

MILK INDUSTRY TIE-UP SLATED FOR SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 (AP)—Dave Beck, Teamsters' Union international vice president, forecast a tie-up of Seattle's milk industry unless dairies return to their pre-war practice of daily deliveries. He said the every-other-day delivery system was costing 90 to 100 teamsters jobs.

"The every-other-day delivery was put into effect as an office of defense transportation directive for the war emergency, to save gasoline and tires," he said. "The teamsters accepted and complied with this order."

"If the dealers continue every-other-day delivery when the ODT conservation measures end November 1, it will be an absolute violation of their pledge and methods of fair play. We of the Teamsters' Union are not the type of people anyone wants to break faith with."

Becked System
Washington State Milk Dealers' association convention speakers here last weekend urged the war delivery system be retained because of rising operating costs. A. Frank Bird, association secretary, reported milk company wartime profits averaged less than a third of a cent per quart and that operating profits were less than two cents on each dollar of sales.

"If the individual dairy wishes to continue every-other-day delivery, that is its business," Beck asserted. "But a combination agreement, forcing all dairies to do so, would be a different matter and would be resisted."

King Features Sued For $6,000,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Suit for $6,000,000 damages against King Features Syndicate, Inc., charging that a column by Westbrook Pegler and syndicated by King Features was libelous, was filed yesterday in circuit court by A. N. Spanel, president of the International Latex corporation, Dover, Del.

The article, published last March 15 by the Chicago Herald-American, impeached the reputations of Spanel and the corporation, the suit said, and "held them up to public suspicion, hatred, contempt and financial injury." The suit asks $6,000,000 on four counts, two of $1,000,000 each on behalf of Spanel as an individual, and two of $2,000,000 each on behalf of the corporation.

Reverse System---Yank Brides Go To Australia

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 (AP)—North American war brides — 120 of them with 30 babies — were bound for new homes in Australia today, reversing the trend which has brought many Australian young women to this continent.

The girls, including two citizens of the United States, all met and married officers or men of the Royal Australian air force who trained in Canada.

Also in the party, which left late last night by special train on the final North American lap of the exodus, were 20 brides-to-be, whose fiancés await them in Australia. Members of the party said they were to sail later in the week from San Francisco.

The girls explained that the Australian government was footing the bill, although their fiancés had to pay their fares in advance, with remittance promised after the weddings.

"I guess the Australian government isn't taking any chances on us," Phyllis Bartlett, 23, of Calgary, Alta., told reporters, "but we'll get our refund right after we get married." She is to wed an RAAF flight sergeant.

Vets In Group
"It's wonderful of Australia to be so kind," said Mrs. Iva Kerr, 19, of Great Falls, Mont. She said she met Flight Sgt. Robert Kerr, 22, when he spent a furlough in Great Falls.

Among the passengers, also, were 31 RAAF warrant officers. Some were veterans of the European campaign who trained in Canada, married, went to Europe and returned via Canada to take their brides home to Australia.

The Implacable will reach Vancouver October 11 with 2000 military or civilian personnel. The Glory will carry 1300, but its date of arrival was not announced.

The passengers, some of whom were prisoners of war in Shanghai, Hong Kong and other Far Eastern areas, have been assembled in Manila, where they will board the carriers.

Still other freed allied prisoners probably will be returned to their homes via the Mediterranean.

The hospital ship Letitia is expected to carry liberated prisoners who are ill from Manila to Vancouver.
