

CREDIT LOANS ON SPUDS TO BE AVAILABLE

Clyde Kiddle and Arnold Bodiker of the WFA, with headquarters in Corvallis, met on Wednesday with the county AAA committee, C. A. Henderson, county agent; Lee McMullen of the Klamath Production Credit association and Henry Semon, prominent potato grower, to discuss commodity credit corporation loans on potatoes in support of potato prices.

Klamath county farmers this year may again receive commodity credit loans on their late crop potatoes under the government's 1945 price support program. B. W. Short, chairman of the AAA committee stated at the meeting.

As in past years the loan program is intended to be the principal means of price support for late potatoes in Klamath county. Loan rates will be available to growers at the county AAA office. Application must be made for loans between September 15 and December 15.

Support prices quoted are sack FOB cars. Klamath county loan rates per hundred pounds for graded or ungraded potatoes in bulk farm storage are U. S. No. 1, $1.38; U. S. No. 1 size B and U. S. No. 2, 47 cents. The rates are 10 cents a hundred higher for potatoes in off farm storage.

Loans will be available from September 15 to December 15, and applications will be received at the county AAA office. Loans are payable on demand not later than next April 1. Beginning January 1, potatoes may be delivered in lieu of payment, in accordance with CCC's delivery schedule.

When potatoes are delivered in satisfaction of loans, growers receive credit at the full support prices, less the value of any marketing services, such as grading and bagging, not performed by the grower. The basic support prices for Klamath county for U. S. No. 1 potatoes sacked and loaded aboard carriers, range from $2.05 a hundred in September to $2.30 in December.

Spud Harvest Goes Into Full Swing

Potato harvesting is in full swing this week with Tulelake, Macdoel, Adams Point, Hatfield, Hoesley, Merrill and Malin shipping between 35 and 40 carloads per day, for the past three or four days.

Loading at Stukel will be started tomorrow and Dairy and Stronghold and other stations are expected to resume shipping Monday, according to the department of agriculture.

Although most of the shipments are the late Netted Gems, a few cars of early White Rose are still being shipped.

The first sandpaper factory was established in the United States in 1825.

Kittredge Begins Fall Cattle Shipping

William Kittredge has started fall cattle shipments this week with 1100 head of heifers shipped Wednesday to Malin Feeding company, owned and operated by Safeway stores incorporated. These cattle have been summer grazing on the Kittredge holdings on Klamath Marsh.

A shipment of steers is expected to go out the last of the month, 23,000 head of cattle including steers and heifers will be shipped between now and October 20. These are grass-fattened cattle, some of which will go to commercial feeding lands and some to slaughterers and packers.

MALIN CAMP WILL HOUSE HARVESTERS

One hundred and twenty-five tents have been set up and facilities for at least 100 trailer houses installed at the new farm labor camp at Malin. Potato harvesters are moving into the camp in readiness for the work which is expected to be in full swing next week.

This permanent camp will take the place of the temporary housing provided by the extension service camp at Merrill last year. A. E. Street, principal of Malin schools, is camp manager.

Officers of the Klamath County Potato Growers association who took an active part in obtaining the housing project are K. Dehlinger, Scott Warren, C. A. Henderson, E. D. Stastney, Benson Dixon, V. C. Brown and Ed Crawford.

More than 25,000 acres of potatoes are expected to be harvested in the Klamath basin this fall.

VALIDITY OF OPA CONTROL DOUBTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13 (AP)—Federal District Judge Claude McCulloch doubts validity of OPA control legislation would be upheld by appeal courts since the war is over.

He told OPA attorneys yesterday in a pre-trial conference with counsel for the West Side Lumber company, Eugene, that "provision was upheld as a wartime measure but now that peace has returned the subject may be properly re-examined."

To take away a citizen's right to defend himself in his home courts, requiring him to go across the continent with his counsel and witnesses, violates the basic principle of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence," McCulloch asserted.

OPA charged the firm with violating ceiling prices and asks $9000 in treble damages.

DR. RIGGS TO SURVEY NEED FOR YMCA HERE

Dr. L. A. Riggs, education professor at Willamette university at Salem, was here today making preliminary plans for a survey to determine the need for a Y.M.C.A. in Klamath Falls.

Dr. Riggs said he will begin the survey next week, and expects to take about two weeks in a complete study of recreation and other activities in this community.

He was brought here by the survey committee of the Y.M.C.A. board of directors, which is headed by Glenn Kent. It was explained that a joint Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. is under consideration here, or at least an institution which will include facilities for use of women.

Lend-Lease Planes To Be Sold

PORTLAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Lend-lease military airplanes furnished and returned by Canada will be put on sale soon by the RFC at the Portland-Troutdale airport.

The 11 planes are Fairchild PT-26s, two-place monoplanes with 200-horsepower Ranger inline engines.

3A Discontinues Programs For Farm Production Aid

Discontinuance or curtailment of programs through which AAA committees assisted farmers in obtaining materials and equipment needed for production was announced this week by B. W. Short, chairman of the Klamath county AAA committee.

Short said that the action follows WPB policy of discontinuing controls and priorities assistance as reduced military procurement results in generally improved supplies of materials for civilian use.

The copper wire program was ended on September 10, and the county committee no longer is issuing copper wire allotment certificates for farmstead wiring. Certificates issued before that date must be used within 10 days of the date of issuance.

The farm lumber program is now on a curtailed basis, and will be discontinued entirely on October 1. Until that date, county committees will issue farmers' lumber certificates for only maintenance, repair and operating purposes, or in emergency cases. Also discontinued is the issuance of preference rating certificates for farm engines. Production controls have been dropped, and ratings are no longer necessary to obtain engines.

FRUIT MOTH RETURNS MEDFORD, Sept. 13 (AP)—The oriental fruit moth—a plague to peaches and pears—has reappeared in Oregon, and Rogue river fruit growers will meet here Friday to discuss control measures. C. B. Cordy, assistant county agent, said an intensive survey is now underway to determine extent of the pest's destruction.

RFC Will Sell Inspectoscope

PORTLAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—The PFC's surplus property division today offered for sale an inspectoscope, a weird device for "searching" persons.

Purchased for use in a shipyard, it determines whether a visitor is carrying tools, cameras, or other contraband.

Logical buyer would be a penal institution, RFC said.
