

Herald and News

News Behind The News

FRANK JENKINS Editor
MALCOLM EPLEY Managing Editor
A temporary combination of the Evening Herald and the Klamath News...

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—The most momentous session of congress in peacetime history, is what the radio voices are saying of the quiet, uneventful, dull reconvening of the seventy-ninth, after holidays...

No one said anything momentous the first few days. Mr. Truman specifically avoided a tone of gravity or weightiness in his message. He just went whole-hog, as they would say in Missouri...

Program Known

THE program was so well known, that the news-men, who usually scurry about and get comment from congressmen on all important presidential messages, did not bother the first few hours afterward...

Yet I think the radio voices—for another reason—were right. The unsensational and routine facial appearance of the opening and program really represented a delayed new movement of the CIO-PAC and leftist New Deal...

Every outstanding item of the congressional agenda, that Mr. Truman presented or endorsed, originated in that source—without a single exception.

CIO Moves In

THIS session heralds the CIO moving in for the pay-off on the last election, now that peace has returned. It is a pay-off always denied to a major extent under Roosevelt chiefly by congressional resistance and factional opposition within the administration...

The program sounds prosaic because it hardly fits the visible facts of economic life today—the crying need for employment apparent in the want-ad section of every newspaper...

Natural Conclusion

NOW, justifiably or not, the common opinion in congress is that Mr. Truman has decided to go that way, definitely. This conclusion is natural not alone from the program but the simultaneous appointment of Ben Cohen, an original Roosevelt brain trust...

All this leaves the average congressman to make a decision whether he will stick by his guns of opposition and face a fight by his CIO-PAC against re-election next year...

Resistance Gone

TRUE enough, the leading executive resistance to CIO has been washed out by removal of Mr. Byrnes to the state department, where his activities are confined to foreign matters...

So I feel safe in reporting the session may well be momentous.

SIDE GLANCES

"I found out what that smell was in the cellar, dear—the dog probably has been watching you and he's hoarding some dead mice in the coal pile!"

The War Today

By DeWITT MacKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The Big Five council of foreign ministers, meeting in London tomorrow, will in effect constitute a clinic which will give Europe a drastic overhauling and determine the real state of peace's health.

This council was established at the Potsdam meeting of the Big Three. The nucleus, of course, is America, Russia and Britain—to which France and China were added.

Now the very nature of this assignment means that the foreign ministers are bound to uncover any weaknesses in the relations of the Big Five. Of special moment will be the status of the relationship among the Big Three...

This is to say, the affairs of Italy are so complicated that other problems likely will have to be solved before a treaty can be drawn up. The way things look now, the badly tangled skein of Balkan politics will have to be straightened out...

Red influence has supplanted that of Germany. Britain still is big brother to Greece, but the latter is torn with a bitter struggle between the extreme right and the Greek communists...

in that household to adults on Christmas or holidays since a certain day in October of 1942. Boys, how must Mrs. Dieter of Tulelake feel about this!

Organization? Yes, yes, forever yes. Strikes? No. Boys, where your union has a fund reserved which will be sufficient to pay your families a weekly sum paralleling the compensation drawn when you are either injured or ill...

What of the husbands of those girls who were celebrating because their honeys are coming home. Lots of those boys we know will come home to disillusionment enough. Why make them more. Then, boys, there is still that younger generation who have got their ideas so far ahead of their years...

I have made my appeal of living. If that is not enough, think of that mother and sisters who are very good friends of mine, who are waiting hourly for word which will tell them what the fate of brother Jimmy has been.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend...

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend...

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend...

Today's Roundup

PEOPLE who read our paper Saturday know something now of the facts about the Klamath naval air station which were necessarily kept secret for military reasons until the end of the war...

Local Hopes Fulfilled

EARLY in the war, and even before Pearl Harbor, Klamath people became intensely interested in the possibility of making military use of the municipal airport.

A vast amount of information was supplied to this board by local men who worked night and day to get it together. Because the board had indicated it might be interested in a site not on the present airport, the Klamath committee prepared an inventory of possible sites in all parts of the basin.

A Grand Job

NOW here's the interesting thing about the work of that army board. When it left here, it prepared a report on the Klamath location which was favorable in every aspect but one. The board said it saw the possibility of danger to fliers from migratory birds in this area!

No Bird Trouble

NOW, what about the birds? We were out at the air station the other day, and we asked the operations people if they had had any trouble with birds. They seemed a little surprised at the question, and then said that in all of the hundreds and hundreds of hours of flying from the Klamath field, navy planes have never encountered any difficulty with birds.

With the assistance of the late Senator Charles L. McNary, the matter was quite thoroughly taken care of back in 1941, just after the board was here, but certainly what has happened with the navy since writes the obituary for a mistaken theory.

Slaughterers Predict End of Meat Ration

PORTLAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—Oregon slaughterers predicted today the removal of slaughtering quotas will hurry the end of meat rationing.

John Landinger, secretary of the Oregon Food Merchants association, said a survey of stores revealed supplies of beef, veal and lamb were piling up.

FARM INCOME RAISE WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Average net farm income in Oregon was $2941, a slight increase over the 1943 average of $2700, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

A GEM OF THOUGHT

A Lovelorn maiden named Dwight Thought this manpower shortage a fright. So she got McNutt on the phone And softly did moan.

Lipstick 25c to $1.00

From Doc and Idella's Drug Store Phone 8468

Family History

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To the Editor)—Yes, the war is over and everybody is supposed to be so elated. We were so happy. I never really achieved so much amusement over people's nonsense...

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

I remember the cellar of canned fruit and vegetables we had that year when our third little girl was born in January of '22.

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend, and the 1931 and 32 depression found us so deeply grieved and struggling to get the necessary things for home use on the magnificent income of two and three days a week at $2.80 a day.

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

I remember the cellar of canned fruit and vegetables we had that year when our third little girl was born in January of '22.

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend, and the 1931 and 32 depression found us so deeply grieved and struggling to get the necessary things for home use on the magnificent income of two and three days a week at $2.80 a day.

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 400 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only, and must be signed. Contributions following these rules are warmly welcomed.

Family History

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To the Editor)—Yes, the war is over and everybody is supposed to be so elated. We were so happy. I never really achieved so much amusement over people's nonsense...

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

I remember the cellar of canned fruit and vegetables we had that year when our third little girl was born in January of '22.

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend, and the 1931 and 32 depression found us so deeply grieved and struggling to get the necessary things for home use on the magnificent income of two and three days a week at $2.80 a day.

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 400 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only, and must be signed. Contributions following these rules are warmly welcomed.

Family History

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To the Editor)—Yes, the war is over and everybody is supposed to be so elated. We were so happy. I never really achieved so much amusement over people's nonsense...

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

I remember the cellar of canned fruit and vegetables we had that year when our third little girl was born in January of '22.

I remember putting several months in advance two or three or five dollars at a time in an old teapot up in the cupboard until I had $35 toward my expected expenses.

Then in August, 1929, a rapid and too-changing group of circumstances landed us in Klamath Falls. There were some rather amusing things included in these events. Such as having our furniture all stolen from a locked house in Bend, and the 1931 and 32 depression found us so deeply grieved and struggling to get the necessary things for home use on the magnificent income of two and three days a week at $2.80 a day.

And then what happened. We have a strike. My friends borrowed you all known who from. That voice which came steadily and true so many times over our radios when our fears all but had our hopes tottering in those dark early hours of the war.

Why do we have this strike? First because one man did not choose to join our little club, so we just won't play with you, in fact we just won't play at all.

I happen to be one of the generation of women who went through that other World War as a young adult. When the armistice was signed I was too ill to get out and enjoy the fun but nevertheless I was happy because I knew my honey would not have to go.

I seem to remember the depression of 1920 mostly in 20 as tinned goods came on the market at so much lower price, such as bacon and sardines. Goods the government was not going to need "over there." Also the farmers holding their wheat particularly for prices to come back which they did not do.

In approaching a dock, boats are headed into the wind so they will lose their momentum just before they reach the dock.

Radio Programs

Table with columns for station (KFJI Mutual-Don Lee 1240 kc), time, and program name.

Monday, Evening, Sept. 10, 1945

Table with columns for time, program name, and station.

Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1945

Table with columns for time, program name, and station.

185 DRUNKS NABBED BY POLICE IN MONTH

Klamath Falls police department's summary of activities for August, 1945, shows that men are far worse offenders against the law here than women.

Twenty-four women were arrested for being drunk during the month and 161 men. There was one female traffic violation to 27 male violations. One liquor violation against two for men.

Thirty-four men were arrested for disorderly conduct and seven women for the same offense. Eleven men for vagrancy and one woman. No women were arrested for either drunk or reckless driving but one man for each of these offenses. Warrants were issued to ten men and one woman.

Three men for miscellaneous misdemeanors and one woman. There were 24 reports of stolen property investigated by police during August, with property recovered in six cases. One person was drowned and one committed suicide.

When a boat has the wind on her bow, she is "on the wind." With the wind astern, she is "running."

A Fortune For Your Child A COLLEGE EDUCATION

AT YOUR John H. Houston REPRESENTING THE EQUITABLE LIFE Assurance Society 114 N. 7th Phone 8251

Good beer

promotes friendliness

When friends gather a glass of light OLYMPIA is most acceptable.

"It's the Water"

Advertisement for OLYMPIA BEER, featuring a glass of beer and the text 'that makes OLYMPIA BEER so good'.

A Fence to Meet Every Need

Made from selected 48 in. full size wood slats, evenly spaced and woven between 5 cables of heavy wire. Colors, red or green. It's easily, quickly and permanently erected. Long lasting and makes a good appearance. It's inexpensive, too. Just the thing for Victory Gardens. Keeps dogs in—or out!

Suburban Lbr. Co. 4784 So. 5th Phone 7708

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With More Comfort

FASTEETH, a pleasant alkaline acid powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or festing "checkers" (plate odor/denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Sinus Sufferers

Amazing new treatment, quick relief for sinus headaches and drip and drainage of the nose and throat. Write for 5 day free trial, no cost or obligation. National Laboratories, Box 245, Inglewood, Calif.

HALE and ELBERTA PEACHES

M. L. Parker 688 Walnut Phone 8616 Ashland, Ore.

Slaughterers Predict End of Meat Ration

PORTLAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—Oregon slaughterers predicted today the removal of slaughtering quotas will hurry the end of meat rationing.

John Landinger, secretary of the Oregon Food Merchants association, said a survey of stores revealed supplies of beef, veal and lamb were piling up.

FARM INCOME RAISE WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Average net farm income in Oregon was $2941, a slight increase over the 1943 average of $2700, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

A GEM OF THOUGHT

A Lovelorn maiden named Dwight Thought this manpower shortage a fright. So she got McNutt on the phone And softly did moan. "Hiya, Bud, whatcha doin' to-night?" Lipstick 25c to $1.00 From Doc and Idella's Drug Store Phone 8468

From Doc and Idella's Drug Store Phone 8468