MARINE LEAGUE GIVES MONEY FOR OUTINGS

A check from the Marine Corps league for $750 was presented recently to Col. Charles T. Brooks, commanding officer of the Marine Barracks, for the furtherance of recreational activity. The colonel stated that the money would be used for planned outings to many of Oregon's natural wonderlands. Similar trips have been sponsored in the past by the recreation department and have been extremely popular with marines and their families.

Donations
The contribution, made up of donations from Marine Corps league detachments all over the country, was made by T/S Henry Salonce, commandant of the Crater lake detachment. Sgt. Salonce told Col. Brooks that another check for $1000
