

Plans Being Made For Annual Tea

Plans are going ahead for the annual Klamath Falls Women's Library club and Garden club tea and fashion show to be given in the Library club rooms on Saturday afternoon, September 6.

Special arrangements of flowers and vegetables will be featured and a list of suggested arrangements will be printed next week.

During the tea hour a preview of fall fashions from local women's stores will be featured and a special musical program will also be given. Mrs. Don Zumwalt has charge of the program which will feature junior artists from this area.

Fouring at the tea table will be the presidents of the garden clubs throughout the county.

Mrs. Merle Adams has been named chairman of the tea committee and she will be assisted by Mrs. Harry Wayne, Mrs. Wesley D. McNeer, Mrs. Carl Steinhilber, Mrs. John Ashley and Mrs. J. L. Dean. The group met at the Pelican for a luncheon meeting this last week with Mrs. R. P. Ellingson, president of the Library club.

Catholic Women

Catholic Daughters of America held a business meeting Monday, August 13, at 8 p. m. in the parish hall and, in the absence of Azita Kennedy, grand regent, Helen Regan, vice regent, presided. The year books were given out to all those present at the time.

Mrs. Ruth Glasgow, new director of the local USO, was introduced by the grand regent. In her talk Mrs. Glasgow stated that all food which is donated is served at a hostess table which is always free to all service men and women. The CDA will have charge of the hostess table on the fifth Monday of each month and will donate homemade cakes. On July 30, the following CDA members helped at the table: Katy Carty, Mrs. Ted Schuh and Mrs. A. P. Heup.

Anne Dirksmeier of the National Catholic Community service asked if the CDA would sponsor the communion breakfast for Catholic servicemen and women at the USO center on Sunday, August 19, and those who volunteered to serve included Mrs. Otto Smith, Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, Mrs. Mike Brunner, Mrs. Mabel Rowan, Mrs. Louise Vaughn and Mary Joan Schnable.

Summer Picnic Enjoyed By BPW

A most enjoyable occasion was the summer afternoon picnic held on Sunday when Emma Carter was hostess to about 25 members of the Business and Professional Women's club at her attractive home on South Sixth.

Serving as official chefs were Roy Carter and Phil Brixner who prepared "square" hamburgers on the outdoor grill, which were served with all the fixins, salad and later, watermelon. Croquet, other contests and a new game, Duck-on-the-Rock, were played after the supper hour.

Assisting the hostess were Isabelle Brixner, Martha McCollum, Esther Lawler, Hattie Evans, Ellen Upp and Betty Jones.

Plans for the new club year, opening in September, were discussed at a meeting of the club's executive committee held Friday evening, August 24, at the home of Ann Price on N. 9th. Hazel Morrison, the new president, was in charge of the meeting and Ellen Upp, vice president, led the program discussion.

VFW Auxiliary

Members of the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars met on Thursday, August 16, at 8 p. m., in the small clubroom in the city library. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Thompson, Mrs. C. W. Henry, vice president, was in charge of the meeting. Charlotte Canoy gave an interesting report of the post and the auxiliary picnic held in Moore park on Sunday, August 12, and Mrs. A. A. Myers, hospitality chairman, reported upon the work of her committee.

Mrs. H. J. McGillivray received the special award given at each meeting, and following the meeting the auxiliary was served lunch at the KC hall by Pelican post 1383. The next meeting will be on September 6 and candidates will be initiated at this time. It is hoped that all members will attend, as plans are to be made for the district meeting of the post and auxiliary to be held in Klamath Falls, September 16.

LATE HERO

ELLENBURG, Wash., Aug. 25 (AP)—A young negro porter was the hero of 1000 veterans traveling on a troop train even if he didn't win any plaudits from a woman taxicab driver.

The porter got off at Spokane to hustle sandwiches for the soldiers. The engine pulled out without him, so he called a taxi, caught the train after a six-hour chase and delivered the food.

Even spontaneous contributions of the soldiers couldn't quite pay the $110 cab fare but the driver got a lot of cheers as she headed back for Spokane.

Long's

WHEN I dropped into Long's this week, I was promptly escorted to the millinery by the girls... To inspect Long's array of just-unpacked fall hats. It's a superb collection, too. Lots of the foremost hat designers are represented... And in such lovely felts!

I won't attempt to predict the millinery trend this coming season... But I did notice that most of the hats are extravagantly trimmed with feathers and embroidery, or jewel-beaded.

About the feathered hats... Long's has several of these. And they are knockouts.

In over-the-eye models... One is composed almost entirely of tiny, ruffy feathers.

This one comes in black, green, fuchsia, and aqua. (The latter is a love... It would be beautiful for a bride.)

There is a fuchsia sailor circled with feathers, too.

Both of these are priced at $18.75.

And with even gayer plumage... A brown over-the-eye hat adorned with green, red and yellow feathers.

At $16.75, I noticed a gold fisherman hat — complete with a pouchy type bag.

Or, if you'd rather, there is a clever pillbox which matches the bag, too.

The international influence is very apparent for Chinese. A coolie hat in Chinese cherry has bright stones encrusted in its brim.

Russia's sphere of influence is shown by hats strongly reminiscent of Cossack headgear. These, too, are bejeweled and embroidered.

You can run the whole gamut of black hat choices. There are sophisticated, sequined numbers for "after dark."

Or simple, more casual blacks. Also, there is a wide variety of hats in brown.

And high-crowned sailors, eye-catching bonnets, turbans. In fact after seeing these hats... It seems to me that crowning your crowning glory shouldn't be any problem.

Long's is located at 719 Main street.

Currin's

CONNIE BAERT was all smiles when I was in Currin's the other day... The reason? That shipment of "Black Magic" I mentioned last week had just arrived safely and soundly!

Made by Bombi, this new line of perfumes should prove a worthy addition to Currin's stock of other fine perfumes. And it will be carried exclusively by Currin's in Klamath Falls.

"Black Magic" is most certainly a provocative scent. I think... Sultry and Femme Fatal-ish. To be reserved for extra-special occasions... You know what I mean!

And "Black Magic" has answer-to-a-prayer gift possibilities, too. It's strikingly packaged in black and white.

The perfume comes in a velvet lined box... at $3.50 and $6.00.

You may have the cologne in two sizes, too... $1.75 and $2.25.

A sachet pillow is $1.25... As is an adorable little jug of powder sachet.

Bubble bath is $1.25. Then, too, there is dusting powder and talcum.

All prices are plus tax, naturally.

By the way, perhaps you noticed that "Black Magic" was advertised recently in Vogue.

Currin's is on the corner of Main street and Ninth.

Art & Gift Shop

IF YOU'VE been looking for a "bon voyage" gift for a girl returning to school, heed the following: The Art and Gift Shop has lots of things that girls would like and find useful... but probably wouldn't buy for themselves.

There are things which quickly transform a dormitory "cell" into a reasonable facsimile of home, sweet home. For instance — gay pictures, knickknacks, mirrors, book ends... Plus tea sets, sandwich trays and the like for those inevitable snacks and parties.

In leather there are writing kits, desk sets, and picture frames... (An indispensable item nowadays!)

Mrs. Kierulff also has lucite and wood frames.

And jewel boxes... These come in lucite, Sirococo wood, and leather, too.

There's a more personal touch for a more personal touch... You'll find clever barrettes, combs and lapel pins in sterling silver and ceramic materials.

Mrs. Kierulff showed me some delicate shell necklaces in pastel shades. These would make a perfect accent for sweaters.

Then, of course, there is a variety of compacts and dresser sets.

The Art and Gift Shop is at 519 Main street.

Whytals

ONE of the prime wardrobe requisites for any gal returning to the "halls of knowledge" is a casual sports suit... And I saw some awfully good looking ones at Whytals this week.

All of these suits are deftly tailored from fine, 100 per cent wool... In styles which are definitely classic.

There are some of those beloved gray flannel suits... beloved because they are tops in practicality, as well as versatility.

These have cardigan jackets with one button, and clever lapel pockets.

In this same style there are other suits... But in a variety of colors — brown, slate blue, gold, aqua, olive green and black.

Another cardigan type suit has kick pleat in the front and back of its skirt. With three-buttoned jacket, it comes in gold, green, and peacock blue.

Several suits have collars... And skirts with triple pleats in front and back.

Also there are suits in checks, (both black 'n' white and brown and white)... And Glen plaid, too.

Prices range from $22.50 to $29.95.

As an added note... Whytals has just received some perky felt beanies—ideal for wear with these suits.

They come in oodles of colors—navy, light blue, fuchsia, lime, Kelly, and sage greens, red, brown, gray, black... and so on.

These beanies are $2.00.

Whytals's of course, is on the corner of Main at Ninth.

Simonsen's

HERE is a bit of information I discovered this week which is well worth knowing. It is, especially, if you have an alarm clock in need of repair, or a watch minus a crystal.

F. Robert Simonsen, watchmaker and jeweler, has just opened offices in the Greer building. It's at 710 Main street, you know.

Mr. and Mrs. Simonsen are now ex-San Franciscans... Because they've decided to make their home here permanently. (Note to the Chamber of Commerce: It was a loss-up between Reno and Klamath Falls... Guess which city won!)

Although Mr. Simonsen will specialize in repairing watches for the trade, (wholesale work, in other words) he will fix your alarm clock in three days... Or replace your watch-crystal while-u-wait.

He studied his business a long time in Europe... And has had many years of experience down south.

Incidentally, Mr. Simonsen's motto is, "If you don't know jewelry, know your jeweler."

Remember that Simonsen's is in the Greer building... 710 Main street.

Moe's

RIGHT about now, I'm groping for adjectives... Because Moe's has just received a fall and winter shipment of Jay Kel costume jewelry. And I've simply got to rave about it!

When I was in the store on Wednesday, Virginia Calhoun was still unpacking boxes. She said that it was just like Christmas! I'm sure that the jewelry is on display by now, however.

Honestly, some of the pieces will make you gasp... They're that beautiful! All sorts and varieties.

One lapel pin I particularly noticed is in the form of a parasol... A golden parasol with glittering raindrops attached, and a jeweled handle.

A large golden daisy (I won't vouch for that classification!) has a blue-stoned center. On a black suit or dress... Well, these are the things dreams are made of.

Another pin is a horizontal row of bowknots... With several gold chains dangling as watch fob.

Some amusing gold mine have facial characteristics spotlighted by vari-colored gems. In fact their ears almost have personality!

Besides the metal lapel ornaments, there are jeweled ceramics, too.

But I can't possibly do all of them justice!

Then there are some gold and silver chain chokers... Designed to be big favorites this fall. These have bracelets to match... Lovely one-strand pearls, graduated in size. (A small knot between each bead, too!)

There are earrings galore... In floral and leaf designs, mosaic patterns, canoes, pearl set and just plain sparkly ones.

And I mustn't forget the bracelets... They're very different looking. I think. Threads of colored glass beads braided with dainty gold-filled strands.

Jay Kel is one of the leading jewelry craftsmen in America. So don't miss seeing Moe's selection while it's complete... Which won't be long.

Moe's is at 512 Main street.
