has been saddened by what was taken from the bombers returning from Germany and laid to rest under the little white crosses—for buried here are only those whose bodies came back when the battered planes came back or who died afterward from their wounds.

Many a mother Cambridge home was saddened by what FAILED to come back. These boys of ours were taken into English homes and into English hearts. You can't fail to know that everlastingly you hear them tell of the terrible hours of "sweating it out" while waiting for the bombers, AMERICAN bombers, carrying "Angels" home to come back. And of the grief for those that never came back.

THE cemetery, with its rows on rows of simple white crosses, is placed on a gentle slope, looking out over a peaceful, pleasant, green English landscape. There are hedges. There are lovely old homes. There is peace and quiet. There is solidarity, now and for the future. There is everything our boys, both American and British, fought for.

Back of the field of crosses, with its carefully kept turf that covers lovingly and respectfully the precious remnants that lie beneath, is a screen of trees, like the shrubbery that edges a beautiful garden. There are caretakers' buildings, with a winding drive, and a simple little chapel.

As one gazes, reverently, a wagon drives up. It is a florist's wagon. It is LOADED with flowers—some of them, freighted with love and grief, and since it is all still so recent, so unsoftened by time's healing touch, with heartbreak and anguish from bereaved American homes; but many, very, very many, from English homes here in this city of Cambridge and its surrounding area, where grief for those who lie here is genuine and heartfelt and personal.

Murphy Creek Fire Flares Up

GRANTS PASS, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Murphy creek fire in the state forests of Josephine county jumped the fire trail during the high wind Monday afternoon and is still out of control, according to state forest patrol headquarters here.

Army troops from Camp White numbered 75 fighting the blaze this morning, with 50 more men expected to arrive on the scene this afternoon. In addition 25 members of a blister rust control crew are supplementing the state forest crews.

The big blaze, only one left of the 50-odd fires set by electrical storms of August 5 and 6, covers more than 1500 acres. It had been under control for more than a week when the new flare-up came.

QUISLING SOBS DENIALS DURING TREASON TRIAL

a letter which he said Quisling wrote to Hitler giving his "great Germanic" plan for placing Norway inside the German state system. Quisling disclaimed the letter, but said he had sought means of uniting a bloc of nations with Germany.

"During the occupation I had to be practical in dealing with the Germans," Quisling testified. "German authorities in Norway tried time and again to establish a military dictatorship. They wanted to make a protectorate of Norway. I fought that all the time and I think I won out, more or less."

Quisling said he had not burned a single paper of his files during the occupation because "the idea never entered my mind."

Quisling asserted that Hitler intended to grant Norway independence through him, adding: "That was his will and intention."

Schjoedt asked Quisling whether he studied concentration camps supervised by his subordinates.

"It may sound strange," Quisling replied, "but in spite of thousands of appeals to me from people in jail, I never had a single report of torture. If I had, I would have done something."

Schjoedt asked: "Did you ever listen to broadcasts from London?" There was no reply.

AIR MEMORANDUM READY FOR BOARD

Phil Hitchcock, director in charge of aviation, reported to chamber of commerce directors today that the Klamath memorandum to the civil aeronautics board, seeking a trunk airline here, has been completed.

He said the document represents the suggestions of many people and is believed to offer a convincing argument on which to base a rejection of a CAB examiner's recommendation that Klamath be given feeder service only.

It will be offered officially by the city of Klamath Falls, with the airport committee of the chamber backing it up.

San Francisco and Portland civil groups have declared their support of the Klamath effort, it was reported.

George Conners, chamber chairman in charge of the "back to school" movement, said that local men are preparing statements to be published in the newspaper and read over the radio, urging school-age youngsters to leave adult jobs and get back into school this fall.

FLEET TO BACK UP OCCUPATION IN FULL FORCE

Previous announcements had said the conference was limited to details pertaining to MacArthur's entry into Japan.

No indication as to whether the Japanese emissaries had been permitted to discuss any aspects of the surrender document with American officers was given.

Presumably the instrument was merely handed to them for transmission to the Imperial authorities in Tokyo, since Lt. Gen. Tokashiro Kawabe, head of the mission, had the sole role of accepting instructions, without negotiating.

Tokyo Talks

Tokyo radio, doing most of the talking, said without allied confirmation that General MacArthur will set foot on Japan next Tuesday, arriving by plane at Atsugi airfield two days after airborne troops make their initial landing at that airfield 20 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Since the return of the emissaries to Japan, Tokyo radio's growing series of unconfirmed reports have presented this version of events to come:

Japan is preparing to withdraw armed troops "as promptly as possible" from an area south of Tokyo on both sides of Tokyo bay prior to allied landings.

Schedule Told
Saturday, August 25—Allied air operations will begin over Japan.

Sunday, August 26—Airborne allied troops will take over Atsugi airfield; two allied fleets will enter Sugami bay, outside Tokyo bay, with "one unit entering Tokyo bay if conditions are favorable."

Tuesday, August 28—MacArthur will land at Atsugi by plane; warships and naval transports will land occupation troops near Atsugi and Yokosuka, the latter at the mouth of Tokyo bay. (Tokyo's Yomiuri Hochi reported there would be landings in the Tokyo area Friday, August 31, "slightly more than 20,000 strong.")

Friday, August 31—The "formal signing" of the "truce agreement" will take place aboard a United States warship in Tokyo bay in the presence of allied representatives.

Nimits To Sign
(At Washington yesterday, it was reported that Admiral Nimitz will sign in behalf of the United States, MacArthur in behalf of the Big Four.

(Chungking radio said the Japanese surrender in China would follow the formal signing at Tokyo.)

GOP Plans Issues To Win Congress Control In '46

The state personnel director, Brownell asserted, advised Spokane officials not to hire Morning "until he was cleared."

Brownell said the trip convinced him that the republicans "will undoubtedly win control of congress in 1946." Whether he meant the senate as well as the house he did not say. The house now has 241 democrats and 190 republicans; the senate 55 democrats and 40 republicans.

New Deal Fumbles
Using the term "new deal" often, and including the Truman administration in that term, Brownell said:

"I found considerable dissatisfaction with the manner in which the new deal has fumbled the ball in the matter of making preparations for a quick reconversion from a war time to a peace time economy. Apparently the sudden collapse of Japan was as much of a surprise to the new deal high command as it was to many millions of citizens."

WASHINGTON PLANS DE GAULLE WELCOME

start a crammed schedule expected to keep him in the United States at least a week.

Schedule Told
The tall general is to be guest at a White House reception just 30 minutes after his arrival. Tonight he will hold the place of honor at a presidential state dinner in the executive mansion.

On the French leader's schedule also is a side trip to Hyde Park, N. Y., where he will visit the grave of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

French officials say the thing De Gaulle would like to obtain more than any other in his first meeting with Mr. Truman is the president's assurance that the United States henceforth will consistently accord France "big" power status.

Wants Assurance
De Gaulle would like assurances that there will be no more "Big Three" meetings. He is expected to contend that if France is a full partner of the other major allies in some respects, it should be in all.

Men close to the general say he is prepared to discuss any subject President Truman may want to bring up, particularly economic assistance for France; German reparations; Germany's western border, and French interests in the Far East.

INDIAN BILL REVIEWED AT LIONS MEETING

Boyd Jackson, Jesse Kirk and C. M. Kirk appeared at the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday at the Willard hotel and discussed the bill now in the U. S. senate which proposes to divide the tribal holdings of the Klamath Indians and remove federal guardianship over local Indians. All three members of the tribe were not in favor of the bill as proposed at this time.

Vern Moore acted as chairman at the meeting and guests included Dave Bridge of Tulelake and Mowens Kierulff, U. S. army. Oscar Bergland of Coquille and Capt. Smith of the Marine Barracks were present as visitors and Carroll Colvin and Ray Worden were introduced as new members of the Lions club.
